BATTLE AREA A SHAMBLES

FOES NEITHER ASK NOR GIVE QUARTER

London, Oct. 28.—(1:32 p. m.)—The "bloody massacre," as it is described by those on the spot among the sand dunes and the canals of Flanders, shows as yet but few signs of slackening. The valor of the German attack has been persistently commended by equal valor from the sturdy British troops.

Apparently no quarter is being asked or given in this battle on the western front and the land over which it is being waged resembles a shambles.

Twelve times altogether the Germans have crossed and recrossed the Yser. Each time they succeeded in gaining the left bank they found themselves in a death trap commanded by the guns of the defenders, immovably entrenched behind the railroad embankment running more or less parallel to the Yser and completely barring their progress.

Some German forces, according to the latest reports in London, succeeded in finding shelter enough among the sand dunes to enable them to retain a footing between the Yser and the railroad running from Dixmude to Nieuport, but this number up to the present time has been insufficient to dislodge the allies.

German reinforcements are still rolling up, and the efforts to break through the line show no sign of cessation. No is it expected that they will until the expected mass of men reach the limit of their endurance.

It is impossible for observers in London to deduce from the German official communications the German opinion of events in this area of the war. From the point of view of the allies, the French announcements of continued progress between Ypres and Dixmude are commented upon as foreshadowing the possible retreat of the rear of the German forces nearest the coast.

Another piece of favorable news, still from the standpoint of the allies, comes from the Argonne and the region of the barrier fortresses. This reports French penetration of territory hitherto held by the invaders and is taken to indicate the possibility that the Germans have been so weakened by rushing forces to support the operations on the coast that the French right wing has been afforded an opening for a profitable offensive movement which may have an echo on the seaboard.

The opinion is expressed widely by British military observers that the present clash, as was the case in a number of previous battles of the campaign, falls away into another phase without some result which will thwart or give mark to success to one side or to the other.

it the Germans are sending fresh masses to launch to the fighting zone, the allies possibly are equipping their opponents numerically with reinforcements. There are still many thousands of French and British troops who have not yet been in action.

FRENCH LOSSES VERY HEAVY.

Forty Thousand Fall Is Report Which Reaches Berlin.

Berlin, Oct. 28.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—Swiss newspapers report that since the capture by the Germans of the town of Roubaix the French losses in the battle line between Toul and Verdun have been more than 40,000 men.

The French officers, according to statements in these newspapers, complain of the inferior quality of the new French troops.

Austro-German official reports from the eastern theater of war indicate that severe battles are raging along the Vistula and San rivers. The Germans apparently are engaging numerically superior Russian forces and the battle is attracting equal attention with the struggle in France and Belgium.

Further Russian corps, whose crossing of the Vistula river north of Lomza has been mentioned in the earlier German reports, seem, according to Maj. Morant, military correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt, to be directed against the German army. The military expert of the Lokal Anzeiger points out that the Russians with the Vistula in their rear would be in a bad position if they received a check. The situation in Galicia, the writer says, is unchanged.

Other press matter given out today in Berlin says "Emperor William has bestowed upon the king of Bavaria and the king of Württemberg the decoration of the Iron cross in recognition of the bravery of their troops."

"Three hundred prominent Russians have published in the Moscow paper a manifesto setting forth the Russian troops should not commit atrocities, thereby admitting atrocities have been committed by the Russians in East Prussia."

"Reports received here from Vienna declare that the English press news to the effect that the health of the Austrian emperor is unfavorable is without foundation. The emperor grants audiences daily."

FRENCH CLAIM PROGRESS.

German Attacks Less Violent, Says French Official Statement.

Paris, Oct. 28.—(2:46 p. m.)—The French official announcement issued this afternoon says that yesterday the German attacks between Nieuport and Arras were less violent. The French positions everywhere were maintained and French forces continued to advance to the north and to the east of Ypres. The text of the communication follows:

"During the day of yesterday, the German attack in all the region between Nieuport and Arras were less violent. Our positions were everywhere maintained, and we continued to advance to the north and to the east of Ypres. We

SAYS UNCLE SAM FAILS IN CASE

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 28.—The concluding arguments in the government suit to dissolve the United States Steel corporation were begun today in the United States court, John G. Johnson, of Philadelphia, summing up for the defendant and Jacob M. Dickinson speaking in rebuttal for the government. It was the seventh day of the arguments. Mr. Johnson opened with the declaration that the enormous record in the case shows the weight of evidence is all against the government. The prosecution has picked here and there something it thought was suspicious, ignoring the great mass of evidence given under the solemnity of an oath, which shows the true state of affairs in the steel industry. Mr. Johnson said the government sought to attack E. H. Gary but the testimony in the case is a lasting monument to him.

NOW LOOKING FOR OWNER OF B.G. CAR

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 28.—The South Bend police department took up a new clue in the Hazel Macklin murder case this afternoon and are now looking for the owner of a big seven-passenger automobile, who on August 17, two days before the Macklin girl was murdered, influenced 16-year-old Mary Foldosi, Polish, to accompany him into the country, promising to pay her five dollars a week to care for a baby.

SHOOTS BANKER, THEN HIMSELF

Steubenville, Ohio, Oct. 28.—D. J. Sinclair, wealthy banker, was shot twice and seriously wounded today in his private banking room by Charles Gilmore, an attorney, who then fired a bullet into his own brain, dying instantly. It is believed Gilmore's mind was unbalanced.

FORECLOSURE SUIT FILED.

C. H. & D. Receivers Made Party to Indiana Road Action.
Cincinnati, Oct. 28.—The Central Trust company of New York and August Mason of New York filed a foreclosure suit in the United States court today in which Rufus B. Smith and Judson Harmon, receivers for the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad, are made a party. The suit charges that interest to the amount of $79,050 due July 1 on bonds issued by the Indiana, Decatur & Western Railway company is unpaid. The road, it is alleged, is a subsidiary of the C. H. & D.

President Issues Annual Thanksgiving Day Proclamation.

U. S. AT PEACE,

OTHERS AT WAR

Fact Equips Americans to Serve Themselves and Mankind.

Washington, Oct. 28.—President Wilson today issued a proclamation designating Thursday, November 26th, as Thanksgiving day.

The president's proclamation, which refers to the fact that the United States is at peace while the rest of the world is at war, follows:

"It has long been the honored custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. The year that is now drawing to a close, since we last observed our day of national thanksgiving, has been, while a year of discipline because of the mighty forces of war and of change which have disturbed the world, also a year of special blessing for us.

"It has been vouchsafed to us to remain at peace with honor, and in some part to succor the suffering and supply the needs of those who are in want. We have been privileged by our own peace and self-control in some degree to steady the counsels and shape the hopes and purposes of a day of fear and distress. Our people have looked upon their own life as a nation with a deeper comprehension, a fuller realization of their responsibilities, as well as their blessings, and a keener sense of the moral and practical significance of the year that is now drawing to a close."

FORT WAYNE MAN SPEAKS TONIGHT

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 28.—Progress made in vocational education in Indiana since the enactment of the law by the legislature of 1913 was to be discussed at a conference in the state house this afternoon and tonight. The conference mark the beginning of the annual meeting of the Indiana State Teachers' association which opens here tomorrow.

PLEADS GUILTY; GETS SENTENCE

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 28.—William Miller, charged with robbing Ed Broadhurst, proprietor of a hotel of $1,256 in a daring hold-up last Thursday morning, today pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny and was sentenced to one to fourteen years in the Indiana state prison at Michigan City.

JERUSALEM NEEDS FOOD.

Inhabitants Face Starvation, Says Vice Consul Edelman.

New York, Oct. 28.—One hundred thousand inhabitants of Jerusalem are facing starvation, according to Samuel E. Edelman, vice consul in that city, who reached here today on the steamer Ancona. Two-thirds of the residents of Jerusalem are Jews, Mr. Edelman said. For many years they have depended upon their earnings from tourists and upon charity for support and the war has cut off all their sources of subsistence.

DEFEATS UNCLE AS CORN-GROWER

Gerry Tonkel, Aged 13, Exhibits Best Lot of Grain.

Gerry Tonkel, a son of August Tonkel, of Perry township, is 13 years old and a corn raiser of some distinction as he won the sweepstake prize in the exhibit held in connection with the Allen County Plowing association contests on the Andrew Blume farm on Tuesday.

In winning this prize he had as his strongest competitor Joseph Tonkel, an uncle and former county commissioner, and as the youngster worked hard during the season to put into practice the theories taught him by his father and the agricultural lessons learned of the experts he was the happiest boy at the show.

The lad is a real farmer and was easily the winner in the boys' class at the exhibit and the honor came to him as a reward for superintending the planting and cultivation of eighteen acres of corn.

Joseph Tonkel won the first prize for the ten best ears of yellow corn. Carl Wease, of Jefferson township, won the prize for the best ten ears of white corn, and George Tonkel won for the best exhibit of mixed corn. J. A. Thrash had the best single ear and Henry Till the best stalk of corn.

The exhibit was one of the best ever held in the county and the corn was judged by Senator George V. Kell and County Agent C. Henry. The plowing contest drew a big crowd and the forest centered in the boy competitors in view of the fact that the educational department of the state is using its best efforts to teach crop betterment to the younger generation.

Judge Thomas Clark awarded the prize in the plowing match to Robert Dickson, Jr., son of John Dickson, superintendent of the farm conducted in connection with the Indiana school. He scored 86 points. Other scores were: Fred Bullerman, 77; William Gillie, 74; Frank Lantz, 72; Edward Till, 71, and Ace Gretell, 66.

John Dickson scored 95 points and is the champion without opposition. He was to have been pitted against John Gillie winner last year.

With the general purpose plow George Meyers was the winner with 99 points. Henry Prange was second with 84, and the others and their scores were as follows: Virgil Blume, 81; Willie Blume, 79; Pearl Ream, 73, and Charles Tonkel, 66.

Forest Gallmeyer was the only entry in the riding plow class and he scored 94 points.

MINE GIVES UP 47 DEAD

Total Loss of Life in New Horror Now Placed at Fifty.

ALL SAVE THREE

ACCOUNTED FOR

Reversal of Air in Shaft Caused Most of the Fatalities.

Royalton, Ill., Oct. 28.—The death roll in the disaster at the mine of the New Franklin Coal and Coke company near here yesterday was placed at fifty at noon today, after all but three men who had entered the mine before the explosion had been accounted for.

Forty-seven bodies had been recovered at noon and it is thought that the three missing men were still in the mine. It was developed today that most of the deaths were due to the reversal of air in the shaft as soon as the explosion occurred.

Most of the rescuers who worked at the mine yesterday and last night were positive that the lower level was burning and that more than a hundred men were entombed there beyond hope of rescue. It now develops that there was no fire in the mine and that the report of flames started from the fact that several of the bodies recovered soon after the explosion were charred.

Night Shift's Work.

The night shift of rescue workers brought the number of recovered bodies to 37 and reported five other bodies visible but not accessible to the rescuers.

The mine officials said today that 20 miners, seven of them injured, escaped immediately following the blast and missed together with the dead and missing account for the 335 men that entered the shaft yesterday morning to begin their day's work.

The night shift of rescue workers made great progress and it was thought by noon all the wreckage will have been cleared from the shaft and the positive death roll ascertained. But eleven of the other bodies are mangled so badly that identification may be impossible. The number of rescuers was doubled this morning.

A house to house canvass begun last night may disclose the exact number of missing men. In an effort to alleviate the hysteria which has been general

LAST-MINUTE NEWS

GERMAN WARSHIP SINKS JAP LINER.

Berlin, Oct. 28.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—The German cruiser Emden, according to an official announcement issued today, has sunk a big Japanese liner bound for Singapore. According to the Italian newspaper, Stampa, the German cruisers Emden and Karlsruhe up to the present time have sunk 33 vessels.

BOMB FALLS IN SWISS TERRITORY.

Paris, Oct. 28.—(1:08 p. m.)—A Havana news agency dispatch from Borse, says a German aeroplane which flew over the fortress of Belfort, on Friday, and into Switzerland, dropped a bomb which fell in Swiss territory. Much irritation against Germany, it is added, was caused there by the incident.

SAYS ATTACK HAS BECOME MASSACRE.

Geneva, via Paris, Oct. 28.—Telegrams received in Basel, Switzerland, Tuesday night from Cologne and Coblenz, declare that the war on the German right flank from Lille to the North sea has become a massacre. During the last six days, it is declared, many thousands of Germans have been killed or wounded. Long trains containing wounded continue to pour into Cologne, Dusseldorf and Coblenz, and the Red Cross doctors and the hospitals in those places are overwhelmed, it is stated.

SEIZE ANOTHER AMERICAN SHIP

Washington, Oct. 28.—The American ship Kronland, from New York bound for Naples and Greece with a cargo of copper has been detained at Gibraltar by British authorities according to a report to the state department today from American Consul Sprague.

Consul Sprague did not report the reason for the detention of the Kronland, but as copper is listed by the British foreign office as conditional contraband, it is assumed that the British government's action will be similar to that in the case of another American ship, the Kronland, which was detained at Gibraltar.

WILL NEED MUCH COTTON.

Ambassador Gerard Says Market Abroad Will Soon Open.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Ambassador Gerard cabled today that Germany would need at least 50,000 and Austria 25,000 bales of cotton a month. He had been advised of assurances by Great Britain that cargoes of cotton would be made available when destined to Germany. He stated that the British government's action will be similar to that in the case of another American ship, the Kronland, which was detained at Gibraltar.

KAISER RUSHES MORE TROOPS TO FLANDERS

Paris, Oct. 28.—The issue of the battle in Belgium apparently was still far from determination today. That the Germans had made up their minds to reach a decision in this part of the theater of war was indicated by the report that their general staff has issued a further call for troops from Belgium and Germany for concentration in the vicinity of Dixmude where some of the most severe fighting in the battle of Flanders has occurred.

The gain of the allies in the region to the south of Dixmude as officially announced showed that they are able despite the heavy and continuous cannonading and the attacks of the German infantry to take the offensive against the German contingents which previously had succeeded in crossing the Yser.

This news was received with much satisfaction by the public here as was also the announcement regarding the offensive movement by the French around Nancy. As to the action in this vicinity the French recalled a recent remark by Gen. Castelnau when in putting the public on its guard against possible bad news, he said: "We will perhaps receive a blow in the stomach but we are sure to return it."

More to the west in Woevre the progress of the allies toward the route from St. Mihiel to Metz, it is predicted, is going soon to put in a difficult position the German forces which have tried in crossing the Moselle to work a junction with their forces fighting in Argonne.

Furthermore the advance of the French and English between Ypres and Roulers also gave ground for hope here. As to when the contest in the north would be finished there is no guess.

French military men, however, said the prolongation of the battle gave no reason for losing patience.

Discussing the possibility of an attack on Verdun, Gen. Pierre Chéris today declared its defense was unlimited since it was solidly attached to the allies' army of Argonne. The enemy, he said, after testing the strength of Verdun, would gradually give up the hope of attempting to bring about its fall.

France, according to the general, still has more than a million men in reserve to give battle to the Germans, to say nothing of the large number of good volunteers. These are so numerous, in fact, that many are being refused.

MASQUERADER IS PUT OFF TICKET

"Frank X. O'Brien" Yields When Record Comes to Light.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 28.—John F. O'Brien, through his attorney late yesterday, admitted in court that he had been convicted of larceny in the criminal court of St. Louis and that he had assumed the name "Frank X. O'Brien" in Indianapolis and as "Frank X. O'Brien" had been nominated on the democratic ticket for judge of the Marion county juvenile court.

The court then ordered the election commissioners to substitute the name of Newton M. Taylor, present incumbent, for that of O'Brien on the ticket. Judge Taylor had filed the petition which resulted in O'Brien's name being removed from the ticket.

It was brought out in the action against O'Brien that he not only appropriated the name of Frank T. O'Brien, a St. Louis attorney, but also claimed the St. Louis attorney's record as his own. John F. claimed to have served several terms in the Missouri legislature and to have been a candidate for congress. This record is held by Frank X. O'Brien. The masquerader served a term in the St. Louis workhouse and admitted having caused the police of that city trouble on other occasions. He did not appear in court when yesterday's action was taken.

ARREST EXPECTED WITHIN 24 HOURS

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 28.—The trail in the search for the murderer of pretty 15 year old Hazel Macklin, led the chief of detectives and two of his assistants out of the city last night and upon their return today disclosures are expected which may lead to an arrest within the next twenty-four hours.

The police refuse to give any information as to the whereabouts of the detectives, but indications are that they are in the rural district south of South Bend. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton McClelland, who claim to have seen Hazel Macklin leave the street car and join a strange man at Springbrook park last August 19, were to appear before Chief of Police Kerr this morning and tell their story.

2 KILLED; 13 IN HOSPITALS

Pittsburg, Oct. 28.—Thirteen men were taken to hospitals here early today as a result of two automobile accidents in which W. O. Stevenson, of Leechburg, Pa., and David Nicolas, of Ulfes, Pa., were killed.

The machine in which Stevenson and Nicolas collided with a street car and a police patrol summoned to their assistance ran into a rapidly moving automobile when near the scene of the accident. Among the injured were Police Captain Robert Emmett and the policemen, all of whom were seriously hurt.

FIRE LOSS WILL REACH $400,000

Hagerstown, Md., Oct. 28.—This city was visited early today by the worst fire in its history causing an estimated loss of more than $400,000.

The heaviest losses were the Hotel Baldwin, valued at $200,000, and the Antietam garage in the Sherry building, a four-story brick structure which was destroyed together with seventy-five automobiles stored in the garage.

The loss on building and motor cars was placed at $160,000. Antietam hall adjoining was destroyed with a loss of $300,000. The hotel housed about 100 guests. The majority of them were awake and easily escaped, the most of them saving their effects. It is believed the hotel will have to be entirely rebuilt.

COLD STEEL! FRENCH BAYONET CHARGE ALONG A RAILROAD

This picture shows how real warfare differs from the kind the artists paint. Instead of a charge of thousands of men, shoulder to shoulder, modern battles are made up of many small affairs, the sum total of which determine the victory. A daring photographer has pictured a dash with fixed bayonets by a platoon of French against a like section of Germans.

THEY WORKED, DIDN'T THEY?

English Experts Question Wisdom of Use of Big German Guns.

London, Oct. 27.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Although the big guns used by the Germans have been the surprise of the war and are credited with having caused the fall of Liege, Namur and Antwerp, some military experts in England question the wisdom of carrying such weapons into the field, regarding them as a burden which an army cannot afford to transport.

Colonel F. N. Maude, discussing the heavy guns, says in the Standard: "It would be interesting to obtain the exact facts and calculate what the policy of taking the 42-centimeter and 28-centimeter howitzers into the field really cost the Germans in loss of transport power for the food of the troops. I am willing to grant that the 42-centimeter weapon was admirably adapted for its purpose of destroying steel and concrete targets presented by the forts of Liege and Namur. But seeing that the weight of one of the shells is nearly equal to the weight of a whole square meal for one of their battalions, would not the available horsepower, whether mechanical or actual, have been far better employed in hauling food for men to the front in the first instance?"

Military experts writing for the English press say that big guns are not really a novelty. The new feature is their general use in the recent campaigns. Heavy guns were tried in the Franco-Prussian war over much the same territory where recent fighting has taken place, but their movement was found too much of a burden.

England has constructed a more formidable weapon than the German howitzer. It is Mallet's mortar, which was built for use in Cuban war, but not completed in time to go into the siege. The mortar is now at Woolwich arsenal. It was built in sections for transport and has a thirty-six-inch bore and a bursting power charge of 850 pounds of gunpowder. It was tested at Plumstead marshes and a shell sent with a full powder charge penetrated eighteen feet and blew out a crater sixty feet in diameter.

OLD OFFICERS RETAINED.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 28.—A two to one majority for retaining Mayor H. R. Albee and somewhat smaller majorities for Commissioners Robert G. Dieck and Wm. L. Brewster were indicated today with the count of ballots in yesterday's recall election nearly completed. All were charged with incompetence and extravagance. Between fifty and sixty per cent of the registered vote was cast.

New Jersey has 35,000 widows and nearly as many orphans.

SANDBAR STILL HOLDS PAULDING

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 28.—The torpedo boat destroyer Paulding, which went on a sandbar in Lynn Haven inlet during the storm early Tuesday morning, was still fast today. Her crew is aboard and neither vessel nor men are in any danger. The Paulding was carried over one sand bar and against another, and one portion of the ship now lies about five feet of sand. Warships standing by expect to float her. It was said at the navy yard it might be necessary to burn a channel to get her out.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

11 Chronicles 24:14-24.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the money before the king and Jehoiada, whereof were made vessels for the house of the Lord, even vessels to minister, and to offer withal, and spoons, and vessels of gold and silver. And they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the days of Jehoiada.

15 But Jehoiada waxed old, and was full of days when he died; an hundred and thirty years old was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the city of David among the kings, because he had done good in Israel, both toward God, and toward his house.

17 Now after the death of Jehoiada came the princes of Judah, and made obeisance to the king. Then the king hearkened unto them.

18 And they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and served groves and idols: and wrath came upon Judah and Jerusalem for this their trespass.

19 Yet he sent prophets to them, to bring them again unto the Lord; and they testified against them: but they would not give ear.

20 And the Spirit of God came upon Zechariah the son of Jehoiada the priest, which stood above the people, and said unto them, Thus saith God, Why transgress ye the commandments of the Lord, that ye cannot prosper? because ye have forsaken the Lord, he hath also forsaken you.

21 And they conspired against him and stoned him with stones at the commandment of the king in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 Thus Joash the king remembered not the kindness which Jehoiada his father had done to him, but slew his son. And when he died, he said, The Lord look upon it, and require it.

23 And it came to pass at the end of the year, that the host of Syria came up against him; and they came to Judah and Jerusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoil of them unto the king of Damascus.

24 For the army of the Syrians came with a small company of men, and the Lord delivered a very great host into their hand, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers. So they executed judgment against Joash.

Bittler and Powers.

Voters of the Twelfth district, especially, should not overlook the fact that the democratic state ticket this year bears the names of two splendid sons of the district whom it should be a distinct pleasure to support at the polls next Tuesday. They are George A. Bittler, of Fort Wayne, candidate for treasurer of state, and Frank M. Powers, of Angola, nominee for judge of the appellate court.

Both are so widely and so favorably known to the voters of Northern Indiana that any extended comment on their candidacy or commendation of the men themselves is entirely unnecessary. It is enough to say that Messrs. Powers and Bittler are clean, upright and capable; that they are men of highest character and are splendidly equipped for the duties of the high positions and the high honors to which they are aspiring.

It has been a good many years since this section of the state has shared so largely in the distribution of party nominations by Indiana democrats, but it should be understood that the nomination of Judge Powers and Mr. Bittler was in no sense a matter of geographical expediency. They were chosen because the judgment of the delegates to the state convention dictated their selection as altogether the most desirable from a field in which many other splendid men were also to be found. Northern Indiana voters should manifest an appreciation of this honor by an overwhelming vote for Mr. Bittler and Judge Powers. They are entirely worthy in every way of this expression of confidence and regard. That it will be forthcoming in splendid fashion at the polls next week The Sentinel does not for a moment doubt.

In the course of a letter which has just been issued to Indiana republicans, former vice president Fairbanks declares that "democracy, as usual, has failed," and that it holds out no possible hope to the country. Somehow, this announcement, coming from Mr. Fairbanks, neither surprises nor disturbs us greatly. This distinguished Hoosier statesman has always had a good deal of difficulty in discovering anything about democracy which he felt constrained to admit was entitled to even the mildest sort of commendation.

We hear much of the horrors of European battlefields, and the stories of carnage are heart-sickening, but distressing as they are they somehow fail to chill the blood as does the prospect of seven millions of Belgian non-combatants, women, aged men and children, facing actual starvation as the result of the conflict. It is not alone on the fields of battle that war's distresses fall with shocking intensity. Human imagination utterly fails in even an approximate estimate of its inexpressible calamity.

The reluctance with which General Carranza lets go of office down in Mexico is conclusive evidence that the first chief is merely human, after all, and not a demigod as some of his followers profess to believe. There would be more hope to the Mexican situation if there was any sort of assurance that whoever is chosen to succeed him is going to be any improvement over his predecessors.

Universally regarded as one of the strongest presented in many years, there is no reason why the Allen county democratic ticket should not be victorious by a record-breaking majority at the polls next Tuesday.

Wife of Italian Ambassador Travels With 20 Servants

Countess di Cellera

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—When the Countess di Cellera, wife of the new Italian ambassador to the United States, arrived recently from Europe, she entered Washington in state. She had a retinue of twenty servants and secretaries attending her. Her husband, the Count di Cellera, has just succeeded the former ambassador, Marquis Cusani.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

What the Sentinel had to say about persons and events twenty-five years ago.

The waterworks office is being handsomely decorated.

The Baptist church will have new stained glass windows throughout.

With the month of October the time expires when it is lawful to gig or spear fish.

Mrs. B. S. O'Connor, who has been visiting in Altoona, Pa., has returned home.

Rev. H. G. Sauer, of St. Paul's Lutheran church, preached in St. Louis yesterday.

Hanlon's great spectacle, "Fantasma," will be the attraction at the Temple theater tonight.

Father Becka, chaplain of St. Joseph hospital, is a little improved in health, but his condition is yet critical.

A Harrison street meat dealer advertises "chicken steak" at 7c a pound or four pounds for 25c; porterhouse steak, 10c.

Jacob Bauer, of Crestline, was in the city today and purchased a carload of apples to ship to his city. The apple crop is being gobbled up by wholesalers.

The new aerial extension ladder just procured for the Fort Wayne equipment has been given several spectacular tests at the DeWald building in the presence of large crowds.

For twelve days workmen have been engaged in trying to remove obstructions from the casing of the Abbott mineral well in the east end. Yesterday an iron tool was removed. The obstructions were thrown into the well by mischievous boys.

The survey corps of the New York, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroad is now at Bourbon. The survey began in this city the 15th inst. and is expected to reach Chicago by November 15. Two townships in Kosciusko county have already voted aid to the road.

W. M. Leedy, who for some time has been advertising solicitor for The Sentinel, retired from that position today and will at once assume the duties of general traveling agent for the book publishing firm of White & Muecke, which has offices in the Pixley-Long block. Mr. Leedy is a straightforward, ambitious young man who will succeed.

NEW KIND OF SUBMARINE.

Gills and Fins Figure in Creation by Wizard Edison.

New York, Oct. 27.—A new kind of submarine, to be built with gills and fins, is considered perfectly practicable by Thomas A. Edison, and it is generally believed he is now working upon the invention. In a recent interview he discussed the plan, and asserted that it would be simple to invent a fish-gill submarine which would be nervously efficient. He disclaimed any interest in the invention himself, but he is known to have had a large tank in his laboratories for two years filled with fish whose movements he has been consistently studying.

Interviewed on the subject as he started on his present motor trip to visit Henry Ford in Detroit, Edison said, "Well, I'm starting off with some rather crude ideas, but when I get back I'll have them advanced far enough to experiment on them."

WHY INDIANA Needs a New CONSTITUTION

FACT NO. 9.

Governor Marshall and the democratic legislature of 1911 tried to give Indiana a new constitution. The progressive and republican parties in their state platforms in 1912 declared as they are doing now in favor of a new constitution. Governor Rabston in his official message to the legislature of 1913 strongly recommended a constitutional convention. He said in part:

"Unless the democratic legislature of 1911 and the progressive and republican parties were all mistaken, the people of Indiana are in need of and want a new constitution."

"Is it strange that they should desire an up-to-date organic law? Their present constitution was adopted more than sixty years ago. Since then the development of our state has been marvelous. Its population has greatly increased and its intellectual, social and material progress have multiplied many fold. New questions have arisen that cannot be solved under the present instrument, and new conditions make it necessary for the people to assert rights they cannot exercise thereunder. * * * Personally, I favor a constitutional convention."

STREW TACKS FOR AUTOMOBILES.

Van Wert, Ohio, Oct. 28.—The movement of the Temperance Automobile Train, which visited the different towns of the county Tuesday, was delayed as the result of tacks being placed on the roadway at Wren. The incident marks the second of the kind in that town this fall, the previous occasion being the delaying of Governor Cox and his party.

BAD COLD? TAKE CASCARETS FOR BOWELS TONIGHT

No headache, constipation, bad cold or sour stomach by morning.

Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache. Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gasses, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels. A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.—Adv.

EYES OF MEXICO ON OBREGON, THE PLANTER-WARRIOR OF SONORA.

General Alvaro Obregon, and city of Mazatlan which he besieged on his way to Mexico City.

Mexico City, Mex., Oct. 27.—The "Vivas!" of the men of this capital reserved for the conquering generals of the constitutional forces fell first upon the ears of Alvaro Obregon, commander-in-chief of the northwestern division of the rebel army. He had beaten Carranza, Villa, Zapata and the others to this goal of their desire. That was a few weeks ago. Today he is being talked about as a presidential possibility, this rancher-warrior from Sonora.

Behind him when he came, and behind the tattered remnants of his army, rumbled the cannon he had nursed like babies on the long march. Up near Mazatlan one day the general had patted them affectionately, saying: "We are yet a long way from Mexico City, but we have pulled these guns all the way from Sonora and have sworn that they will yet be in the streets of the capital. Huerta may have gone, but if not we will give no trace."

It expressed his iron determination. Throughout the campaign Obregon declared his subservience to Carranza, but the eyes of Mexico are upon him. He may return to his hacienda, or be given a governorship. But many here believe he will yet be the man to put the constitutional principles into effect in this war-scarred land.

His military career began with the outbreak of the revolution against Huerta in Sonora, where he was a planter. He quickly became a proficient strategist, although without previous military training.

After the battle of Tepic, Obregon carried out his word that he would execute all federal officers who fell into his hands, putting to death sixty officers who had failed to retreat.

"That Madero," he said, "been less sensitive and executed a few more traitors he would have been president of Mexico today."

From the Rio Grande the trail of General Obregon was a headbreaking march during which his troops suffered the privations of hunger and heat and battle. Bleaching bones marked the progress across the desert. The fighting cost many men. But victory rode with the northwestern division and the proud, erect figure of Obregon on his big horse.

"It may be a long time before the big changes for the betterment of the Mexican people are brought about," he said upon his arrival here, "but the accomplishment of the purpose of the constitutional party, Mexico for and by the People, is inevitable."

SAYS SOUL IS NOT CREATED AT BIRTH

The soul is not created at birth, according to L. W. Rogers, national lecturer of the Theosophical society, who lectured last night at Odd Fellows' hall on "Reincarnation." It has been evolved, he declared, from the spiritual side of the universe as worlds and stars have been evolved from the physical side.

If the human soul had been evolving for tens of thousands of years, he said, it was easy to account for the differences of mentality and mortality that undoubtedly exist at birth, but if the soul is created at birth and one is gifted with genius while another is blighted with stupidity, there could be no justice in life.

"Only by the hypothesis of reincarnation," said the lecturer, "can we harmonize the wretched inequalities of life with the idea that divine justice rules the world. If reincarnation were true, he argued, then each person had been shaping his intellect and molding his morals for thousands of years and each one is therefore responsible for what he is at birth."

Mr. Rogers said that it was quite true that the infant did not appear to be an old statesman or philosopher returning, but this was only because mature powers could no more be manifested through an immature body than a great musician could give a performance on an imperfect instrument; that the infant body was no more the full expression of the soul animating it than a green shoot peeping through the ground was the lily in bloom.

Tonight Mr. Rogers will speak on "Thought Power."

ALL WORK ON GOOD ROADS DAY.

Business and Professional Men Join Farmers in Effort.

Kokomo, Ind., Oct. 28.—Business and professional men donned overalls and jumpers and joined the farmers in nearly every county along the line of the Lincoln highway "feeder" route from Indianapolis to South Bend in celebrating good roads day by working without charge on the highway. The road was placed in good condition by the free labor of these good roads enthusiasts, many of them are residents of cities and towns along the route. Bad spots in the road as far north as the boundary of St. Joseph county were repaired. The work in that county is to be done next week.

Teams, wagons, tools and road making material were donated for the work by construction companies and citizens.

GOOD TRACKING FOR DEERS.

Gloversville, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Enough snow is reported in Adirondack mountains to make good tracking for deer hunters.

Sage Tea Keeps Your Hair Dark

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Lustre and Abundance.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and locks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't stay gray! Look Young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Witch's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Adv.

BIG BLAZE AT ANDERSON.

White Frost Ice and Storage Plant Totally Destroyed.

Anderson, Ind., Oct. 28.—The White Frost Ice and Storage company plant burned last night. The loss is estimated at $100,000. Ammonia tanks in the plant exploded with such force that houses were shaken in every direction of the city. The fire burned poles carrying electric wires and the entire city was in darkness for a time.

CONVICTS RECAPTURED.
Chicago Men Retaken After Chase in Joliet Streets.
Joliet, Ill., Oct. 28.—Two escaped convicts rased down the main street of this city last night a hundred yards ahead of a score of prison guards armed with shotguns, while pedestrians dodged into doorways to avoid the shots fired at the fugitives.
The convicts, John Stacy and John Crawford, under indeterminate sentences from Chicago, were caught in the railroad yards. They escaped from the state prison while being marched back to the cell house.

Slavery was abolished in the British colonies in 1833, and the same year the American Anti-Slavery society was founded.

The clerks of the coat and suit department of the Wolf & Dossauer store gave Mrs. A. F. Becker a house warming in her new home on Monday evening. Mrs. Becker, who is one of the force of the clerks referred to, had made preparations for the entertainment of her friends and there was music by an orchestra, pretty flowers, yellow and white in color, excellent refreshments, all of which were enjoyed by about fifty people. The guests presented Mrs. Becker with a handsome leather chair.

The members of the Simpson M. E. church Sunday school class of Mrs. Doan gave a Halloween party last evening at the home of Miss Helen Grist. A merry time was spent playing games, telling ghost stories around a "camp fire," toasting marshmallows and in the enjoyment of refreshments of various "goodies." There were present Wilma Peoples, Edna Phillips, Lucile Greider, Esther Johnson, Anna Pulver, Thelma Tracy, Mae Boust, Thelma Clark, Beatrice Glover, Lela Lewton, Beatrice Madara, Margaret Willis, Myrtle Van Buskirk, Okla Harrod, Charlotte Horn, Ruth McKelley.

Milligan-Bowser

The charms of youth, beauty, evening attire and pretty decorations all combined in making the wedding of Miss Verne Bowser and Mr. Daniel Garwood Milligan, which took place Tuesday evening in the First Baptist church, one of striking beauty. Preceding the entrance of the bride party a musical program was given by Mrs. George Bailie and Mr. Earl Thompson, with Mrs. Herschel Mayk at the organ.

The church itself presented a most attractive appearance with the entire space occupied by the pulpit being hung with southern smilax and vases of pink chrysanthemums lending a dash of color to that was equally satisfactory and pleasing. Bouquets of "mums" marked the entrance to reserved pews. The church was well filled before the wedding party arrived and all attention was given to the entrance of Rev. C. H. Snashall and Rev. Mr. Aiken, who were joined by the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. W. C. Miller, of Chicago. The organist played the bridal music from "Lohengrin" and slowly down the aisle approached the large bride party, the ushers down one aisle and the bridesmaids down the other. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Arthur Rose, Misses Vera Tresselt, Irma Henderson, Jennie Bowser, Gladys Walker and Ruth Riker, who were gowned alike in French peasant costumes of pale pink crepe de chine made with tunic of pink having an edge of black maline, sleeves of chiffon and trimmings of cream lace. Three of the bridesmaids were blondes and three were brunettes and the contrast as they stood in line awaiting the bride was one of the many pretty effects that the bride had planned. Three of the maids carried staff baskets filled with pom-pom pink chrysanthemums and the other three held arm bouquets of deeper pink roses. Mrs. Leland F. Johnson, a sister of the bride, followed the maids. Mrs. Johnson wore a handsome costume of rose broadened satin made with long train. The bodice of her gown was nearly all lace and a big butterfly bow of pink maline marked the waist line in the back. She carried large white lilies. Miss Mildred Bowser, who was maid of honor, made a stunning appearance in a beautiful costume of light pink crepe de chine covered with pink chiffon and combined with real Flemish lace and spangled ornaments. A touch of the inevitable black velvet of the season's demands in fashionable gowning, was shown in a panier of velvet on one side and in two embroidered cobweb designs on the sleeves. Miss Bowser's flowers were pink roses. The bride was preceded directly by four little children, who in dainty frocks and costumes presented a sweet sight that almost vied with the lovely bridesmaids in attraction. The children were Wilda, Van and Bonnie Bowser and little Leland Johnson. Each wore a black velvet bracelet and tiny Wilda Bowser carried a calla lily that held the wedding ring. The bride walked in with her father and made a very beautiful appearance. The bridegroom was of Francis satin with court gown and its garniture of flounces of rose point lace on the skirt, forming the sleeves and making the butterfly effect on the bodice, was extremely elegant though simple in design. Handsome pearl ornaments caught the eye and several clusters of orange blossoms were further distinctive features of the modish gown. The bride wore a pearl bar pin, the groom's wedding gift, and her veil with cap edged with point lace, was held in place with orange blossoms and a strand of pearl beads across the back of her hair. The bride's bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley. About one-hundred and fifty relatives and guests attended the reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus F. Bowser, in East Creighton avenue. The house was decorated with smilax and pink chrysanthemums, used in profusion, and the bride's table was done in pink roses. Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Bowser and the bride and groom were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Linder, of Crawfordsville. Mrs. Bowser wore an elegant costume of black crepe de meteor with a bodice of white covered with black lace and a corsage of lavender orchids. Assisting in the reception were Mr. Harry Bowser, who acted as master of ceremonies at the church, and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bowser, Mr. and Mrs. Jules Simon and Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Bechtel, as well as the members of the bride party, of whom the ushers were Messrs. Harry A. Palmer, E. H. O'Neill, Gould Washburn, of Crawfordsville; Melvin Hegley, of Tipton; Mr. Arthur Rose and L. E. Johnson, of this city. Music during the evening was furnished by Mrs. C. A. Horton, harpist, and Miss Menefee, violinist. Light refreshments were served and an especially pretty feature was the placing of the paraffin on real pink roses that were crushed flat. Mrs. Schumaker catered and the decorating was done by Miss Bradley. The bride and groom left today for a southern trip. They go first to New Orleans and take a boat on the ocean around the Florida coast and to New York. After the first of December Mr. and Mrs. Milligan will be at home in their own residence at 2411 South Webster street. For traveling the bride wears a black broadcloth suit and black velvet hat with paradise plume. A touch of gold is seen in the bodice that goes with the suit and it all well sets off the blonde and sweet appearance of the bride, whose genuine and generous nature are one reason for her unusual popularity. Mr. Milligan has made many friends since his arrival here about two years ago. His business qualification and upright character have contributed to his progress and success.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Walker and Miss Walker, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and daughter, Esther, and Mr. and Mrs. Linder, of Crawfordsville, were out of town guests present. Miss Esther Johnson passed the bride's favors of cake tied in initialed boxes with pink ribbon and Miss Lillian Polhamus, in dainty pink and white, acted as usher at the reception.

McDowell-Carpenter

Miss Sylvia Marie Carpenter and Mr. Arthur Edward McDowell were married in Hillsdale, Mich., on Tuesday morning by Rev. Louis DeLamar. Both bride and groom are from Fort Wayne.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

The Cincinnati German Theater company will offer at the Majestic theater this evening "The Dancing Hussars," a military comedy with the scenes laid on the Russian frontier.

The story of the comedy has been told in the advance notices and judging from the demand for seats, it is a story that appeals to the German theater-going public.

AT THE TEMPLE.

The Temple scheme of entertainment is just one thing after another with the classy bills tumbling into the theater twice a week. The current program closes its run tonight, to be succeeded tomorrow afternoon by another all Keith bill of fashionable vaudeville and the same old scale of bargain prices will obtain. "Via the Gas Route" is a laugh every second, as it is handled by Harry Gibbs and Edna Colwell. A pair of natural comedians in a melody of song and comedy talk hits are Joe Burns and Murray Kissen. Grace Carlisle and Jules Romer's novel musical feature is a regular act, while little Miss Jean has everyone with her from the time she bounds onto the stage until she bows her last thanks to the appreciative audiences. Emmett, the eminent dog trainer, has a wonderful troupe of educated canines.

New Bill Tomorrow Afternoon.

The new bill looks like a hum-dinger. It opens tomorrow afternoon with Jack Dakota and company presenting a sensational sharp-shooting act as the top attraction. Billy Newkirk and the Evans Sisters will sing and dance their way into favor in Fort Wayne just as they have over the entire circuit this year. "His Day Off" is an execrably funny farce that serves Eugene Ellsworth and Edna Earle Lindon as a vehicle for their unusual abilities as comedians. Massey and Boulton in a comedy rube musical act and Frawley and Hunt, a team of comedy acrobats, top off the bill.

THE ORPHEUM.

A DETECTIVE STORY.

Full of Thrills and Dramatic Incidents at Orpheum.

The desire of all people for a certain amount of thrills and mysterious action will be filled today when they witness the filming of the detective play, entitled "The Mystery of Grayson Hall," at the Orpheum theater. Lindsay Hall, Fred Horne and Edna Payne are heading the cast.

The play tells of the death in a mysterious manner of a wealthy old man and the methods of a famous detective of tracing the criminal.

The remaining attraction for this afternoon and evening is a Rex drama entitled "The Decision," with Robert Leonard and Ella Hall in the leading roles.

To all those who are interested in the musical programs at the Orpheum, it may be stated that the management desires to give the public not only the best in motion pictures, but also the best in music, and it may be said that they are accomplishing much more than was ected of them. It is announced that Miss Lyons, soprano, will sing "Good-bye," a fact which will be appreciated by all music lovers of Fort Wayne.

Tomorrow there will be shown an Imp drama, "In Self-Defense," with Violet Mercereau and Wm. Shay heading the cast, and a Sterling comedy entitled "A Race for a Bride," featuring Ford Sterling.

AT THE EMPRESS.

"Love in a Sanitarium."

Together with the other interesting and entertaining acts on the current bill at the Empress theater will close this evening and all persons who have not yet seen this splendid bill will undoubtedly wish to see it tonight.

"Love in a Sanitarium" has been acclaimed by Fort Wayne people as by far the best and most interesting and entertaining miniature musical comedy ever seen in Fort Wayne. All other acts on this bill are of the same high order of merit.

Tomorrow, afternoon another splendid bill will open at the Empress to remain for the last half of the week.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

JULIUS CAESAR.

Mammoth Spectacular Drama Opens at Jefferson Today, Remaining Over Tomorrow.

Filled with mighty scenes that draw expressions of wonder from the spectators; staged with a magnificence that has never been equaled in the history of the motion picture world, and marked by acting the like of which has seldom been exhibited on the screen, "Julius Caesar," George Kleine's tremendous million dollar photo-play, comes to the Jefferson theater today, remaining until tomorrow night. The theatergoers of this city have never been afforded an opportunity of witnessing a picture that approaches the splendor or magnitude that this production reveals. The greatest figures in the life of ancient, victorious Rome live again; victorious Caesar triumphs once more over his numerous kindreds; Pompey again quarrels with the immortal leader, and in the end we see the crafty Cassius pass before the tribunal and plunge his dagger into the body of the man who moulded history and propagated the culture of Rome in the barbarian lands of Gaul.

As an aid to students of history, and as a source of entertainment to the theatergoer, this dramatic masterpiece offers opportunities of authentic enlightenment and imparts impressions of such profound beauty that the onlooker marvels at the ingenuity of the men and the forces that created this remarkable photo-drama. It is not the creation of a company building picture-plays to supply a passing demand. It is the masterpiece of artists, men whose life work is devoted to the evolution of photo-plays that mark an epoch in that field of endeavor, receiving and passing judgment upon the result.

The rule of Caesar in this titanic production is assumed by Anthony Novelli, whose remarkable dramatic interpretations before the camera have gained him an inevitable reputation. His performances in the other Kleine photo-plays, "Quo Vadis" and "Anthony and Cleopatra," will be remembered by all theatergoers who witnessed his triumphs in these productions. The supporting cast has been selected from the finest talent procurable on the continent, actors whose careers have been devoted to the interpretation of the historical drama.

The Jefferson theater urges every theatergoer in the city to witness the production of this wonderful picture, inasmuch as this is the first time that it has been shown in any city. The resultant judgment of Fort Wayne patrons will, therefore, determine the success of "Julius Caesar" when it is shown in other amusement centers throughout America.

AT THE LYRIC.

Opening tomorrow afternoon the Lyric will present another completely new vaudeville program; of course there will be the daily change of the first run pictures. The Lyric with the evenly balanced, properly varied variety program it has been staging is making the hit of the local amusement world as the shows are of just the right length and of course being of the highest class suit in quality as well as quantity. The popular price feature of this playhouse puts it in the forefront of local amusement houses in the matter of catering to the public demand for big bills for little money.

Today's picture program includes a comic film, "Bill Takes His Lady to Lunch." This film was created by the versatile Keystone people, who never seem to reach their limit in fashioning new laugh-producing situations. A thrilling two-reel release, "The Revue Officer's Deputy," with Irene Hunt, Frank Bennett, W. E. Lowery and W. H. Long, is a promising picture.

GOLD-TINTED CAKE FOR GOLDEN WEDDING.

The "bride's cake" at a golden wedding is just as important a part of the bridal feast as if the bride were golden haired instead of white haired.

A very good recipe, tested by many "golden wedding brides," is given here. Cream together one cup of granulated sugar and one-half cup of butter. Add one cup of milk, two slightly heaped cups of flour, the beaten whites of three eggs, one and a half teaspoons of baking powder and one teaspoon of vanilla. Bake in a hot oven, gradually cooling over after cake has raised and slightly browned. When cool, frost the two layers with an icing made from the yolks of two eggs (well beaten) and the juice of one lemon mixed to a thick paste with well-sifted confectioner's sugar. This dries very quickly.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

First American presentation of the world's greatest motion picture

JULIUS CAESAR

Featuring the incomparable Anthony Novelli, whose "Veni Vidi Vici" in Quo Vadis, and Anthony in Antony and Cleopatra, won him world-wide fame. We promise you in Julius Caesar the ultimate in spectacular photo-drama—the thrill of the mighty scenes, the panic of the multitude—the rise and fall of the noblest figure in all history—staged amid scenes of transcendent beauty—Julius Caesar, the greatest production of Cines. The most practical contribution to the science of picture making, 20,000 costumed people. A miniature city of Rome built, the story of the civil war in the making. The fact that the "Jefferson," the "Grand of the West," was successful in securing first showing ahead of New York, Chicago and other larger cities of the greatest of all masterpieces is a fact we are proud of. We trust Fort Wayne will respond to the spirit of the occasion and give this remarkable film a rousing reception. Shows begin at 1:00, 5:00, 7:00, 9:00, and 10:00 p. m. Adults, 50c; children, 10c.

GIVE THANKS, SAYS WILSON

fluence of what their part among the nations of the world may come to be. "The hurtful effects of foreign war in their own industrial and commercial affairs have made them feel the more fully and see the more clearly their mutual interdependence upon one another and has stirred them to hopeful co-operation such as they have seldom practiced before. They have been quickened by a great moral stimulation. Their unmistakable ardor for peace, their earnest and disinterested sympathy for those who are suffering, their readiness to help and to think of the needs of others has revealed them to themselves as well as to the world.

"Our crops will feed all who need foods; the self-possession of our people amidst the most serious anxieties and difficulties and the steadiness and resourcefulness of our business will serve other nations as well as our own. The business of the country has been supplied with new instrumentalities and the commerce of the world with new channels of trade and intercourse. The Panama canal has been opened to the commerce of the nations. The two continents of America have been bound in closer ties of friendship. New instrumentalities of international trade have been created which will be also new instrumentalities of acquaintance, intercourse and mutual service. Never before have the people of the United States been so situated for their own advantage, or the advantage of their neighbors, or so equipped to serve themselves and mankind.

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-sixth of November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and invite the people throughout the land to cease from their wonted occupations and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks to Almighty God.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington, this 28th day of October in the year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and fourteen and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and thirty-ninth."

The proclamation is signed by President Wilson and Robert Lansing, acting secretary of state.

KNIFE CURE FOR EPILEPSY.

Operation on Intestines Advocated by Cincinnati Surgeon.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 28.—That a cure for epilepsy through a surgical operation on the intestines has been demonstrated in many cases was announced at the meeting of the Mississippi Valley Medical association here today by Dr. Charles L. A. Reed, of this city, who first described his new method of curing the disease several months ago. Dr. Reed held that the majority of cases of epilepsy are caused by poisons absorbed by the human system from the intestines. All previous surgical practice has been to operate on the brain.

Vice President Marshall will be given an old-time hearty welcome to Fort Wayne Saturday night. Be a part of this fine demonstration.

ASK THE LADIES TO RIDE HORSES

Trying for Novelty in The Parade in Honor of T. R. Marshall.

Dr. A. Guy Emrick, who has been appointed chief marshal of the parade to be held Saturday night in honor of Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, is seeking a novelty in that he will endeavor to have a number of ladies ride horseback in the procession.

Late Tuesday he was still using all his persuasive eloquence in an effort to stage this distinct novelty, but he found his greatest difficulty in securing the first consent. A number of ladies told him they would ride if he could get the others and he was convinced that just as soon as he got one consent he would be able to get the others.

The most active preparation is being made for this meeting. Mr. Marshall's long residence in this community, his personal popularity and the honor conferred upon him in making him vice president of the United States assures him a big crowd, but the democracy of Allen county wants to pay a strong tribute to him and with this in view bands have been engaged, arrangements made to burn red fire along the line of march and the result is bound to be the biggest political demonstration of recent years.

Chairman Edward Miller, in charge of the arrangements, spent all of Tuesday with Edward G. Hoffman, district chairman, Martin H. Lucke, Maurice Nizer, Stephen A. Callahan, County Chairman W. A. Johnson and others selecting the names of the 300 men who will be asked to act as vice presidents of the meeting. This list will not be picked at random, but careful study will be devoted to it and an effort made to settle upon a body of representative democrats.

Keep Mr. Cline Busy. Although Hon. Cyrus Cline entered the campaign at the eleventh hour on account of his detention at Washington by important measures before congress, the committee is giving him an opportunity to make up lost ground and he has been carded for from two to three meetings every day and evening, helping in the noon-day talks and in the night sessions. He is one of the speakers who will be heard on Wednesday night at Hoffman hall, on West Main street, and the others to appear are Hon. J. M. Robinson, Judge H. Waveland Kerr and Philip Zoercher.

In his addresses Tuesday night at the Iroquois and Olive clubs Mr. Cline lined up in the most forcible manner the achievements of the democratic administration in national affairs and paid a strong tribute to President Woodrow Wilson.

He also gave his attention to the praiseworthy attitude of the administration on the affairs of labor and challenged his hearers to point out an instance in which the republican party had introduced and passed measures calculated to benefit the laboring men of the country.

Mr. Cline will remain in Allen county most of the present week and has placed his services at the command of the local democratic committees.

18 INJURED IN WRECK ON C. & O.

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 28.—Eighteen persons were injured, five of them seriously, when three Pullmans and a day coach of Chesapeake and Ohio, Washington-Chicago fast train, No. 1, were derailed today ten miles east of Huntington. Two Pullmans turned completely over, rolling down a high embankment.

A broken wheel on the day coach is believed to have caused the accident. All the injured were in the overturned Pullmans. The day coach did not turn over. The injured were brought to Huntington, where they are now in hospitals.

"Further information continues to confirm previous reports that the German losses in dead, wounded and prisoners have been considerable in the northern region.

"On the right bank of the Aisne the Germans attempted at night a very violent offensive movement in the region of Craonne. On the heights of the highway des Dames they have been repulsed.

"In the Woivre district our troops have continued their advance in the forests between Aprimont and St. Mihiel, as well as in the forest of La Pretre.

"Russia: To the south of Warsaw the fighting extends from Rawa to the junction of the river Ilza with the Vistula on a front 100 kilometers (62 miles) along. In the region to the northeast of Rawa the Russians have inflicted heavy losses on the Germans. There is furious fighting in the forest between Kosienka and Radam.

"In Galicia the Russians are making progress. To the south of Sanber in the narrow valley of the Poduj, they surrounded the 38th division of the Hungarian Honved, together with detachments from the Landsturm and destroyed them completely, capturing twenty pieces of artillery and a great quantity of war material.

"In East Prussia partial attempts at a counter offensive movement on the part of the Germans resulted in failure."

Inquiry among survivors of the explosion today developed that immediately after the explosion the men, operating the air shaft reversed the machinery, hoping to draw the poisonous gases from the mines. This, said James

All of them actually plowed, too, and the contest was the only one that succeeded in drawing a gallery. A crowd followed each of these contestants across the field and back again and volunteered a lot of expert advice.

JUDGE TOOK RAP AT CRIMINOLOGY

Eggeman Says His Experience Routs Heredity Theory.

In an address before the parent-teacher club of the Franklin school on Tuesday evening, Judge John W. Eggeman, of the Allen circuit court and of the juvenile court in connection, took a rap at criminologists who charge delinquency to heredity and stated that his experience on the bench routed the theory.

He stated that he had seen children come to his court from the homes of parents whose families for generations back had been thoroughly honest, and that very few of the offspring of criminals had come within his jurisdiction.

He had given long and patient investigation to the theory and that, judging from his personal experience, the belief has little foundation in fact. The judge said that delinquent children generally come from dirty homes, from neglected homes and from the homes of divorcees who have remarried and have practically left their children to their own resources.

He talked for an hour and in the course of his lecture he outlined the plan he has followed in bringing about reforms, stated that no child had ever gone from his court to the county jail to be associated with criminals and that his orders are that as soon as a child is sent to his jurisdiction that it is to be released and notified to appear at the next Saturday hearing and that he had never been forced to send out for one of them.

He told of the elements that lead to delinquency and warned the parents against them. There was a short address by Mrs. C. H. Spalding, president of the Fort Wayne Mothers' club, and two beautiful solos by Mrs. Eliza Hanna Elliott accompanied by Mrs. Dr. Rhamy. The ladies of the club served a luncheon to their guests and reports were read showing that the members are among the most active in the city schools.

PLAYING GOOD BILLIARDS.

Kling.
John Kling, formerly the greatest outfielder in baseball, is now bidding for premier honors as a three-cushion billiard player. Kling, playing for Kansas City in the Interstate billiard league, has been one of the sensations of the early contests. Playing away from home, he has astonished the experts by winning in Philadelphia and Buffalo. He met with a setback at Cleveland, but continues to play fast and clever billiards. Kling has for years been one of the greatest pool players in the world, and since his retirement from baseball has devoted his time to billiards, improving his game until he promises to become one of the leading sportsmen of the billiard world.

News AlwaysESSICK EXPECTS TO MAKE TRADES

Grand Rapids Owner First to Announce Plans for Next Season.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 28.—President W. E. Essick, of the Grand Rapids Central league baseball team, will attend the annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, which is to be held in Omaha, Neb., starting Nov. 10. While attending the meeting he expects to make a number of deals whereby the Grand Rapids club will present a greatly changed lineup next season.

Determined to give the city a winning team in 1915, President Essick is planning to purchase the services of at least five players of known class, including a catcher, two pitchers and at least one infielder. He has made an offer for the release of infielder Young, of the Cadillac club, of the Michigan State league, and the Kansas City club of the American association has presented a prior claim. It is planned to present an entirely new infield with possibly one exception.

Joe Grodzki, who was allowed to play with the South Bend club this year under optional agreement, will be back and may be played regularly on third base, although Tommy Lee may also try for the position. First baseman Thompson has returned to the Columbus team of the American association, from which his release was secured upon optional agreement. Still and Minardo will be back and fight for positions. All three outfielders of the 1914 team are available, but it is hardly likely that more than one of them will be retained. Essick wants players who can hit when his arm is needed.

It is in the pitching staff and behind the bat that the team looks weakest to Essick and he is hopeful of landing at least two veteran pitchers who can be relied on to win a majority of their games.

A great deal of important business is to be transacted at the Omaha meeting, the life of a number of minor league players depending on action taken in cases pending.

Walter (Lefty) Pipp, first baseman of the Rochester club of the International league this year, and who was slated for Port Wayne early last spring, is one player who refused to be centered to jump to the Federal league in 1914. Joe Thicker offered him a bonus of $2,000 for signing a three-year contract to play with the Chicago Federal league team for $4,000 a year.

Pipp agreed to play with the Detroit team of the American league in 1915 at a salary of $2,500, that team having lured him away from Rochester by offering him a $2,000 bonus.

The showing in the Rochester domain, started to the Detroit management that Pipp is of major league caliber and too good to let slip through his hands.

This reason for turning down the flattery offer from the Federal league is given by Pipp as due to the fact that he gave to the Detroit club that he would sign to play with it in 1915 on terms which would be the same as he had secured the middle of the 1913 season.

Pipp's rise in baseball has been remarkable. Four years ago he was a Grand Rapids amateur. Then he played part of the season with the Hastings independent team and the balance with Grand Rapids amateur teams. The next season he was with the Kalamazoo league team and made such a splendid showing that his release was purchased by the Detroit club. He played with the Providence club of the International league and the Scranton club of the New York State league, showing good form with both teams.

This year Pipp led the International league in total bases made off bats, was a timely as well as hard hitter and ranked as one of the finest fielding first basemen in the league. Manager Gausel credited him with winning at least a dozen games for Rochester by timely hits and also says he played a fine fielding game.

NOT SEEKING "PEACE."

Major Organization Will Ignore Federal Meeting in New York.

New York, Oct. 28.—President John K. Tener, of the National league, who arrived here last night from Pennsylvania, said the older major organization was not seeking "peace" with the Federal league and had taken no cognizance of the recent Federal gathering here.

"The National league is perfectly satisfied with existing conditions," Governor Tener said, "and is not at all anxious to deal with the Federal league, either peacefully or otherwise."

"I understand some of the National club owners have talked with the Federal owners as to what might take place should the organized baseball recognize the Federal, but I am sure these discussions have been only from a standpoint that they might understand just what could be expected. It did not mean peace, by a long way."

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT?

People often accept statements with a sort of mental reservation as much as to say, "I am not convinced," which leads us to remark that there is nothing that will so thoroughly satisfy you of the excellence of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as a personal trial. Mrs. John Fiskton, Peru, Ind., who used this remedy in her family for the past ten years, says of it: "I always give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to my children when sick with coughs or colds. I like it better than any other because they take it willingly and it is free from narcotics. It has never failed to give immediate relief." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

The membership committee of the Commercial club met Wednesday noon and passed on a number of applications, on which a report will be made to the board of directors, which will be in session in the evening.

Tod Sloane Is an Indiana Boy and Had a Remarkable Career
as a Jockey and Now Drives War Ambulance

(Editor's Note—Few sporting celebrities have had the sensational career of Tod Sloan, once known as the best jockey in the world. In five chapters the story will be told in The Sentinel.)

(By Hugh S. Fullerton.)

Probably no man in the world has led such a varied and exciting life, has been the center of near the center of more stirring events than has James Tod Sloan, once known as the best jockey in the world. In five chapters the story will be told in The Sentinel.

CHAPTER I.

Cash and Tod were two little boys who lived down in Kokomo, Ind. They were small, but bright and quick with hands and feet and wits, and their father, who was a barber, was proud of them.

They attended school, but mostly when there was a chance they were at the fair grounds, for the love of horses and to have been born in them. When he was 12 Cash was riding, and Tod rode in the running races when he was 2. It is said that the father whipped Tod for riding on the fair grounds.

They were small but bright and quick.

here, and, as Tolbert feared nothing, neither did his small employees. Tolbert was kind to the lads.

It is said he was so kind hearted that when Tod cried because the professor refused to let him make a balloon ascension and parachute drop the professor's heart grew soft, and he permitted the lad to do it.

Cash rode against his small brother in the running races and against Prof. Tolbert in the standing Roman races.

These boys traveled the "pumpkin circuit" of Indiana and Ohio with their day devil employer. Horsemen noticed that both were natural riders, and that Tod especially possessed a cool head, a strong, firm pair of hands and that he had the knack of getting the most out of a horse.

Prof. Tolbert recognized this fact. He trained the boys, and when they were ready he brought them out of the half mile fox path circuit and found for them jobs riding on the big race tracks.

(Watch for the next chapter of Tod Sloan's life.)

SCALPERS AT WORK EARLY.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Ticket scalpers already have made preparations to profit by the Minnesota-Chicago football game here Nov. 21, according to a story printed today. The tickets have not yet been printed but it is said four well known scalpers admitted that reservations could be made, and at least one of them stated the exact location where his seats at a premium of $1 over the regular price would be located. Asked where the tickets were to come from one broker replied, "The boys."

There have been scandals in previous years involving certain students alleged to have acted for the brokers.

Mme. Agard, of the Halle (municipal market). A quaint old lady, broad as she is long, little feet thrust into big sabots, white head coquettish in a wide-winged snowy coif.
"Thanks to the Kaiser Paris forgets foolishness, even learns again those things which count. Attendez, madame. Be seated."
We sat. Over us stretched a vast glass roof hung with the flags of the allies. About us were hundreds of tiny food stalls each in charge of a masterful woman. Counters of silver fish, baskets of ruddy fruit, careful arrangements of green or yellow vegetables. Each passage was crowded with submissive, blue-smocked porters, panned grey donkeys, thoughtful purchasers. Floods of water splashed across the sullied pavement, from every side drifted clean, aromatic odors.
"Observe," said Mme. Agard absently, "observe that prices are still low in this tenth week of war. Lettuce one cent the head, tomatoes two cents a pound, potatoes the same, Brussels sprouts two pounds for five cents, cauliflowers three to five cents. The poorest may still have good pottage."
"Fruit is less plentiful. There is no one to gather the grapes, hence! What about cheap wine next year? Also apples and pears have been blown from the trees by the concussion of artillery fire. Perhaps our soldiers enjoyed a feast, our brave garçons. It was this in '79 when those North Frenchmen saved

"But poultry was never cheaper—no one buys food for fowls in war time—and there is a glut of good butter at a franc-fifty (thirty cents), the kilogramme (i. e., two pounds). 'Buy, and lay it down in salt,' I tell my ladies. It is an American custom. Some day our friends, those Americans, will see to it that we French have justice from the deutsche kaiser."
"So we Parisians live on fowls and fruit for meat is costly, even two francs (forty cents) for a pound of beefsteak, one franc-sixty-five (thirty-three cents) for mutton outlets. Thus my ladies, who seldom came to market before the war, learn the values of foods."
"And my ladies? It is a miracle! They come to the Halles early, so early, simply dressed, wearing no rouge! The omnibuses have disappeared. It is necessary that they walk. The simple life works wonders to complexions and to spirits. Economy has become the fashion. We discuss prices. We speak of yesterday's battle and of today's victory.

"All our men are at the front, brother-in-arms. That levels all differences between women. It is a religion to be hopeful—animated—cheerful."
"We women have learned that nothing matters which can be had for money. We must live wisely for the sake of a happier tomorrow. Observe that no more is asked of saints seeking salvation!"
"At last one may see the real Paris! The Apaches are gone, the military government has ended the sale of absinthe, there are no gendarmes any more, no correctional police courts. And the court martials in the Palais de Justice are empty."
"Also the change has spread to our homes. Men in the army, less money, fewer servants. We Frenchwomen cannot live without decorum. Having no assistance we begin to do things for ourselves. My ladies were forgetting how to sew. Today they make their children's clothes. I see them exchanging little paper patterns."
"Try a Clock Paris is in darkness, one street lamp in three is lighted, and as shown, so there are the newspapers were beautiful. With one's heart on the firing line there comes no desire for folly. Therefore one sits at home and reads serious books. Therefore one has something real to think about—to talk about.

"Our only comfort is in hope, and in religion. The churches are open, the priests gone (20,000 are in the army), but the good nuns are here. Exiled before the war, they are back to nurse the wounded. And they tell us, smiling tranquilly, 'Mesdames, while men live dangerously we women must live bravely.' True, it is lonely, doubly lonely without the children."
"Hela! that is the worst of the war, our Paris is now a childless city. General Michel, who was military governor when war broke out, ordered them away to safety. Thousands and thousands of little ones went in those first mad days, to grandparents, or friends, or schools far at the south in Bordeaux or Marseilles. We called them 'au revoir' gayly; some even said, to their neighbors, 'At last we will have peace in the Halles.'"
"But when we heard no laughing any more, had no mischief makers playing underfoot, ah, then we knew. Our Halles have become a dreary place without the children."

WILL FIGHT ILLITERACY.
Kentucky Is Soon to Provide "Moonlight Schools."
Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 27.—In a proclamation characterized by Dr. P. F. Clayton, United States commissioner of education, as "one of the most important issued by the governor of any state since the beginning of our national life," Governor McCreary, of Kentucky, announces the appointment of a state illiteracy commission and the beginning of a campaign to eliminate illiteracy from his state. A thousand volunteer teachers are already at work in the "moonlight schools," teaching Kentucky's 208,000 adult illiterates how to read and write.
Among the members of the illiteracy commission is Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, through whose efforts as superintendent of schools illiteracy has been entirely wiped out in Rowan county, during the last three years.

"Whatever else Governor James B. McCreary may do for his state, this proclamation must always be accounted among his wisest acts," says Dr. Clayton.
BIG BLAZE AT ANDERSON.
White Frost Ice and Storage Plant Totally Destroyed.
Anderson, Ind., Oct. 28.—The White Frost Ice and Storage company plant burned last night. The loss is estimated at $100,000. Ammonia tanks in the plant exploded with such force that houses were shaken in every section of the city. The fire burned poles carrying electric light wires and the entire city was in darkness for a time.

BUSINESS JUST FAIRLY GOOD

Latter Half of Year Below Same Period of 1913, Says Mr. Bowser.

S. F. Bowser, president of S. F. Bowser & Company, said this morning that the business of the company, while not as heavy this fall as it was the same period of last year, is fairly good and so far during the year is ahead of last year. "We have greatly increased our facilities for business during the year," said Mr. Bowser, "and could handle a great deal more than we did in 1913. I do not look for any marked improvement the remaining months of this year, however, and can only hope that it will not be worse. Our business in future years has been heavy in the southern states, but the decreased demand for cotton, the chief crop of that country, has greatly demoralized all business in the cotton growing states and of course the oil tank and pump trade suffers in common with other industries there." S. F. Bowser & Company recently purchased fifty bales of cotton with the philanthropic purpose of helping their southern friends out of their present financial distress. "We did this," Mr. Bowser said, "to help the people who in prosperous times have been most lib-

She's Only Woman Passenger Agent

Miss Daisy Ogden, of Davenport, Ia., the only woman passenger agent in the world, owes her unique position to the fact that she persuaded railroad officials that men haven't a monopoly on business tact and the ability to "meet people."

Miss Ogden attended the recent convention of traveling passenger agents at San Francisco, and is the tri-city agent of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad.

"There's no reason why other women should not become passenger agents," she said, "and now that the ice has been broken the field will be easier to enter. The railroads are beginning to realize that women can serve the public and their employers just as efficiently and loyally as men. I have great hopes for women in railroad positions in the future."

Miss Ogden started in as a telegraph operator.

OUCH! LUMBAGO! RUB PAINS FROM SORE, LAME BACK

Rub Backache away with small trial bottle of old "St. Jacob's Oil."

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or maybe from a strain, and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. Yet simply rub it on your back and out comes the pain. It is harmless and doesn't burn the skin. Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 50 years.—Adv.

BIG TRAFFIC IN CATTLE.

Nickel Plate Has Big Business Buffalo to Chicago.

For several months many cattle for slaughter at the Union stock yards in Chicago have been passing through Fort Wayne over the Nickel Plate road. Yesterday afternoon two trains, of thirty-four cars each, passed through the city, running on a schedule nearly equal to the fast passenger trains. The cattle on these trains and possibly those previously handled came from Canada. Occasionally there are train loads of Argentine cattle, but the greater portion come from Canada.

SPECIAL SWITCH RUN.

Tuesday night the Nickel Plate inaugurated a switch run between Fort Wayne and Bellevue, the crews and engines leaving each place at 6 o'clock. They are expected to pick up cars sufficient to make a tonnage of 1,400 by the time they reach Leipsic, the half-way point between the terminals, when the westbound crew will run through to Fort Wayne and the eastbound crew will run through to Bellevue. A good part of the freight these switch crews will handle will be beefs, destined for the places wherein are located sugar factories. The regular crews will be assigned after ten days or two weeks, but until that time extra crews will handle the trains.

IN SAN FRANCISCO NEXT YEAR.

The American Gas Institute, which held its annual meeting in New York last week, will hold the 1915 convention in San Francisco at a date to be announced later. At the same time the International Gas Congress will be in session at San Francisco and the delegates to the A. G. I. will also attend the congress. O. N. Giddin and O. G. Thwing of the Western Gas Construction company, and S. E. Mulholland of the Indiana Lighting company, who attended the meeting in New York last week have returned home.

ONE SIDEWALK FINISHED.

The sidewalk on the east side of Harrison street under the Wabash and the Pennsylvania tracks was completed last night and will be opened to pedestrians Friday morning. The work on the west side of the street is also well under way and will be finished this week, but not open to public use before next Monday or Tuesday. Men are engaged in grading and making the street ready for the reception of the brick pavement and the street will be finished inside of two weeks and opened to traffic.

SEES SLIGHT IMPROVEMENT.

"I believe there is a slight increase in the movement of freight over the Wabash," said E. F. Needham, superintendent of motive power of the road, who was here this morning on business for the company. "The increase is most noticeable on the Decatur division, where there is a fairly good movement of coal at present," continued Mr. Needham. With Master Mechanic Smith, Mr. Needham left at noon today for Peru, where they will spend the afternoon in looking after business connected with the motive power department.

ENGINEER COWEN IN HOSPITAL.

Engineer Robert Cowen, of the Pennsylvania, was operated upon at the hospital this morning for bladder troubles, with which he had been afflicted for some time. Engineer Cowen worked until noon yesterday, when he had to give up and go home. He is doing well, it is said, the operation being successful. Mr. Cowen is one of the old and well known engineers of the Pennsylvania, having worked for the company over a third of a century.

CONDUCTOR BOWMAN INJURED.

Conductor Charles A. Bowman, of the Nickel Plate, sustained a fracture and a bad sprain of one of his ankles yesterday. He was running at the side of the tracks at South Whitley to throw a switch, when he stepped upon some article which turned his foot under and caused the injury. He had to abandon his run and return to the city and is now at his home, 516 West Wayne street, resting fairly easy, considering the extent of his injuries.

KEKIONGA AID SOCIETY.

The Kekionga Aid society of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the O. R. C. will meet with Mrs. Fletcher, No. 635 West Third street, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Banks, Mrs. Deahl and Mrs. Dochterman will assist Mrs. Fletcher in entertaining.

IN PITTSBURG ON BUSINESS.

Supt. W. M. Wardron and Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton, of the Pennsylvania, left last night for Pittsburgh, where they are looking after some business for the company today.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Machinist Otto Alter, of the Wabash erecting shop, is sick and off duty. Brakeman Kenneth Smith, who had been sick, reported for work on the Nickel Plate yesterday.

William Stellhorn, Nickel Plate yard engineer working at nights, resumed work last night, after a short lay off. Acting Master Mechanic E. E. Greist, of the Pennsylvania, is in Crestline today looking after business for the company.

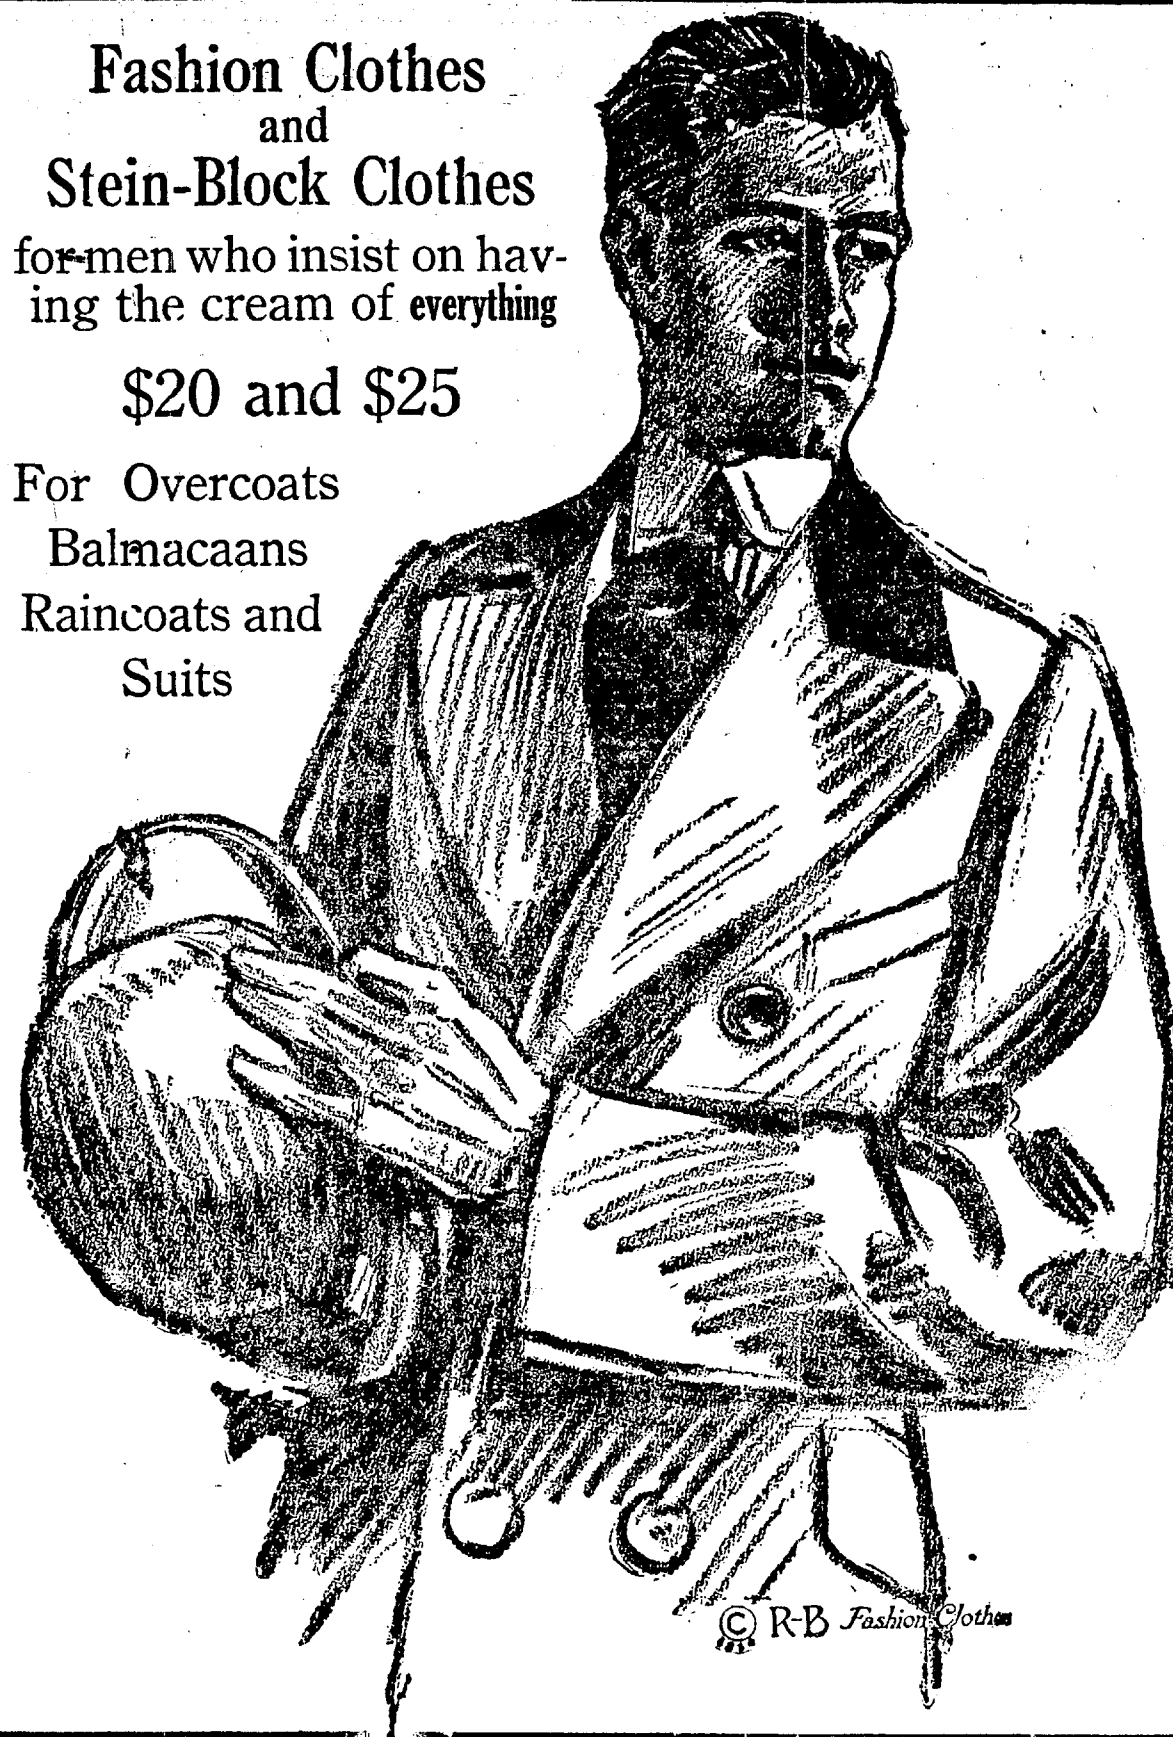

Emigrants, en route from New York to the west, will pass through Fort Wayne today on Nickel Plate train No. 3.

Nickel Plate Brakeman John Fox, who had a shoulder sprained a week ago, was able to report for work on the road today.

Engineer E. H. Talley, who had been laying on to be asked to some business affair for a few days, resumed his place at the throttle of the engine which pulled Nickel Plate train No. 3 to Chicago last night.

Conductors W. O. Miller and L. M. Jackson, of the Nickel Plate, are taking a few days to look after some private business.

A. L. Hadley, chief engineer at the Fort Wayne Electric works, returned yesterday from a business trip to Schenectady, N. Y.

After a few days off to celebrate the arrival of a baby boy at his home, Conductor W. D. Keim has resumed work on the Nickel Plate.

Edward Carroll, seal clerk in the Lake Shore and Lake Erie freight house, is taking a week's vacation and his place is being filled by George Schumann.

Passenger Conductor J. W. Keeler, of the Pennsylvania, who was off work two weeks because of blood poisoning in his foot, resumed work yesterday.

Ed. J. Hayden, of the St. Paul; D. J. Trail, of the Union Pacific, and D. McNamara, of the Alton, passenger agents, were in the city today, calling on local ticket agents.

Conductor Charles M. Bushey, of the Nickel Plate, on the local between Knox and Stony Island, has started a ten days' vacation which he will spend with relatives in Ohio.

Machinist Ed Paul, of the Pennsylvania, and his wife will leave Friday morning for South Haven, Mich., where they will spend the week end with relatives and friends.

Switchman Edward Ehinger reported for duty on the Wabash yesterday, after an absence of two weeks because of injuries received when he was "side swiped" by a passing train.

Conductor W. C. Floring is handling local freight on the Nickel Plate between this city and Knox during the absence of Conductor C. A. Bowman, who was injured yesterday.

Dormitory girls employed at the Wayne Knitting mills, are arranging for a Halloween masquerade dance to be given next Friday night and a number of tickets already have been sold.

James H. Tatler, machine repairman at the Wayne Knitting mills, is off duty and suffering considerable pain at the result of a piece of emery dust getting into one of his eyes several days ago.

The dead body of Joseph Meyers, of White House, O., was found at the side of the Wabash tracks at Maumee yesterday. He was riding on one of the freight trains and was killed by falling off.

Carl Fox, night clerk at the Pennsylvania roundhouse, will report for work next week. A month ago, while riding his motorcycle, he ran into a wagon and was severely hurt. He has now nearly recovered.

A. B. Dufenbeck, formerly of South Bend, has arrived in this city and taken up his duties as superintendent of the Indiana Printing company, succeeding Edward Evans, who held that position a number of years.

The New York Grand Opera company will pass through the city tomorrow, en route from Indianapolis to Jackson, Mich. The company will come to this city via the Lake Erie and Western and leave on the Lake Shore shortly before noon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Dietrich returned from a three months' trip to Denver, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles and other western cities. Mr. Dietrich formerly was a machinist in the plant of the Western Gas Construction company.

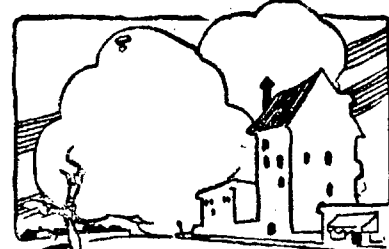

L. L. Converse, night assistant engineer at the Pennsylvania power station, is off duty on account of the illness of his brother's child, who is visiting at his home. David W. Sidall took Mr. Converse's place during his absence from the engine room.

Engineer Clarence Bricker, of the Nickel Plate, who had been at Avilla a week or two, visiting his mother, who is seriously ill, reported for work on the road yesterday. Fireman Ed Houser, off a week for rest, also reported for duty on the road yesterday.

Section men of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad started yesterday to place an entirely new crossing at Fourth street, where nine tracks cross the public highway. A crushed stone foundation will be put in and new, solid timbers are being placed on the stone, making an excellent crossing. Daniel Fredericks, employed in Foreman Frank Walburn's department at the Fort Wayne Electric works, was overcome by benzine and wood alcohol fumes while removing some pieces from a tank this morning. He was immediately placed upon a stretcher and taken to the dispensary, where Dr. Fred Schulz attended him and soon restored him to consciousness. He has suffered no serious results and will be at work in a day or two.

The Tri Kappa sorority will meet Thursday evening with Miss Jean Lutz. Miss Frances Dugan, who is teaching in Winchester, will be at home for that date.

Mrs. James Niblick, east of the city, entertained the Ladies' Afternoon club yesterday.

A big blue racer snake, supposed to have come from the old abandoned cemetery near Mercer avenue, ran after a woman at noon the other day. While she was passing along the walk, she fled to a porch with the snake after her but it finally turned and fled, and had made its escape when help arrived for the woman.

Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Burgener have returned from Hicksville, O. They accompanied Mrs. Burgener's mother, Mrs. Schaefer, her home there. She had been visiting here.

Miss Vera Rinkard returned to Fort Wayne after a two weeks' visit here with Mrs. John Rinkard, who is at Fort Wayne on the subject of her marriage.

WEAK FROM WAISTLINE UP.

Faulty Showing by Majority of American Men and Boys.

Washington, Oct. 28.—"The majority of American boys and men are muscularly weak from the waist line up, the legs usually showing up well as regards strength," says Surgeon J. A. Murphy, in a report to the navy department on the physique of the average applicant for enlistment.

Discussing the physical attributes of the thousands of men and boys who apply for enlistment in the army, navy and marine corps he says that many are strong but through excess of weight (fat usually) prove relatively weak. Many of the strong also are awkward, unresponsive, ponderous, and through stiffening of joints and contractures of muscles, lack speed and agility.

U. S. VETERINARIAN FINDS CHOLERA AT POST-MORTEM HERE

Dr. Paul A. Mollan, United States veterinarian co-operating with Purdue university, yesterday found hog cholera when he held a post-mortem at the farm of Paul Zink, residing five miles east of New Haven. The examination was witnessed by fifty farmers in the neighborhood.

Dr. Mollan was assisted by County Agent Henry. When the men arrived at the farm they found several sick hogs penned for the "post." One of the hogs was killed and dissected. The lungs, kidneys, bladder and intestines were found spotted as in the case of cholera. The official spent some time in demonstrating the effects of cholera on the hog and told how the disease may be found in a pen of hogs. Following the examination Dr. Mollan had each farmer present disinfect his shoes with a wash prepared. This was done to prevent carrying disease germs to farms where there is no cholera.

Arrangements are now being made to have Dr. Mollan here within the next two weeks to give a number of illustrated lectures throughout the county on disease prevention. The dates for these have not yet been set.—Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette, October 18, 1914.

Many reports reach us of cholera among hogs in this vicinity.

WOLF & DESSAUER

PEDDLER FINED FOR CHEATING

Bill Wagner Short-Weights
Woman Over Three Bushels of Potatoes.

William Wagner never told Mrs. Alton Kissinger that his potatoes were 55 cents a bushel. They were 55 cents a bushel. He never told Mrs. Kissinger that he would deliver ten bushels at her home, 1323 Buchanan street. He said he would deliver ten bushels of potatoes. He never claimed to have put twelve bushels in the cellar. He maintained only that twelve bushels were deposited and he defied the world to count 'em and make them less than an honest dozen.

All this was a part of the related facts and swore to them on the witness stand in the city court. And Bill wouldn't lie because further he is a good, honest peddler and never fact he readily and frankly admitted. Moreover, Bill offered to make straight and proved crookedness there may have been in the transaction with Mrs. Kissinger. All of which got Mr. Wagner not much Judge Kerr held him guilty of a violation of the state law of weights and measures which requires that potatoes be sold in bushels to the bushel, and soaked sixty pounds to the bushel, and sold at $1.00 and costs. This was letting honest Bill off rather easy, in view of the fact that there is still standing against him a suspended sentence of fifteen days in jail for larceny committed last spring, an offense of which he was convicted last May. Wagner has been operating on the city market and Tuesday Mrs. Kissinger engaged ten bushels of potatoes from him at 55 cents a bushel. When Wagner's cart visited the Kissinger home there were twelve bushels of potatoes aboard and Mrs. Kissinger agreed to take them all. They were put in the cellar and $6.60 collected for them. Then Wagner drove away, perfectly innocent of knowledge that City Sealer C. B. Tolan had been concealed across the street and waiting an hour and a half for Wagner to make his delivery. Sealer Tolan weighed Mrs. Kissinger's purchase and found a shortage of 250 pounds, or nearly three and one-half bushels. Then he filed an affidavit against Wagner, who was arrested late in the afternoon. Complaints had been reaching Sealer Tolan that Wagner was defrauding customers and a lookout was kept for him. The sealer was near by when Mrs. Kissinger bargained for the potatoes and as soon as the woman left the Wagner stand she was told not to disturb the potatoes after delivery until they could be weighed. The trapping of Wagner followed.

Jansen Squares His Checks.
George E. Jansen, who victimized his best friends with fraudulent checks when his wallet grew lean and was arrested in Toledo and brought back here, had contrived to take up his bad paper, and on motion of the prosecutor the case against him was dismissed in the city court Wednesday. Jansen is a rather flashy young fellow who has been much in Fort Wayne for several years and had been received in good families.

Other City Court Cases.
Dick Hammons was fined $10 and costs and given a suspended sentence of ten days in jail for being intoxicated on a railway car. Hammons, who lives near stop 8 on the Fort Wayne & Northwestern interurban line, came to the city, got a fighting soured, was put off a car, boarded another and drew a revolver when the conductor and motorman assisted by passengers, threw him off. Later he was arrested.

Peter Berry, a drunk, wanted to be put off at Buffalo, and was allowed to journey in that direction. Harvey Jones, arrested for loitering, explained that he was a guest of the Stag hotel, found it impossible to sleep and was just taking a turn about the town to pass the time and induce sympathy when a cop got him at 3 a. m. He was turned loose to verify a claim that he is awful anxious to get to Virginia.

Tom Gaskins, a drunk, and Orange B. Lockwood, charged with wife desertion, were turned loose. Bert Johnson, charged with neglecting his child, was released on his own recognizance to attend the funeral of his mother.

PREVENTED SERIOUS WRECK.

Dr. R. M. Bolman flagged a northbound Fort Wayne & Northwestern interurban car at the Miller bridge north of the city, Tuesday night, and so prevented the killing of a team of horses and doubtless the serious wrecking of the car. The team belonged to Art Kramer, and had run away on Clinton street, north of the Centerville brewery, throwing Kramer out and injuring him. The team, which was drawing a load of brick, ran to the railroad crossing and there becoming entangled in the reins, stopped on the track. Dr. Bolman, who was returning in his automobile from a call in the country, came along just in time to flag the car and prevent trouble. Kramer was picked up by the police, taken to headquarters and attended by Police Surgeon J. Frank Dimmen.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS.

The boys' literary society, known as the Platonians, held a meeting Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of perfecting the organization. Mr. Neff, an English instructor, gave a brief talk in which he discussed the usefulness and benefit of a literary society.

Mr. Knight, the forging instructor, is back on the job after an absence of several weeks due to a serious illness.

The children went to press Tuesday and, according to the editor, will be put on sale about the middle of November. The work is being done this year by the Singmaster Printing company.

An announcement was made Tuesday that all seniors who desire to try out for the cast-off of the class play which is to be given the evening before and the evening after Thanksgiving, should turn in their names to Mr. Ward in room No. 18. About thirty students already have their names on file as desirous of taking part in the play.

The Mathematics club of the high school will meet on Friday evening, Nov. 6, in room No. 20. An interesting program has been arranged for the entertainment of the members of the society. The feature for the evening will be a debate on the topic, "Resolved, that Mathematics is More Beneficial Than History." Willard Shambaugh will take the affirmative side and Miss Wilma Brueckner will be his opponent. It is reported that the number of many new students will be added to the club's roster at this meeting. Refreshments will be served as usual.

Keith Spring, a member of the junior class, has returned to his studies after a month's absence. "Spring" as he is known among his friends, who underwent an operation for appendicitis a few weeks ago, has recovered sufficiently to be back to school but it is doubtful if he can play basketball this winter.

We Will Pay Your Fare to Fort Wayne

NO SALE ever attempted in the state of Indiana will compare with the big Co-operative Fare Refunding Sale in which this store has a share and which starts Thursday and continues up to and including Saturday, November 7. We are making elaborate preparations in every department of our store and a general sweeping price reduction sale will continue through the nine-day sale. It is the grandest opportunity for bargain hunters to find what Fort Wayne merchants have in store for them. It will mean a great saving in making purchases of personal and household goods.

The low reductions in price on dependable merchandise will appeal strongly to every person in the city of Fort Wayne, as well as those that come from miles around the city of opportunity during the "Trade Carnival."

The Frank Dry Goods Co. has the same merchandise that the larger stores in Chicago, Cleveland and New York have on their shelves, and we are giving you prices that are hard to equal in any city. It will pay the most skeptical to come for miles and share in the big bargain banquet.

This Is Known in Fort Wayne as The Suit Store

We probably have a larger stock and sell more suits than any other store in Indiana. For an example of the values we offer we might tell of the several hundred suits, specially purchased from a traveler's line of samples and augmented by a number from our regular stock. The suits include both plain tailored and fur trimmed models in all the wanted styles and fabrics. The values run as high as $45. All will soon go at the exceptional price of

The Exclusive fur fabric Hindu Lynx

This soft, lustrous fur fabric is more than a novelty now—women everywhere have accepted it as the most beautiful and effective of fur fabrics. Bischof takes peculiar delight in designing this exclusive material into the most charming models. It is being produced this season in green, brown and blue, as well as black.

The illustration here can give you only a faint idea of its charm and distinction. To really appreciate the beauty of this lustrous, rich, silky material you must see it, feel it.

To enthuse over the wonderful skill with which that master designer, Bischof, has worked up every detail of finish in these garments, you must examine them.

And to realize how vastly becoming they will be on your figure, you must try them on. Every new feature of the season, including many of Bischof's own touches are embodied in these coats—they are the last word in fashion.

Come in and see them, try them on, pick yours from the number of beautiful styles we are showing.

TWIN SISTER'S RENEW LEGAL BATTLE FOR FORTUNE OF ECCENTRIC UNCLE.

MARJORIE AND MADELINE HOLYOKE.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 28.—Because a jury decided that their uncle was of unsound mind when he wrote his will, Marjorie and Madeline Holyoke, twin sisters, lost legacies of $200,000 apiece.

Although the girls were defeated in the courts. Opposed to them are their cousins, Sidney and Harry Holyoke, sons of Frank H. Holyoke, the rich uncle who willed $400,000 to his nieces.

The sons maintain that their father's excessive use of liquor had impaired his mind. He believed, their attorney asserted, that chickens were roosting on the foot of his bedstead and that he couldn't drive them away.

The girls are fighting for a new trial.

ADOPTED CHILD OF TOWN CURED

Very Proud of Grace Iliff.

Pine Bluff, Ark., Oct. 28.—"Our town's little daughter"—5-year-old Grace Iliff, who was officially adopted by the community of Pine Bluff about a year ago—is to be taken from her village foster-parent, and to go into the Chicago home of Asa R. Bacon, the hospital superintendent under whose loving care little Grace has been made well of body again.

For over a year she has been unable to swallow food, and has been fed by a silver tube. It was about a year ago that Baby Grace swallowed a handful of what she thought was sugar, when she found it in a can in her mother's pantry. The "sugar" was concentrated lye. It burned and stricken horribly the child's esophagus, which closed tightly.

The mother was very poor and unable to pay for the medical care which would be necessary to save the child's life. So with unanimity, the citizens of Pine Bluff subscribed $500 to send little Grace to a specialist in Chicago, and they officially adopted the little girl as their community's own.

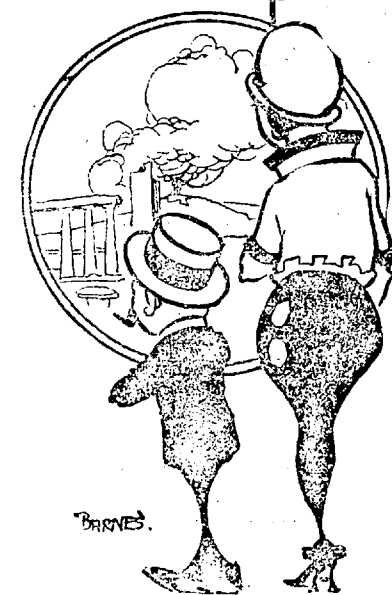

For a year she has been in the Presbyterian hospital in Chicago, and the patient efforts of her doctor have at last opened the tightly closed esophagus, so that Grace can eat solid food again. It is the care of Superintendent Bacon which saved her life. He and his wife gained such affection for Baby Grace that they have just come to Pine Bluff to arrange with the village and with the child's real parents for adoption.

into their own childless home in Chicago.

A PERTINENT QUESTION.

The question has been asked, "In what way are Chamberlain's Tablets superior to pills?" The answer is, "They are more mild and gentle in effect and more reliable. Besides they improve the appetite, cleanse and invigorate the stomach, correct disorders of the liver and leave the bowels in a natural and healthy condition, while the use of pills, owing to their drastic effect, is often followed by constipation." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

AZTEC INDIANS HAVE SET IDOL TO WATCH OVER AMERICAN GIRL.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 28.—When Miss Eva Nuno left Salina Cruz, Mexico, where she had endeared herself to the natives during a long residence with her parents, they gave her as a parting gift

the most precious talisman within their power—an ugly image.

It is the Aztec god of plenty, assuring the possessor, according to ancient Indian legend, against want as long as the head of the idol is kept filled with water.

Miss Nuno, who has come for a visit, and probably to attend school, keeps the little clay god of plenty always near her.

The Indians say the charm has never failed them during many generations. The image they gave their little American friend is over 100 years old, and has the reputation among the natives of having chased many a wolf of want from the door.

NEVER CARED FOR ANYONE.

Kicked Out of Home as Babe, Man Is Willing to Hang.

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 28.—Frank Repetto, sitting sullenly in his cell today waiting to be hanged, told why he hates the world, and where he got the bitterness of heart that nerved him to murder an old comrade in the penitentiary.

"I'm a dog, of course, and hanging's too good for me," he said. "But hanging won't bother me any, either. I've hated every living thing since I was four years old—and I'll tell you why. It's because I didn't get a square deal when I was a kid. That started me hating people—and I've never quit and never will."

"My mother died when I was three years old. My father then kicked me out and left me to get along anyway I could."

DIED AS PAUPER; WAS RICH.

Man Killed at Wabash Owned Valuable Property in Illinois.

Wabash, Ind., Oct. 28.—As a result of a relative in Hoopston, Ill., reading a newspaper account of the death of a man known in Wabash for three years as Joseph Fritz, the body of the man has been exhumed and taken to Illinois, where it will be buried. It has been learned, since the man was killed, his name is John Fetch, and that while it was believed here that he was penniless, he owned property worth not less than $15,000 in Illinois. Fetch always declined to discuss his life and during the three years he spent in Wabash county as a laborer he was never induced to tell from whence he came.

According to the story told by his brother who came here and claimed the body, Fetch made a bad investment in stock in Illinois four years ago and lost heavily. As the result of constant brooding over the affair Fetch became unbalanced and his family had a guardian appointed. This so angered the man that he left Illinois and although his relatives kept up an untiring search for him they were never able to find him.

A simple home treatment which we are placing before the public will bring you the relief and comfort you desire. Stop spending money with dentists who do not help you. Don't waste your money on drug store remedies that are invariably, as you know, disappointing.

Write to us today and learn more about this painless, speedy, inexpensive remedy that you can use at home, so there will be no further need for you to undergo the long, painful or expensive dental treatment. Bridges, Crowns and False Teeth are unimportant and rarely satisfactory, and through this treatment of the causes of bad and sensitive teeth, gum disease and foul breath they should be unnecessary. If you are suffering with Pyorrhea or Riggs Disease, gingivitis, receding gums, elongated or loose teeth, soft, discolored or spongy gums; if your breath is foul; if your teeth pain while eating; if you are subject to bad tastes—then, for your own sake, send for Dr. Willard's book and learn how easy his method is—how painless and speedy—how this simple remedy quickly and permanently gives sound, healthy teeth.

Just sit down now and write us for this free book. A few minutes will convince you that Dr. Willard's common sense, simple Home Remedy is what you are looking for. Don't wait. There is no pain connected with it. We have received scores of letters from people saying they would have given hundreds of dollars had they known of Dr. Willard's Home Treatment in time. BRING A RECORD PRICE.

Range Cattle Off the Grass Sell for $157.20 Head at Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Range cattle "off the grass," that is, cattle that never have eaten grain, were sold for $157.20 a head at the Union stock yards yesterday, a record price for the Chicago market.

"It is easy to understand why beef is high when cattle bring such prices as this," said Melville E. Horn, statistician of the Union stock yards. "One dealer from Montana sold eighteen choice grass fed steers averaging 1,672 pounds each for $10 a hundred, or $167.25 a head. His entire consignment of 735 head of cattle brought $11,000, or an average of $110 a head, and not one of them had ever eaten grain."

PARIS NOW LIKE ENDLESS SUNDAY

French Keeping Remarkably Calm Awaiting War's Outcome.

Paris, Oct. 28.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—If there were no newspapers talking of the great battles being waged about fifty miles north of Paris, and if there were a little more life to be seen on the boulevards, no one would realize that the nation was at war. There is no excitement, and little anxiety is discernible in the faces one sees on the streets. Those who have always thought of the French people as excitable, would be surprised to see how calmly and resignedly they await the fate of the nation. Without the habitual roar of traffic, Paris has assumed the aspect of a prolonged Sunday.

Since the enactment of the ordinance prohibiting the crying of newspapers, one sees the news vendors silently holding forth their wares. All have small headlines; large ones have been outlawed.

It is only the government automobiles, with their horns and unmuffled exhausts, filled usually with officers and soldiers, which one has to avoid while crossing the streets, as all civilian vehicles go at limited speed, a new and pleasing arrangement for Paris.

It is impossible to go far outside the gates of the metropolis without meeting companies of soldiers. Sentries are stationed at every cross-road, little bridge, railroad switch and station. To relieve the monotony of duty they take pleasure in challenging the casual passer-by. If he has his identification papers all in order, they plead for news, tobacco and a moment's conversation.

"Singing soldiers" is what the French infantrymen have become. Along the dusty country road may be seen small detachments, marching about without any notion of where they are going, or what small part in the big drama they are playing. Some cheerful spirits always start the regiment marching song to make the long, steep hill seem less steep and the tireless march less disagreeable.

"One hundred and fifty thousand Germans buried under the rocks of the Aisne quarries" and "thirty thousand," "forty thousand" and from there up to "a hundred and thirty thousand prisoners," such are the stories circulating in Paris from day to day, added to many others equally startling during the days that preceded, and which will no doubt be followed by others even more sensational, as long as the censor keeps the public hungering for authentic news.

One effect of so many false rumors is to make the truth sometimes suspected. On the other hand they throw so much uncertainty about news in general as to make serious newspaper men occasionally doubt as to the handling of some reports that in normal times would be dismissed summarily.

Recently an authenticated report, through a reliable agency, came from Antwerp concerning the death of Prince Adalbert from a German bullet wound. Though the name of a prominent Brussels surgeon was given in connection with the names of two German surgeons who aided him in forming an autopsy on the Prussian prince, Paris papers hesitated to handle it; as to the American correspondents, they are still uncertain whether the story got past the censor.

BOARD REFUSES CLEMENCY.

Harley Beard Must Die in Electric Chair at Columbus.

Columbus, O., Oct. 28.—Harley Beard, 29 years old, murderer of three members of the Mussey family, will die in the electric chair here December 4 for his crime committed last spring on a farm near Ironton, O. The state board of pardons today refused to recommend clemency and it was said Gov. Cox would not interfere with execution of the death sentence.

Young Beard was a hired hand on the Mussey farm. He fled after the crime and was captured at the home of his sister in Chicago.

An Exhibition of New Style Packard and Bond Pianos and Player-Pianos

Advance styles for 1915 are now on display in our Annual Fall Piano Show. Our exhibition this year is worthy of a visit of inspection by every one—piano owners as well as piano buyers. Every Fort Wayne citizen will appreciate this exhibition as showing the variety and excellence of the product of one of the oldest and most famous of its industries.

The display contains the latest Grands, Player-Pianos and Uprights and will show you why Packard Pianos are famous in the musical circles throughout the entire country—why we are proud of them, why the men who make them are proud of them, and why people who own Packards are proud of them.

Come and see and listen. You will be courteously received and we will take your calls as an indication that you are personally interested in our welfare and success.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

GAME OF CHECKERS IN COURT.

Columbia City Black-Draught Champ Provokes a Citizen.

Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 28.—One of the latest cases in justice court, and one of the queerest that has occurred in a long time, is a case of provoke preferred by Hamlin F. Keeney, of West Jackson street, well known lumber buyer, against Jerry Egoft, old soldier of North Main street, both of them astute checker players, and they were in the John Feist and Jim Colchin barber shop when war broke out. Egoft has worn the belt for many months as a lucky player, but his luck failed him Monday afternoon when he buckled up against Isaac M. Swigart, and the latter set a trap for the aged champion. He fell in it like it was intended, and the roar of laughter that went up, put the old war horse ablaze with indignation. Keeney, who was not in the game, got the brunt of the wrath, and asserts that he was called a descendant of a certain breed of quadrupeds. In fact he declared that his pedigree and biography were described in language as lurid as the European war, and that he never betted an eye. Keeney filed an affidavit for provoke after a visit to the prosecutor.

CLUBBED NEW HUSBAND AWAY.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Ross Welder, of Mottone, has filed in the circuit court here a suit for divorce from her husband, William E. Welder, to whom she was married April 24, this year, and with whom she never has lived. Within twenty-four hours after their marriage, according to a story told by Welder, he went to their home and his new wife attacked him with a poker and drove him away and he never tried to go back. In her complaint Mrs. Welder says her husband was afflicted with a loathsome and terrible disease, of which fact she was ignorant until after their marriage, when she refused to allow him to come to the home of her mother when they were staying in Mottone. Little more than a year ago Mrs. Welder was attacked by a man named Walton, who hit her over the head with an ax and then killed himself with a rifle.

BORN THERE 78 YEARS AGO.

Goshen, Ind., Oct. 28.—Eli Cripe, born in Elkhart county seventy-eight years ago and believed to be at the time of his death the oldest native of this county, was buried here today. He was stricken with apoplexy while working in his garden last July and had been bedfast ever since. His wife is ill and her husband's death caused her life to be despaired of. Mr. Cripe was born December 18, 1835, on a farm south of Goshen which included the tract of land now the site of Goshen college. Later he owned what is now the Calvin Huber farm west of Goshen and about four years ago moved to the farm in Elkhart township in which he died. Besides his wife four daughters and three sons survive him.

NEW PRIEST FOR BLUFFTON.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 28.—Members of the congregation of the St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church have been notified of a change in the pastors of the Bluffton congregation.

Father Welsh, of Montpelier, who has been in charge of the Bluffton church, has been transferred to Arcola and Father John Beidermann, of Sheldon, who formerly had charge of the Bluffton congregation, in addition to his Sheldon charge, has resumed the pastorate of the Bluffton church for the time being. The Montpelier church will be under the charge of Father Keller, of Hartford City.

NO TRACE OF ESCAPED LUNATIC.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 28.—Relatives of Chauncey Fluke, the insane man who escaped from the Easthaven asylum, at Richmond, last Friday night, are much worried over his continued absence. Sheriff Johnston today telephoned to Richmond and learned that the authorities at the asylum have heard nothing from Fluke and have had no trace of him since the night of his escape, and relatives have heard nothing from him. As one of his manias was self-destruction he may have drowned himself or otherwise destroyed his life.

INCENDIARIES FIRE SCHOOL.

Van Wert, Ohio, Oct. 28.—Incendiaries whose identity is not known, tried to destroy the East Ridge school house, a short distance east of this city, by setting it on fire. People in the vicinity noticed a bright light in the building and found upon investigation that it was ablaze. When discovered the fire had completely enveloped the teacher's desk and was rapidly spreading to other parts of the room. A lighted lamp had been placed on the floor in the rear of the school room, presumably for the purpose of causing an explosion when the flames had reached it. The reason for the incendiarism is not known.

ALMOST DEAD FROM GAS.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 28.—John Sark, the proprietor of the Rex theater, was overcome by gas from a hard coal stove this morning and for a time was in a very serious condition. Mr. Sark had awakened from sleep feeling badly and was soon almost lifeless and suffering great pain. A physician was at once called and found him suffering from symptoms of asphyxiation.

LILACS BLOOM AS SNOW FALLS.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 28.—Lilacs in bloom with snow fall was a contrast to be seen in Kendallville Monday. The lilac was in the yard of the W. C. Lane home. It bloomed in the spring, but evidently got tired of waiting another whole year, and a few days ago budded out again. Monday it was covered with blossoms and at the same time Kendallville was getting its first snow of the season.

BED HEATER STARTS BLAZE.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 28.—The real danger of a house fire is at night when the owner is asleep. A fire broke out in a house in Hartford City last night, and the fire department was called.

LIUTENANT WINS A COVETED HONOR

First of Rank in German Army to Receive It Since 1866.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 28.—Snow of the past seventy-five winters did not compare in size of flakes with the first fall of the winter, according to Uncle George Dutro. "Never in all my life," said Mr. Dutro today, "have I seen flakes of snow as large as those that fell yesterday. Some of them were as big and bigger than a half dollar. The seventy-five winters that I can remember have never produced flakes of the beautiful white near so large."

HUNTINGTON LAD MISSING.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 28.—Howard Randal, aged fifteen, son of Mrs. Lena B. Randal, of this city, has fulfilled an oft-repeated threat by running away from home and the police are trying to get trace of him. He told his mother yesterday he was going to run away, but she got his promise to go to school. At noon he returned, packed up some clothing and left and no trace of him has been gained.

LIUTENANT WINS A COVETED HONOR

First of Rank in German Army to Receive It Since 1866.

The Hague, Oct. 28.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Not since 1869 has the decoration known as "Pour le Merit" been given a lieutenant in the German army. For this reason the bestowal of this order upon Lieutenant Otto von der Line, serving in the Fifth guard regiment, is of interest. He was awarded this very high and coveted distinction because on August 24, with four men he took Fort Malonne at Namur before it had been subjected to artillery fire. How Lieutenant von der Line accomplished this has been described by him in a letter to his parents: "I was ordered to advance against the fort with 500 men, our course lying across an open field without cover," he said. "Everywhere loopholes stared at us, and I expected that if we were not annihilated from them, the many mines about the fort would take care of us. Many officers had volunteered for the task of attacking the fort, but I was picked out to do it. "Arrived near the fort I took four of my men and approached in goose march, picking our way carefully through the field of mines. The drawbridge was up, and the broad moat filled with water made it impossible for us to get into the fort. "We soon saw the commandant, and I shouted to him that I had a whole regiment of artillery in a nearby forest and that the bombardment would commence within a minute in case he did not surrender. After that the commandant ordered the drawbridge down and we entered. "I then ordered the garrison of the fort before me. Every man was searched and disarmed. All arms had to be left in the fort. I ordered. All this was done with my four men ready to shoot. We took five officers and twenty men prisoners, while another 400 had already taken to their heels, as I learned afterwards. "This done I ordered my detachment to come to the fort. You should have seen the faces of the officers and men when they saw my force. Then the

Belgian flag was hauled down, and one of my men made a German flag from a Belgian pair of black pants, a white shirt, and a red French sash. This we hoisted. Meanwhile we had inspected the wine cellar and so were able to celebrate our victory with a few bottles of champagne. The corks popped wonderfully. "The fort had not been bombarded and I held it until I was relieved for other work. We took four heavy 21-centimeter guns, a large number of small calibre pieces, about 100 rifles and revolvers, 500 hand grenades and several thousand rounds of rifle ammunition."

HAIR STOPS FALLING, DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS--25 CENT DANDERINE

Have your hair! Make it soft, fluffy, lustrous and beautiful. Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see now hair, fine and downy at first--yes--but really new hair growing all over the scalp. Danderine immediately stops the falling of your hair. No matter how bad, loose, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing--your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health. Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any--that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment. Danderine is the only hair restorer that will stop the falling of your hair. HIS SHIP WAS IN PERIL OF MINES

August Bruder Talks of the Homeward Trip from Germany.

August Bruder, the well-known jeweler, arrived in Fort Wayne Wednesday morning at 10:10 o'clock over the Pennsylvania railroad from New York, where he landed two days ago. Scores of friends have been pouring into his store since his return to welcome him home. Mr. Bruder sailed on May 15 for Germany where he intended to spend his vacation at Waldkirch, Baden, his birthplace. Ever since the beginning of hostilities in Europe he had tried to get passage for the United States but did not meet with success until October 15, when he set sail from Rotterdam, Holland, on the steamer Rotterdam. The vessel reached New York on October 26 and Mr. Bruder came directly to Fort Wayne.

Mr. Bruder says that the passengers of the "Rotterdam" were in fear that their ship would strike a mine while passing through the English channel, which he declares is full of them, but fortunately they passed out into the open sea without any mishap, save being held up by British cruisers, which have complete control of the channel. After striking the open ocean the voyage was uneventful until the landing at New York. The local jeweler declares that he and his fellow passengers were overjoyed when the Statue of Liberty came up in the distance.

Mr. Bruder says that Germany is afire with patriotism and that all the young men are wild to go to the front. He declares that the Germans will conquer or die in the attempt. Germany, according to his statement, has a food supply that will last for two years or more.

In 1913 Sicily gathered 755,700 tons of grapes.

Cadessia Grotto Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets to Be Started.

Dr. C. L. Baird, monarch of Cadessia grotto, Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted realm, a fraternal-social organization composed of master Masons, recently established here, was notified by wire Wednesday that the local grotto would be instituted Saturday night by Grand Venerable Prophet Herold M. Harter, of Toledo, who will come here for that purpose.

The ceremony of institution will be held in the lodge room of Harmony lodge, I. O. O. F., in the Harmony block, West Berry street. It is expected that from sixty to seventy charter members will take the obligation of prophets at the institution of Cadessia grotto. Applications for membership are being received every day.

An informal luncheon will follow the institution of Cadessia grotto. Several members of the Fort Wayne grotto will visit Toledo Friday, November 13, to witness a grand ceremonial at the initiation of a class of about four hundred into O. T. U. in a grotto of that city. Cadessia grotto is planning another social event for the near future.

HUSBAND DID NOT WASTE ANY TIME

Wife Says He Threatened to Kill Her Day After the Wedding.

According to a divorce complaint filed in the superior court by Dorothy B. Sanders against Charles Sanders, friend husband did not lose any time asserting his lordship and mastery. Mrs. Sanders says that the day following the holy ceremony that made them one Mr. Sanders threatened to kill her, applied to her vile epithets so foul that she refuses to detail her complaint with repetition of them and subjected her to foul and false accusations. This course of treatment she says has been continued nearly all the time since Charles opened the proceedings immediately following the nuptial night, abusing and maltreating her, being all her married life forced to listen to vile accusations continually hurled at her. Frequently, she says, he has assaulted and beaten her, performing in that violent fashion the 24th of this month. The husband is charged with spending most of his earnings for drink. Because her husband threatened if she began suit for divorce to kill her and fearing he will keep his word, the plaintiff secured an order of court restraining him from molesting her.

Notes of the Courts.

The superior court has granted a divorce to Clara Lopes from Samuel Lopes and restore her maiden name of Kelly. Richard M. Kaough, as the Fort Wayne Vulcanizing works, has brought suit in the circuit court against George Koozitz and Louis Ohlhaus to foreclose a mechanic's lien, demanding $100.

The suit of Peter Cusma vs. the Bass Foundry & Machine works for $5,000 damages has been dismissed from the circuit court.

In the superior court title to real estate has been quieted in the plaintiff in the case of John D. Lamb vs. John Brandegee.

The case of Joseph Majors vs. Charles Putnam has been dismissed from the circuit court.

The last will and testament of the late Sarana Arlin has been filed for probate. Her property, real and personal, is left to her sons, one of whom is designated as executor.

Sues for $2,500 Damages.

Louis F. Ormiston has begun action in the circuit court against Joseph F. Zurbaugh, proprietor of a coal yard, for $2,500 damages, alleging that on February 7, 1914, while in the employ of the defendant, he was given to drive in the delivery of a load of coal a vicious horse and that the horse had no "jaw breaker" attachment such as is necessary in restraining a runaway animal. At the corner of Taylor and Oakley streets the horse while running away turned so sharply as to throw him out causing him to receive some broken ribs, a fractured arm and other injuries.

Young Thieves Sentenced.

Thomas Brunner, 23, and Martin Schram, 18, pleaded guilty in the circuit court to stealing a bicycle belonging to Wilford Lucas and were sentenced to pay $1 fine and costs each, to which was added sixty days in jail for Brunner and ninety days for Schram. These two, with one other lad, had stolen half a dozen or more bicycles.

NEW HAVEN ROAD COMPLETED.

Brooks Company Has Finished Concrete Work on Lincoln Highway.

The Brooks Construction company has practically completed the concrete work on the New Haven road running from the Fort Wayne city limits to the city limits of New Haven. Considerable work remains to be done in constructing the berms, but the roadbed is complete. The road from the end of Maumee avenue to the Four Mile house has been completed for some time and has been in commission several days. The part just completed will be kept closed for

TRIES HAND AT KEY ONCE MORE

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 28.—It developed today that Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, who has been visiting scenes of his boyhood in this section of the state for the last week, cast off the mantle of his years yesterday and on a trip to Port Huron, once more tried his hand at the operator's key and even went so far as to take the wares from a news butcher and sell them among his friends. As a boy Mr. Edison sold papers and worked as an operator for the same railroad over which he traveled to Port Huron yesterday.

As the inventor passed through Mt. Clemens he stepped into the telegraph office and tapped off a message to his children in New Jersey. The message was interrupted, however. The Mt. Clemens operator turned to Mr. Edison with a smile, and said: "An operator on the line is complaining. He says there is a boy on the wire who is practicing gumming things up." It was not reported what the complaining operator said when he was told that Thomas A. Edison had caused the trouble.

COLONEL CALLS AGAIN.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Col. George Harvey called upon President Wilson at the white house today for the second time within a month. With Fred Lynch, democratic national committeeman from Minnesota, he discussed the political situation and told the president that in his opinion the outlook for democratic victory was excellent.

MUST KEEP STREET OPEN.

The board of works today advised the Indiana Engineering & Construction company and the Aggeling Construction company, which two concerns have the contracts for constructing the new bridge and relocating the grade of the thoroughfare at the Main street subway of the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad, that on no account must they permit operations to close Main street to traffic. The board insists that the thoroughfare to Lindenwood cemetery must be kept open.

Here Is Good News For Old Rheumatic Sufferers A Remedy That Ft. Wayne Citizens Recommend

A remedy that has been tested and recommended in your own city. Hundreds of cases have been cured and you won't doubt it because we always give their name and address. Mr. Ernest Kayser is the next citizen to testify for Miller's True Herb Remedy. He says: "I had rheumatism, lumbago and kidney trouble. It was difficult for me to walk or even turn myself in bed. I used a half bottle of Miller's True Herb Remedy and my pain was all gone. This remedy was recommended to me to be good, but I did not expect so much relief from only one small bottle. I have been employed at the Electric works on Broadway for many years and my address is 810 Wilt street, Fort Wayne, Ind., and I would heartily recommend this good medicine to anyone afflicted with rheumatism, lumbago or kidney trouble."

HOLDS HUNTRESS RECORD.

Miss Elsie Booth, eighteen, is California's youngest Diana, having recently bagged two deer, a ninety-pound spike and a two-pound forked-horn, each killed with a single shot at eighty and 150 yards, respectively, on the range of the Sportsmen's club on the coast above San Francisco. She has frequently visited the club's preserve, and usually bags some game every season. Although prominent socially, Miss Booth prefers the open air and a ride to the drawing room.

NOSE CLOGGED UP FROM COLD OR CATARRH OPENED AT ONCE

Instantly Clears Air Passages; You Breathe Freely; Dull Headache Goes; Nasty Catarrhal Discharge Stops.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."
Get a small bottle anyway, just try it—Apply a little in the nostril and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.
End such misery now! Get a small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh—a cold, with its running nose, foul mucus dripping into the throat, and a dryness is distressing but truly endless.
Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.—Adv.

Canned Partners
for This Wedding Anniversary

Chicago, Oct. 28.—When Isabel Irving gave a dinner party recently to celebrate the fifteenth anniversary of her wedding, most of the "merry persiflage" heard at the dinner table was from her husband, W. H. Thompson. He was in New York and she was in Chicago. The same evening Thompson was listening to some of his wife's best stories at an anniversary dinner given in New York.

This is the way they arranged it. Some time ago the actor spoke his best stories into a phonograph and sent them to Chicago. Miss Irving "canned" a few stories and sent them to New York. Each had a phonograph for a partner at their anniversary dinners.

LIVE SNAKES IN CHURCH SERVICE

Tennessee "Holy Rollers"
Pass Serpents from
Hand to Hand.

Cleveland, Tenn., Oct. 28.—Venomous snakes are playing a sensational part in the church ritual of the "Holy Rollers" of this vicinity. The true believers, attending the "Church of God," in South Cleveland, are passing rattlers and copperheads about from hand to hand, amid fervid tempestuous praying, and though many are bitten, none suffer death or pain. So they assert at least.
"Why do you use snakes in meeting?" a reporter asked Tom McLain, one of the founders of the church.
McLain quoted Mark xvi: 18: "And these signs shall follow them that believe; in my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues;
"They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing; it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover."
"Sinners began throwing snakes into the middle of church meeting and quoting that verse, to scoff at us," McLain went on. "So we picked up the snakes, and suffered them to bite us, that we might cast confusion upon the sinners."

Tom McLain, and Finley Goodwin, a recent convert, are among those who exhibited badly swollen arms, the result of rattler bites. They maintain that the bites have caused them not the slightest pain.

The church members also claim that by praying altogether "solid" for five minutes, they can cure one of their number of any trouble from toothache to consumption.

SHE WAS NOT HIS "LOST WIFE."
Chicago Man Who Embraced Mrs. Gandler Encounters Arrest.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—A stranger had entered the delicatessen store of Isidor Gandler. Mrs. Gandler advanced to wait upon him. He raised his eyes to her, and with a cry of joy cast his arms about her waist and covered her face with kisses. "Mary, my wife!" he cried, "at last I have found you!"
Indignantly struggling in his arms, Mrs. Gandler pushed him away. "I'm not your wife, I don't know you!" she exclaimed, and called her husband.
"Why, Mary, you are my wife. Don't you remember me?" pleaded the stranger.
"She's not your wife!" interposed Gandler, now at the telephone calling the police.
"She is, too, I know my own wife—yes, and there's my baby!" the man shouted excitedly, as he caught sight of little Walter Gandler in the back room. "He was led away to the police station, sadly dejected. He gave his name as William Miller, traveling man, and explained that Mrs. Gandler was the living image of his lost wife, while the baby startlingly resembled his own child. The judge released him, and William Miller departed gloomily.

WOMAN WINS REPUTATION.
Shares Her Last Crust of Bread with Mr. Rockefeller.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Oct. 21.—A kind lady of this place has just won a great reputation for generosity by sharing her last crust of bread with a needy neighbor, a certain John D. Rockefeller. Rockefeller is said to be owner of an estate at Pocantico Hills. The kind lady is Miss Anna Bussing, proprietor of a delightful little tea room here, where home made bread is for sale. Rockefeller motored down to Miss Bussing's tea room the other day, and sent his chauffeur in to purchase a loaf of bread. Miss Bussing regretfully made known the fact that all her bread had been sold, except half a loaf. But with exemplary generosity, she shared her half loaf with Rockefeller, who accepted part of it, and paid the price of an entire loaf.

The Mormon church was organized at Manchester, N. Y., by Joseph Smith, in 1830.

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE

If you meet a snake and haven't a gun, or if the fire-arm is antiquated and uncertain; or if the gun is all right and you have no ammunition or poor cartridges, you will be in a bad fix.

Less dangerous but equally provoking is your predicament when you see good game under the same circumstances.

TIDE OF COMBAT STILL SWAYS BACK AND FORTH

London, Oct. 28.—(10:15 a. m.)—The battle which all the world is watching to be growing. Not only have both Italy and Greece announced their intention of protecting their interests in this territory by force of arms, but the Turks are said to be active in a campaign to send troops and proclaim Albania a part of the Ottoman empire.

England Gets a Shock. Aside from these political outcroppings of the great war, England received a shock in the news that a steamer, the Manchester Commerce, had been sunk off the coast of Ireland by a German mine. Up to the present time all such disasters have been confined to the eastern coast. The region where the vessel was struck is on the direct route of the great Atlantic liners from Liverpool and the Clyde line steamers from New York and Canadian ports. The inference is that the Germans, by penetrating this area, hoped to reach the transports bearing Canadian troops to the British Isles.

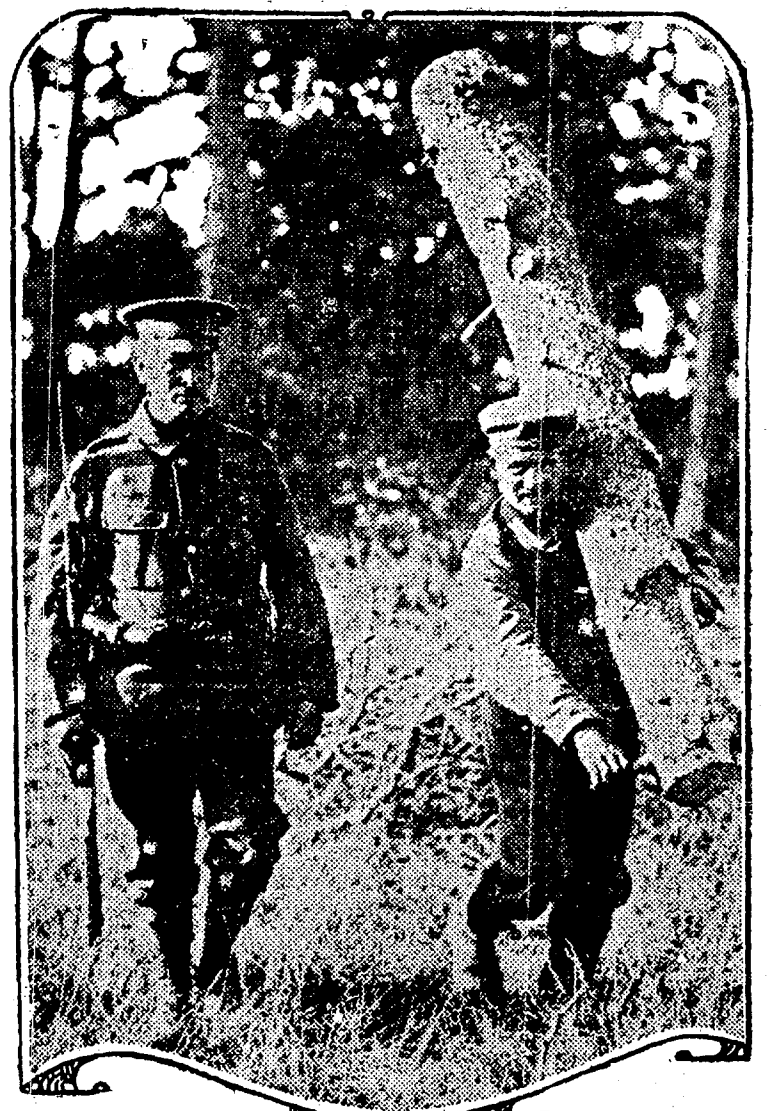

Of the battle on the Yser London has heard little news this morning. The German rush to reach the French coast would appear for the time being held in check, but the fiercest fighting continues with the Germans delivering harder blows on the line between Dixmude and Ypres, following their failure to make progress between Dixmude and the coast.

British naval guns, it is said, have resumed their bombardment along the coast, and colossal German losses are reported. The Belgians, London newspapers admit, have suffered terribly, but of the losses of the French and the English no mention is made.

While the Germans are making their supreme effort in Flanders, the allies have been quick to press the advantages offered at other points on the line by the removal of German troops to the German right wing. This probably accounts for the progress claimed by the allies near Soissons. At Berry-au-Bac in the center, and to the east of Nancy, where the Germans, according to the French official announcement, have been driven across the frontier. From all these points it is understood the Germans took men and flung them into Belgium.

The crown prince of Bavaria is said now to be in command of the German forces on the Ypres and it is reported has been wounded. The weather promises soon to play an important part in the campaign in the eastern arena of the war. The rigorous Russian winter is said already to have set in between Moscow and Warsaw, and snow covers the ground near Minsk. The Russians aver that they are following up relentlessly the repulse of the Germans from Warsaw. Their cavalry is pushing rapidly westward from Lodz, which has been occupied by them and threatening the German lines of communication. The Germans, it is further contended, are having difficulty in maintaining their prepared defensive lines around Rdaom, to the south of Warsaw.

PLANT LIFE FIBER

What is it? Here is the answer. The latest scientific method of growing bulbs without earth. A fine fertilized fiber properly mixed so as to give every possible nourishment to the plant that it may need to insure quicker growing and larger flower. No earth required. Just place the bulb in the fiber in a non-porous vase. Keep fiber well moistened and a surprising fast growth will follow. Full directions on "How to Use and Apply Plant Life" given on request. Fall bulbs are now ready.

LIQUOR-CRAZED FATHER SLAYS

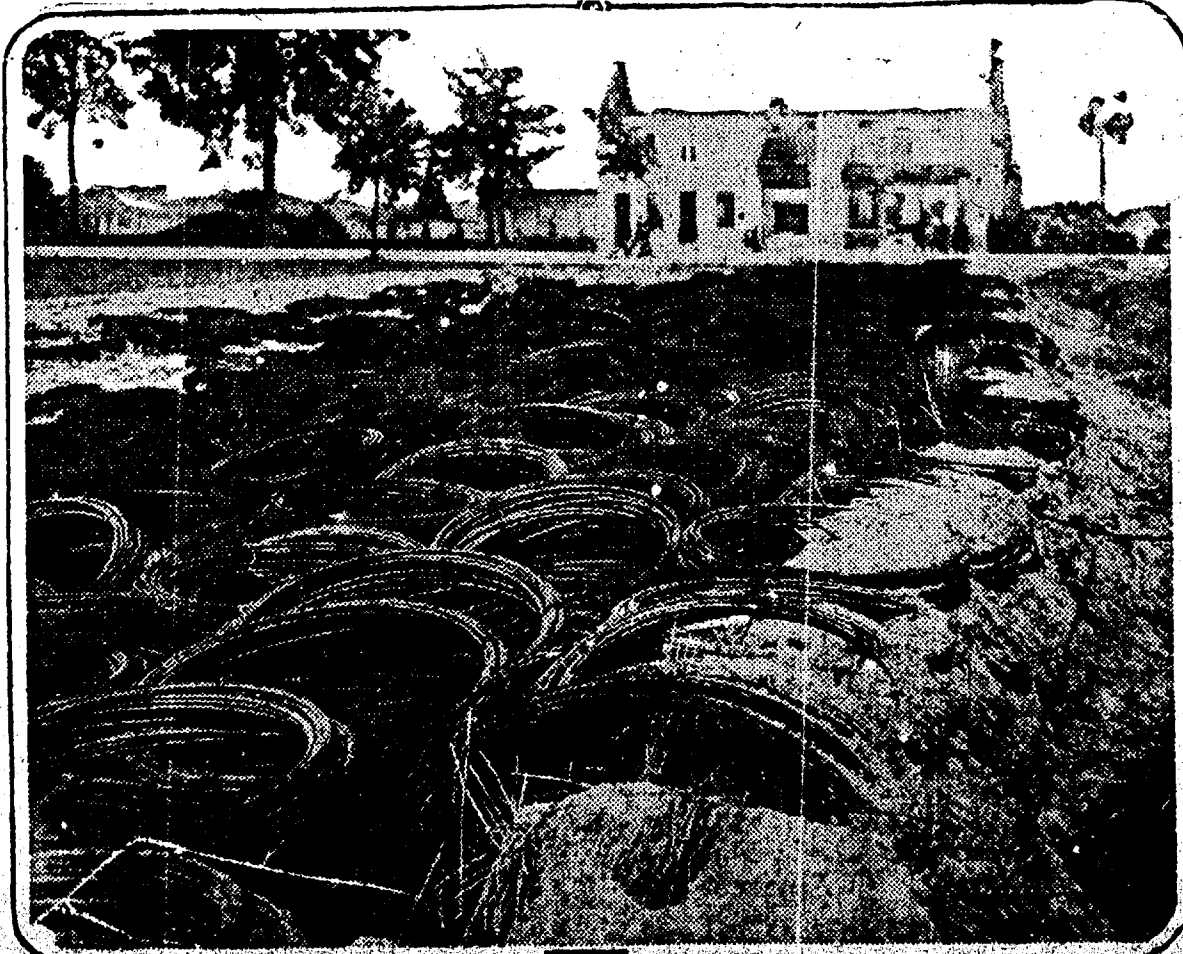

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 28.—Crazed by liquor W. W. Stromberg today shot and killed his three children and wounded himself and wife. Mrs. Stromberg's hand was shot off. Stromberg, who is proprietor of one of the largest confectionery stores here, will die.

Neighbors early today heard Stromberg and his wife quarreling. Stromberg, it was learned later, then left the house, procured an automatic shotgun and returned. He leveled the weapon at his wife, but she grasped it and the discharge carried away her hand. Her condition is serious.

The infuriated man then turned the gun on his children, who were killed instantly, and then shot himself.

BATTLE AREA A SHAMBLES

FOES NEITHER ASK NOR GIVE QUARTER

London, Oct. 28.—(1:32 p. m.)—The "bloody massacre," as it is described by those on the spot among the sand dunes and the canals of Flanders, shows as yet but few signs of slackening. The valor of the German attack has been persistently counteracted by equal valor from the sturdy ranks before them. Apparently no quarter is being asked or given in this battle on the western front and the land over which it is being waged resembles a shambles.

Twelve times together the Germans have crossed and recrossed the Yser. Each time they succeeded in gaining the left bank they found themselves in a death trap commanded by the guns of the defenders, immovably entrenched behind the railroad embankment running more or less parallel to the Yser and completely barring their progress.

Some German forces, according to the latest reports in London, succeeded in finding shelter enough among the sand dunes to enable them to retain a footing between the Yser and the railroad running from Dixmude to Nieuport, but this number up to the present time has been insufficient to dislodge the allies.

German reinforcements are still rolling up, and the efforts to break through the line show no sign of cessation. Nor is it expected that they will until the expected mass of men reach the limit of their endurance.

It is impossible for observers in London to deduce from the German official communications the German opinion of events in this arena of the war. From the point of view of the allies, the French announcements of continued progress between Ypres and Dixmude are commented upon as foreshadowing the possible retreat of the rear of the German forces nearest the coast.

Another piece of favorable news, still from the standpoint of the allies, comes from the Argonne and the region of the barrier fortresses. This reports French penetration of territory hitherto held by the invaders and is taken to indicate the possibility that the Germans have been so weakened by rushing forces to support the operations on the coast that the French right wing has been afforded an opening for a profitable offensive movement which may have an echo on the seaboard.

The opinion is expressed widely by British military observers that the present clash, as was the case in a number of previous battles of the campaign, fade away into another phase without some result which will thwart or give marked success to one side or to the other. If the Germans are sending fresh masses of men to the fighting zone, the allies probably are equating their opponents numerically with reinforcements. There are still many thousands of French and British troops who have not yet been in action.

FRENCH LOSSES VERY HEAVY.

Forty Thousand Fall Is Report Which Reaches Berlin.

Berlin, Oct. 28.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—Swiss newspapers report that since the capture by the Germans of (Camp des Romains) the French losses in the battle line between Toul and Verdun have been more than 40,000 men.

The French officers, according to statements in these newspapers, complain of the inferior quality of the new French troops.

Austro-German official reports from the eastern theater of war indicate that severe battles are raging along the Vistula and San rivers. The Germans apparently are engaging numerically superior Russian forces and the battle is attracting equal attention with the struggle in France and Belgium.

Further Russian corps, whose crossing of the Vistula river north of Ivanogorod has been mentioned in the earlier German reports, seem, according to Maj. Morant, military correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt, to be directed against the German army. The military expert of the Lokal Anzeiger points out that the Russians with the Vistula in their rear would be in a bad position if they received a check. The situation in Galicia, the writer says, is unchanged.

Other press matter given out today in Berlin says: "Emperor William has bestowed upon the king of Bavaria and the king of Württemberg the decoration of the iron cross in recognition of the bravery of their troops."

"Three hundred prominent Russians have published in the Moscow paper a manifesto setting forth the Russian troops should not commit atrocities, thereby admitting atrocities have been committed by the Russians in East Prussia."

"Reports received here from Vienna declare that the English press news to the effect that the health of the Austrian emperor is unfavorable is without foundation. The emperor grants audiences daily."

FRENCH CLAIM PROGRESS.

German Attacks Less Violent, Says French Official Statement.

Paris, Oct. 28.—(2:45 p. m.)—The French official announcement issued this afternoon says that yesterday the German attacks between Nieuport and Arras were less violent. The French positions everywhere were maintained and French forces continued to advance to the north and to the east of Ypres.

The text of the communication follows: "During the day of yesterday, the German attack in all the region between Nieuport and Arras were less violent. Our positions were everywhere maintained, and we continued to advance to the north and to the east of Ypres. We

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 28.—The concluding arguments in the government suit to dissolve the United States Steel corporation were begun today in the United States court, John G. Johnson, of Philadelphia, summing up for the defendant and Jacob M. Dickinson speaking in rebuttal for the government. It was the seventh day of the arguments.

Mr. Johnson opened with the declaration that the enormous record in the case shows the weight of evidence is all against the government. The prosecution has picked here and there something it thought was suspicious, ignoring the great mass of evidence given under the solemnity of an oath, which shows the true state of affairs in the steel industry. Mr. Johnson said the government sought to attack E. H. Gary, but the testimony in the case is a lasting monument to him.

FORECLOSURE SUIT FILED.

C. H. & D. Receivers Made Party to Indiana Road Action.

Cincinnati, Oct. 28.—The Central Trust company of New York and August Mason of New York filed a foreclosure suit in the United States court today in which Rufus B. Smith and Judson Harmon, receivers for the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad, are made a party. The suit charges that interest to the amount of $78,650 due July 1 on bonds issued by the Indiana, Decatur & Western Railway company is unpaid. The road, it is alleged, is a subsidiary of the C. H. & D.

ALFONSO IS JOYFUL.

Sends Wilson Message Telling of Birth of Prince.

Washington, Oct. 28.—President Wilson today received a personal message from King Alfonso, of Spain, announcing the birth of the prince.

GIVE THANKS, SAYS WILSON

President Issues Annual Thanksgiving Day Proclamation.

U. S. AT PEACE, OTHERS AT WAR

Fact Equips Americans to Serve Themselves and Mankind.

Washington, Oct. 28.—President Wilson today issued a proclamation designating Thursday, November 26th, as Thanksgiving day. The president's proclamation, which refers to the fact that the United States is at peace while the rest of the world is at war, follows:

"It has long been the honored custom of our people to turn in the fruitful autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. The year that is now drawing to a close, since we last observed our day of national thanksgiving, has been, while a year of discipline because of the mighty forces of war and of change which have disturbed the world, also a year of special blessing for us."

"It has been vouchsafed to us to remain at peace with honor, and in some part to succor the suffering and supply the needs of those who are in want. We have been privileged by our own peace and self-control in some degree to steady the counsels and shape the hopes and purposes of a day of fear and distress. Our people have looked upon their own life as a nation with a deeper comprehension, a fuller realization of their responsibilities, as well as their blessings, and a keener sense of the moral and practical significance of their position."

FATHER OF LARGEST OKLAHOMA FAMILY DIES.

Grove, Okla., Oct. 28.—George W. Fields, father of the largest family in Oklahoma, died at his home near here today. He was 78 years old and the father of 28 children and a civil war veteran.

FORT WAYNE MAN SPEAKS TONIGHT

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 28.—Progress made in vocational education in Indiana since the enactment of the law by the legislature of 1913 was to be discussed at conferences in the state house this afternoon and tonight. The conferences mark the beginning of the annual meeting of the Indiana State Teachers' association which opens here tomorrow.

Dr. W. F. Book, state director of vocational education, will speak of the achievements in the state as a whole and there will be discussions by local directors. Mrs. Samuel M. Rulston, wife of the governor, will talk this afternoon on the "home makers problem." The speakers tonight will be Eugene Graham, Evansville; J. T. Giles, Richmond; H. M. Appleman, South Bend; Walter E. Gordon, Fort Wayne; Milo H. Stuart, Indianapolis; C. C. Coleman, Brazil; B. F. Moore, Muncie, and N. F. Fultz, Anderson.

PLEADS GUILTY; GETS SENTENCE

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 28.—William Miller, charged with robbing Ed Broadhurst, proprietor of a hotel of $1,256 in a daring hold-up last Thursday morning, today pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny and was sentenced to one to fourteen years in the Indiana state prison at Michigan City.

It was reported Miller's alleged confederates, John Murphy, Joseph Burgo, Max Hamburg and Henry Lane, all of whom were arrested near Plainfield, in an automobile shortly after the robbery by the Indianapolis police also would plead guilty to the charge later in the week. Their trial had been set for today.

JERUSALEM NEEDS FOOD.

Inhabitants Face Starvation, Says Vice Consul Edelman.

New York, Oct. 28.—One hundred thousand inhabitants of Jerusalem are facing starvation, according to Samuel E. Edelman, vice consul in that city, who reached here today on the steamer Ancona. Two-thirds of the residents of Jerusalem are Jews, Mr. Edelman said. For many years they have depended upon their earnings from tourists and upon charity for support and the war has cut off all their sources of subsistence. There are no industries in the city and little cultivation of the surrounding territory. The cold and rainy season is now approaching and indications are that the suffering there soon will be intense, Mr. Edelman asserts.

DEFEATS UNCLE AS CORN-GROWER

Gerry Tonkel, Aged 13, Exhibits Best Lot of Grain.

Gerry Tonkel, a son of August Tonkel, of Perry township, is 13 years old and a corn raiser of some distinction as he won the sweepstakes prize in the exhibit held in connection with the Allen County Plowing association contests on the Andrew Blume farm on Tuesday.

In winning this prize he had as his strongest competitor Joseph Tonkel, an uncle and former county commissioner, and as the youngster worked hard during the season to put into practice the theories taught him by his father and the agricultural lessons learned of the experts he was the happiest boy at the show.

The lad is a real farmer and was easily the winner in the boys' class at the exhibit and the honor came to him as a reward for superintending the planting and cultivation of eighteen acres of corn.

Joseph Tonkel won the first prize for the ten best ears of yellow corn; Carl Weise, of Jefferson township, won the prize for the best ten ears of white corn, and George Tonkel won for the best exhibit of mixed corn. J. A. Thrash had the best single ear and Henry Till the best stalk of corn.

Exhibit Is Excellent. The exhibit was one of the best ever held in the county and the corn was judged by Senator George V. Kell and County Agent C. Henry. The plowing contest drew a big crowd and interest centered in the boy competitors in view of the fact that the educational department of the state is using its best efforts to teach crop betterment to the younger generation.

Judge Thomas Clark awarded the prize in the plowing match to Robert Dickson, Jr., son of John Dickson, superintendent of the farm conducted in connection with the Indiana school. He scored 94 points. Other scores were: Fred Bullerman, 77; William Gille, 74; Frank Lantz, 72; Edward Till, 71, and Ann Grell, 66.

John Dickson scored 95 points and is the champion without opposition. He was to have been pitted against John Gille winner last year.

With the general purpose plow George Morris was the winner with 90 points. Henry Drange was second with 84, and the others and their scores were as follows: Virgil Rhine, 81; Willis Rhine, 70; Pearl Ream, 73, and Charles Tonkel, 66.

Ernest Giffmeyer was the only entry in the riding plow class and he scored 64 points.

Total Loss of Life in New Horror Now Placed at Fifty.

ALL SAVE THREE ACCOUNTED FOR

Reversal of Air in Shaft Caused Most of the Fatalities.

Royalton, Ill., Oct. 28.—The death roll in the disaster at the mine of the New Franklin Coal and Coke company near here yesterday was placed at fifty at noon today, after all but three men who had entered the mine before the explosion had been accounted for.

Forty-seven bodies had been recovered at noon and it is thought that the three missing men were still in the mine. It was developed today that most of the deaths were due to the reversal of air in the shaft as soon as the explosion occurred.

Most of the rescuers who worked at the mine yesterday and last night were positive that the lower level was burning and that more than a hundred men were entombed there beyond hope of rescue. It now develops that there was no fire in the mine and that the report of flames started from the fact that several of the bodies recovered soon after the explosion were charred.

Night Shift's Work. The night shift of rescue workers brought the number of recovered bodies to 37 and reported five other bodies visible but not accessible to the rescuers. The mine officials said today that 20 miners, seven of them injured, escaped immediately following the blast and these together with the dead and missing account for the 336 men that entered the shaft yesterday morning to begin their day's work.

The night shift of rescue workers made great progress and it was thought by noon all the wreckage will have been cleared from the shaft and the positive death roll ascertained. But eleven of the dead have been identified and most of the other bodies are unaccounted for. The number of rescuers was doubled this morning.

A house to house canvass begun last night may disclose the exact number of missing men. In an effort to alleviate the hysteria which has been general

LAST-MINUTE NEWS

GERMAN WARSHIP SINKS JAP LINGER.

Berlin, Oct. 28.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—The German cruiser Emden, according to an official announcement issued today, has sunk a big Japanese liner bound for Singapore. According to the Italian newspaper, Stampa, the German cruisers Emden and Karlsruhe up to the present time have sunk 33 vessels.

BOMB FALLS IN SWISS TERRITORY.

Paris, Oct. 28.—(1:08 p. m.)—A Havana news agency dispatch from Borse, says a German aeroplane which flew over the fortress of Belfort, on Friday, and into Switzerland, dropped a bomb which fell in Swiss territory. Much irritation against Germany, it is added, was caused there by the incident.

SAYS ATTACK HAS BECOME MASSACRE.

Geneva, via Paris, Oct. 28.—Telegrams received in Basel, Switzerland, Tuesday night from Cologne and Coblenz, declare that the war on the German right flank from Lille to the North sea has become a massacre. During the last six days, it is declared, many thousands of Germans have been killed or wounded. Long trains containing wounded continue to pour into Cologne, Dusseldorf and Coblenz, and the Red Cross doctors and the hospitals in those places are overwhelmed, it is stated.

SEIZE ANOTHER AMERICAN SHIP

Washington, Oct. 28.—The American ship Kroonland, from New York bound for Naples and Greece with a cargo of copper has been detained at Gibraltar by British authorities according to a report to the state department today from American Consul Sprague.

Consul Sprague did not report the reason for the detention of the Kroonland, but as copper is listed by the British foreign office as conditional contraband, it is assumed that the British government's attitude will be similar to that in the case of another American ship which carried copper to Holland. In that case, when the Dutch government gave assurances that copper cargoes would not be re-shipped from Holland, the British government withdrew its objection. The state department has asked Mr. Sprague for a fuller report on the details attending the detention of the Kroonland and action will be deferred pending receipt of all the facts.

WILL NEED MUCH COTTON.

Ambassador Gerard Says Market Abroad Will Soon Open.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Ambassador Gerard called today that Germany would need at least 50,000 and Austria 25,000 bales of cotton a month. He had been advised of assurances by Great Britain that cargoes of cotton would not be molested when destined to belligerent countries in neutral bottoms and endeavoring to obtain details of the demand for cotton in Germany.

KAISER RUSHES MORE TROOPS TO FLANDERS

Paris, Oct. 28.—The issue of the battle in Belgium apparently was still far from determination today. That the Germans had made up their minds to reach a decision in this part of the theater of war was indicated by the report that their general staff has issued a further call for troops from Belgium and Germany for concentration in the vicinity of Dixmude where some of the most severe fighting in the battle of Flanders has occurred.

The gain of the allies in the region to the south of Dixmude as officially announced showed that they are able despite the heavy and continuous cannonading and the attacks of the German infantry to take the offensive against the German contingents which previously had succeeded in crossing the Yser.

This news was received with much satisfaction by the public here as was also the announcement regarding the offensive movement by the French around Nancy. As to the action in this vicinity the French recalled a recent remark by Gen. Castelnau when, in putting the public on its guard against possible bad news, he said: "We will perhaps receive a blow in the stomach but we are sure to return it."

More to the west in Woevre the progress of the allies toward the route from St. Mihiel to Metz, it is predicted, is going soon to put in a difficult position the German forces which have tried in crossing the Meuse to work a junction with their forces fighting in Argonne.

Furthermore the advance of the French and English between Ypres and Roulers also gave ground for hope here. As to when the contest in the north would be finished there is no guess.

French military men, however, said the prolongation of the battle gave no reason for losing patience.

Discussing the possibility of an attack on Verdun, Gen. Pierre Cherfils today declared its defense was unlimited since it was solidly attached to the allies' army of Argonne. The enemy, he said, after testing the strength of Verdun, would gradually give up the hope of attempting to bring about its fall.

France, according to the general, still has more than a million men in reserve to give battle to the Germans, to say nothing of the large number of good volunteers. These are so numerous, in fact, that many are being refused.

MASQUERADER IS PUT OFF TICKET

"Frank X. O'Brien" Yields When Record Comes to Light.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 28.—John F. O'Brien, through his attorney late yesterday, admitted in court that he had been convicted of larceny in the criminal court of St. Louis and that he had assumed the name "Frank X. O'Brien" in Indianapolis and as "Frank X. O'Brien" had been nominated on the democratic ticket for judge of the Marion county juvenile court.

The court then ordered the election commissioners to substitute the name of Newton M. Taylor, present incumbent, for that of O'Brien on the ticket. Judge Taylor had filed the petition which resulted in O'Brien's name being removed from the ticket.

It was brought out in the action against O'Brien that he not only appropriated the name of Frank F. O'Brien, a St. Louis attorney, but also claimed the St. Louis attorney's record as his own. John F. claimed to have served several terms in the Missouri legislature and to have been a candidate for congress. This record is held by Frank X. O'Brien. The masquerader served a term in the St. Louis workhouse and admitted having caused the police of that city trouble on other occasions. He did not appear in court when yesterday's action was taken.

ARREST EXPECTED WITHIN 24 HOURS

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 28.—The trail in the search for the murderer of pretty 16 year old Hazel Macklin, led the chief of detectives and two of his assistants out of the city last night and upon their return today disclosures are expected which may lead to an arrest within the next twenty-four hours.

The police refuse to give any information as to the whereabouts of the detectives, but indications are that they are in the rural district south of South Bend. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton McClellan, who claim to have seen Hazel Macklin leave the street car and join a strange man at Springbrook park last August 19, were to appear before Chief of Police Kerr this morning and tell their story.

2 KILLED; 13 IN HOSPITALS

Pittsburg, Oct. 28.—Thirteen men were taken to hospitals here early today as a result of two automobile accidents in which W. O. Stevenson, of Leechburg, Pa., and David Nicolas, of Hites, Pa., were killed.

The machine in which Stevenson and Nicolas collided with a street car and a police patrol summoned to their assistance ran into a rapidly moving automobile near the scene of the accident. Among the injured were Police Captain Robert Emmett and the policemen, all of whom were seriously hurt.

FIRE LOSS WILL REACH $400,000

Hagerstown, Md., Oct. 28.—This city was visited early today by the worst fire in its history causing an estimated loss of more than $400,000.

The heaviest losses were the Hotel Baldwin, valued at $200,000, and the Antietam garage in the Sherry building, a four-story brick structure which was destroyed together with seventy-five automobiles stored in the garage.

The loss on building and motor cars was placed at $160,000. Antietam hall adjoining was destroyed with a loss of $30,000. The hotel housed about 100 guests. The majority of them were awake and easily escaped, the most of them saving their effects. It is believed the hotel will have to be entirely rebuilt.

The average express locomotive consumes twelve gallons of water for each mile traveled.

COLD STEEL! FRENCH BAYONET CHARGE ALONG A RAILROAD

This picture shows how real warfare differs from the kind the artists paint. Instead of a charge of thousands of men, shoulder to shoulder, modern battles are made up of many small affairs, the sum total of which determine the victory. A daring photographer has pictured a dash with fixed bayonets by a platoon of French against a like section of Germans.

THEY WORKED, DIDN'T THEY?

English Experts Question Wisdom of Use of Big German Guns.

London, Oct. 27.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Although the big guns used by the Germans have been the surprise of the war and are accredited with having caused the fall of Liege, Namur and Antwerp, some military experts in England question the wisdom of carrying such weapons into the field, regarding them as a burden which an army cannot afford to transport.

Colonel F. N. Maude, discussing the heavy guns, says in the Standard: "It would be interesting to obtain the exact facts and calculate what the policy of taking the 42-centimeter and 28-centimeter howitzers into the field really cost the Germans in loss of transport power for the food of the troops. I am willing to grant that the 42-centimeter weapon was admirably adapted for its purpose of destroying steel and concrete targets presented by the forts of Liege and Namur. But seeing that the weight of one of the shells is nearly equal to the weight of a whole square meal for one of their battalions, would not the available horsepower, whether mechanical or actual, have been far better employed in hauling food for men to the front in the first instance?"

Military experts writing for the English press say that big guns are not really a novelty. The new feature is their general use in the recent campaigns. Heavy guns were tried in the Franco-Prussian war over much the same territory where recent fighting has taken place, but their movement was found too much of a burden.

England has constructed a more formidable weapon than the German howitzer. It is Mallet's mortar, which was built for use in Crimean war, but not completed in time to go into the siege. The mortar is now at Woolwich arsenal. It was built in sections for transport and has a thirty-six-inch bore and a bursting power charge of 550 pounds of gunpowder. It was tested at Plumstead marshes and a shell sent with a full powder charge penetrated eighteen feet and blew out a crater sixty feet in diameter.

OLD OFFICERS RETAINED.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 28.—A two to one majority for retaining Mayor H. R. Albee and somewhat smaller majorities for Commissioners Robert G. Dieck and Wm. L. Brewster were indicated today with the count of ballots in yesterday's recall election nearly completed. All were charged with incompetence and extravagance. Between fifty and sixty per cent of the registered vote was cast.

New Jersey has 95,000 widows and nearly as many bachelors.

SANDBAR STILL HOLDS PAULDING

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 28.—The torpedo boat destroyer Paulding, which went on a sandbar in Lynn Haven inlet during the storm early Tuesday morning, was still fast today. Her crew is aboard and neither vessel nor men are in any danger. The Paulding was carried over one sand bar and against another, and one portion of the ship now lies in about five feet of sand. Warships standing by expect to float her. It was said at the navy yard it might be necessary to make a channel to get her out.

BAD COLD? TAKE CASCARETS FOR BOWELS TONIGHT

No headache, constipation, bad cold or sour stomach by morning.

Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache. Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels. A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Adv.

EYES OF MEXICO ON OBREGON, THE PLANTER-WARRIOR OF SONORA.

General Alvaro Obregon, and city of Mazatlan which he besieged on his way to Mexico City.

Mexico City, Mex., Oct. 27.—The "Vivas" of the men of this capital reserved for the conquering generals of the constitutional forces fell first upon the ears of Alvaro Obregon, commander-in-chief of the northwestern division of the rebel army.

He had beaten Carranza, Villa, Zapata and the others to this goal of their desire. That was a few weeks ago.

Today he is being talked about as a presidential possibility, this rancher-warrior from Sonora.

Behind him when he came, and behind the tattered remnants of his army, rumbled the cannon he had nursed like babies on the long march.

Up near Mazatlan one day the general had patted them affectionately, saying: "We are yet a long way from Mexico City, but we have pulled these guns all the way from Sonora and have sworn that they will yet be in the streets of the capital. Muerta may have gone, but if not we will give no truce."

It expressed his iron determination. Throughout the campaign Obregon declared his subservience to Carranza, but the eyes of Mexico are upon him. He may return to his hacienda, or be given a governorship. But many here believe he will yet be the man to put the constitutional principles into effect in this war-scarred land.

His military career began with the outbreak of the revolution against Carranza in Sonora, where he was a planter. He quickly became a proficient strategist, although without previous military training.

After the battle of Tepic, Obregon carried out his word that he would execute all federal officers who fell into his hands, putting to death sixty officers who had failed to retreat.

"Had Madero," he said, "been less sensitive and executed a few more traitors he would have been president of Mexico today."

From the Rio Grande the trail of General Obregon was a heartbreaking march during which his troops suffered the privations of hunger and heat and battle. Bleaching bones marked the progress across the desert. The fighting cost many men. But victory rode with the northwestern division and the proud, erect figure of Obregon on his big horse.

"It may be a long time before the big changes for the betterment of the Mexican people are brought about," he said upon his arrival here, "but the accomplishment of the purposes of the constitutional party, Mexico for and by the People, is inevitable."

SAYS SOUL IS NOT CREATED AT BIRTH

The soul is not created at birth, according to L. W. Rogers, national lecturer of the Theosophical society, who lectured last night at Odd Fellows' hall on "Reincarnation." It has been evolved, he declared, from the spiritual side of the universe as worlds and stars have been evolved from the physical side.

If the human soul had been evolving for tens of thousands of years, he said, it was easy to account for the differences of mentality and morality that undoubtedly exist at birth, but if the soul is created at birth and one is gifted with genius while another is afflicted with stupidity, there could be no justice in life.

"Only by the hypothesis of reincarnation," said the lecturer, "can we harmonize the wretched inequalities of life with the idea that divine justice rules the world." If reincarnation were true he argued, then each person had been shaping his intellect and molding his morals for thousands of years and each one is therefore responsible for what he is at birth.

Mr. Rogers said that it was quite true that the infant did not appear to be an old statesman or philosopher returning, but this was only because mature powers could no more be manifested through an immature body than a great musician could give a performance on an imperfect instrument; that the infant body was no more the full expression of the soul animating it than a green shoot peeping through the ground was the lily in bloom.

Tonight Mr. Rogers will speak on "Thought Power."

ALL WORK ON GOOD ROADS DAY.

Business and Professional Men Join Farmers in Effort.

Kokomo, Ind., Oct. 28.—Business and professional men donned overalls and jumpers and joined the farmers in nearly every county along the line of the Lincoln highway "feeder" route from Indianapolis to South Bend in celebrating good roads day by working without charge on the highway. The road was placed in good condition by the free labor of these good roads enthusiasts, many of them are residents of cities and towns along the route. Bad spots in the road as far north as the boundary of St. Joseph county were repaired. The work in that county is to be done next week.

Teams, wagons, tools and road making material were donated for the work by construction companies and citizens.

Sage Tea Keeps Your Hair Dark

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Lustre and Abundance.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't stay gray! Look Young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyle's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger. Adv.

Mrs. Becker, who is one of the force of the clerks referred to, had made preparations for the entertainment of her friends and there was music by an orchestra, pretty flowers, yellow and white in color, excellent refreshments, all of which were enjoyed by about fifty people. The guests presented Mrs. Becker with a handsome leather chair.

The members of the Simpson M. E. church Sunday school class of Mrs. Doan gave a Halloween party last evening at the home of Miss Helen Grist.

A merry time was spent playing games, telling ghost stories around a "camp fire," roasting marshmallows and in the enjoyment of refreshments of various "goodies."

There were present Wilma Peoples, Edna Phillips, Lucile Groider, Esther Johnson, Anna Pulver, Thelma Tracy, Mae Boust, Thelma Clark, Beatrice Glover, Lela Lewton, Beatrice Madam, Margaret Willis, Myrtle Van Buskirk, Okla Harrod, Charlotte Horn, Ruth McKefer.

Milligan-Bowser

The charms of youth, beauty, evening attire and pretty decorations all combined in making the wedding of Miss Verne Bowser and Mr. Daniel Garwood Milligan, which took place Tuesday evening in the First Baptist church, one of striking beauty.

Proceeding the entrance of the bride, the bridegroom, in a suit of black and white, with a touch of gold in the bow tie, followed by the bridesmaids, who were dressed in black and white, with a touch of gold in the bow tie, followed by the bridesmaids, who were dressed in black and white, with a touch of gold in the bow tie.

The church itself presented a most attractive appearance with the entire space occupied by the bride being hung with southern smilax and vases of pink chrysanthemums lending a dash of color to that was equally satisfactory and pleasing.

Bouquets of "mums" marked the entrance to reserved pews. The church was well filled before the wedding party arrived and all attention was given to the entrance of Rev. C. H. Snashall and Rev. Mr. Aiken, who were joined by the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. W. C. Miller, of Chicago.

The organist played the bridal music from "Lohengrin" and slowly down the aisle approached the large bride party, the bridesmaids down the other. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Arthur Rose, Misses Vera Trussell, Irma Henderson, Jennie Bowser, Gladys Walker and Ruth Biker, who were dressed in black and white, with a touch of gold in the bow tie.

The bride was dressed in a gown of black and white, with a touch of gold in the bow tie, and a large butterfly bow of pink and white. She carried large white lilies. Miss Mildred Bowser, who was maid of honor, made a stunning appearance in a beautiful costume of light pink crepe de chine covered with pink chiffon and combined with real Flemish lace and spangled ornaments.

A touch of the inevitable black velvet of the season's demands in fashionable gowning, was shown in a pair of velvet on one shoe and in two embroidered velvet designs on the sleeves. Miss Bowser's flowers were pink roses. The bride was preceded directly by four little children, who in dainty frocks and costumes presented a sweet sight that almost vied with the lovely bridesmaids in attraction.

The children were Wilma Van and Bonnie Bowser and little Leland Johnson. Each wore a black velvet bracelet and tiny Wilma Bowser carried a calla lily that held the wedding ring. The bride walked in with her father and made a very beautiful appearance. The bridegroom was of Francis' satin with court train and its garniture of flowers of rose point lace on the skirt forming the sleeves and making the butterfly bow effect on the bodice, was extremely elegant though simple in design.

Handsome pearl ornaments caught the eye how and several clusters of orange blossoms were further distinctive features of the modish gown. The bride wore a pearl hair pin, the groom's wedding gift, and her veil with cap edged with point lace, was held in place with orange blossoms and a strand of pearl beads across the back of her hair.

The bride's bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley. About one hundred and fifty relatives and guests attended the reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus F. Bowser, in East Creighton avenue. The house was decorated with smilax and pink chrysanthemums, used in profusion, and the bride's table was done in pink roses. Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Bowser and the bride and groom were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Linder, of Crawfordsville. Mrs. Bowser wore an elegant costume of black crepe de meteor with a bodice of white covered with black lace and a corsage of lavender orchids. Assisting in the reception were Mr. Harry Bowser, who acted as master of ceremonies at the church, and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bowser, Mr. and Mrs. Jules Simon and Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Bechtel, as well as the members of the bride party, of whom the ushers were Messrs. Harry A. Palmer, E. H. O'Neill, Gould Washburn, of Crawfordsville, Melvin Hegler, of Peoria, Ill.; Arthur Rose and L. E. Johnson, of this city. Music during the evening was furnished by Mrs. C. A. Horton, harpist, and Miss Monfey, violinist. Light refreshments were served and an especially pretty feature was the placing of the paraffin on real pink roses that were crushed flat. Mrs. Schumaker catered and the decorating was done by Miss Bradley. The bride and groom left today for a southern trip. They go first to New Orleans and take a boat on the ocean around the Florida coast and to New York. After the first of December Mr. and Mrs. Milligan will be at home in their own residence at 2441 South Webster street.

For traveling the bride wears a black broadcloth suit and black velvet hat with paradise plume. A touch of gold is seen in the bodice that goes with the suit and it all well sets off the blonde and sweet appearance of the bride, whose genuine and generous nature are one reason for her unusual popularity.

Mr. Milligan has made many friends since his arrival here about two years ago. His business qualification and upright character have contributed to his progress and success.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Walker and Miss Walker, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and daughter, Esther, and Mr. and Mrs. Linder, of Crawfordsville, were out of town guests present.

Miss Esther Johnson passed the bride's favors of cake tied in initialed boxes with pink ribbon and Miss Lillian Polhamus, in dainty pink and white, acted as usher at the reception.

McDowell-Carpenter

Miss Sylvia Marie Carpenter and Mr. Arthur Edward McDowell were married in Hillsdale, Mich., on Tuesday morning by Rev. Louis DeLamar. Both bride and groom are from Fort Wayne.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

The Cincinnati German Theater company will offer at the Majestic theater this evening "The Dancing Hussars," a military comedy with the scenes laid on the Russian frontier.

The story of the comedy has been told in the advance notices and judging from the demand for seats, it is a story that appeals to the German theater-going public.

The company which will be seen at the Majestic this evening is an entirely new one, and should not be confused with another company from Cincinnati which has been seen here a number of times before. There are twenty-six people in the cast and every one will be seen in this production this evening.

AT THE TEMPLE.

The Temple scheme of entertainment is just one thing after another with the classy bills tumbling into the theater twice a week. The current program closes its run tonight, to be succeeded tomorrow afternoon by another all-Keith bill of fashionable vaudeville and the same old scale of bargain prices will obtain. "The Gas Route" is a laugh every second, as it is handled by Harry Gibbs and Edna Colwell. A pair of natural comedians in a melody of song and comedy talk hits are Joe Burns and Murray Kisson. Grace Gardise and Jules Romer's novel musical feature is a regular act, while little Miss Jean has everyone with her from the time she bounds onto the stage until she lowers her last thanks to the appreciative audience. Emmett, the eminent dog trainer, has a wonderful troupe of educated canines.

New Bill Tomorrow Afternoon. The new bill looks like a burner-dinger. It opens tomorrow afternoon with Jack Dakota and company presenting a sensational sharp-shooting act as the top attraction. Billy Newkirk and the Evans Sisters will sing and dance their way into favor in Fort Wayne just as they have over the entire circuit this year. "His Day Off" is an excellent, funny farce that serves Eugene Ellsworth and Edna Earle Lindes as a vehicle for their unusual abilities as comedians. Massey and Boulton in a comedy rube musical act and Frawley and Hunt, a team of comedy acrobats, top off the bill.

The desire of all people for a certain amount of thrills and mysterious action will be filled today when they witness the filming of the detective play, entitled "The Mystery of Grayson Hall," at the Orpheum theater. Lindsay Hall, Fred Hearne and Edna Payne are heading the cast.

The play tells of the death in a mysterious manner of a wealthy old man and the methods of a famous detective of tracing the criminal.

The remaining attraction for this afternoon and evening is a Rex drama entitled "The Decision," with Robert Leonard and Ella Hall in the leading roles.

To all those who are interested in the musical programs at the Orpheum, it may be stated that the management desires to give the public not only the best in motion pictures but also the best in music, and it may be said that they are accomplishing much more than was expected of them. It is announced that Miss Lyons, soprano, will sing Tosti's "Good-bye," a fact which will be appreciated by all music lovers of Fort Wayne.

Tomorrow there will be shown an Imp drama, "In Self-Defense," with Violet Mercereau and Wm. Shay heading the cast, and a Sterling comedy entitled "A Race for a Bride," featuring Ford Sterling.

Fourth night of the loving cup contest at the Casino Thursday night. 28-29

AT THE LYRIC. Opening tomorrow afternoon the Lyric will present another completely new vaudeville program; of course there will be the daily change of the first run pictures. The Lyric with the evenly balanced, properly varied variety programs it has been staging is making the hit of the local amusement world as the shows are of just the right length and of course being of the highest class suit in quality as well as quantity. The popular price feature of this playhouse puts it in the forefront of local amusement houses in the matter of catering to the public demand for big bills for little money.

Today's picture program includes a comic film, "Bill Takes His Lady to Lunch." This film was created by the versatile Keystone people, who never seem to reach their limit in fashioning new laugh-producing situations. A thrilling two-reel Reliance, "The Rev-

AT THE EMPRESS. "Love in a Sanatorium," together with the other interesting and entertaining acts on the current bill at the Empress theater will close this evening and all persons who have not yet seen this splendid bill will undoubtedly wish to see it tonight.

"Love in a Sanatorium" has been acclaimed by Fort Wayne people as by far the best and most interesting and entertaining miniature musical comedy ever seen in Fort Wayne. All other acts on this bill are of the same high order of merit.

Tomorrow afternoon another splendid bill will open at the Empress to remain for the last half of the week.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

JULIUS CAESAR.

Mammoth Spectacular Drama Opens at Jefferson Today, Remaining Over Tomorrow.

Filled with mighty scenes that draw expressions of wonder from the spectators; staged with a magnificence that has never been equalled in the history of the motion picture world, and marked by acting the like of which has seldom been excelled on the screen, "Julius Caesar," George Kleine's tremendous million dollar photo-play, comes to the Jefferson theater today, remaining until tomorrow night. The theatergoers of this city have never been afforded an opportunity of witnessing a picture that approaches the splendor or magnificence of this production reveals. The greatest figures in the life of ancient, victorious Rome live again; victorious Caesar triumphs once more over his numerous kingdoms; Pompey again quarrels with the immortal leader, and in the end we see the crafty Cassius pass before the tribunal and plunge his dagger into the body of the man who moulded history and propagated the culture of Rome in the barbarian lands of Gaul.

As an aid to students of history, and as a source of entertainment to the theatergoer, this dramatic masterpiece offers opportunities of authentic enlightenment and imparts impressions of such profound beauty that the on-looker marvels at the ingenuity of the men and the forces that created this remarkable photo-drama. It is not the creation of a company building picture-plays to supply a passing demand. It is the masterpiece of artists, men whose life work is devoted to the evolution of photo-plays that mark an epoch in that field of endeavor, receiving and passing judgment upon the result.

The role of Caesar in this titanic production is assumed by Anthony Novelli, whose remarkable dramatic interpretations before the camera have gained him an inevitable reputation. His performances in the other Kleine photo-plays, "Quo Vadis" and "Anthony and Cleopatra," will be remembered by all theatergoers who witnessed his triumphs in these productions. The supporting cast has been selected from the finest talent procurable on the continent, actors whose careers have been devoted to the interpretation of the historical drama.

The Jefferson theater urges every theatergoer in the city to witness the production of this wonderful picture, inasmuch as this is the first time that it has been shown in any city. The resultant judgment of Fort Wayne patrons will, therefore, determine the success of "Julius Caesar" when it is shown in other amusement centers throughout America.

GOLD-TINTED CAKE FOR GOLDEN WEDDING.

The "bride's cake" at a golden wedding is just as important a part of the bridal feast as if the bride were golden haired instead of white haired.

A very good recipe, tested by many "golden wedding brides," is given here. Cream together one cup of granulated sugar and one-half cup of butter. Add one cup of milk, two slightly heaped cups of flour, the beaten whites of three eggs, one and a half teaspoons of baking powder and one teaspoon of vanilla. Bake in a hot oven, gradually cooling oven after cake has raised and slightly browned. When cool, frost the two layers with an icing made from the yolks of two eggs (well beaten) and the juice of one lemon mixed to a thick paste with well-sifted confectioner's sugar. This dries very quickly.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

First American presentation of the world's greatest motion picture

JULIUS CAESAR

Featuring the incomparable Anthony Novelli, whose Vintius in Quo Vadis, and Anthony in Antony and Cleopatra, won him world-wide fame. "We promise you in Julius Caesar the ultimate in spectacular photo-drama—the thrills of the mighty scenes, the panic of the multitude—the rise and fall of the noblest figure in all history—staged amid scenes of transcendent beauty—Julius Caesar, the greatest production of Cines. The most precious contribution to the science of picture making, 20,000 costumes, a miniature city of Rome built. The story is that of civilization in the making. The fact that the "Jefferson," the "Strand of the West," was successful in securing first showing ahead of New York, Chicago and other larger cities of the greatest of all masterpieces is a fact we are proud of. We trust Fort Wayne will respond to the spirit of the occasion and give this remarkable film a rousing reception. Shows begin at 1:00, 2:15, 4:00, 5:30, 7:00, 8:30 and 10:00 p. m. Adults, 20c; children, 10c.

Reflections From the Mirror of Millinery Fashions

There is not so much millinery news coming from Paris these days and fewer models are, of course, being imported.

Which is giving the designers of New York an opportunity of developing their creative ability.

science of what their part among the nations of the world may come to be. "The harmful effects of foreign war in their own industrial and commercial affairs have made them feel the more fully and see the more clearly their mutual interdependence upon one another and has stirred them to hopeful co-operation such as they have seldom practiced before. They have been quickened by a great moral stimulation. Their unmistakable ardor for peace, their earnest and disinterested sympathy for those who are suffering their readiness to help and to think of the needs of others has revealed them to themselves as well as to the world.

"Our crops will feed all who need food; the self-possession of our people amidst the most serious anxieties and difficulties and the steadiness and resourcefulness of our business will serve other nations as well as our own. The business of the country has been supplied with new instrumentalities and the commerce of the world with new channels of trade and intercourse. The Panama canal has been opened to the commerce of the nations. The two continents of America have been bound in closer ties of friendship. New instrumentalities of international trade have been created which will be also new instrumentalities of acquaintance, intercourse and mutual service. Never before have the people of the United States been so situated for their own advantage, or the advantage of their neighbors, or so equipped to serve themselves and mankind.

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-sixth of November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and invite the people throughout the land to cease from their wonted occupations and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks to Almighty God.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

KNIFE CURE FOR EPILEPSY.

Operation on Intestines Advocated by Cincinnati Surgeon.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 28.—That a cure for epilepsy through a surgical operation on the intestines has been demonstrated in many cases was announced at the meeting of the Mississippi Valley Medical association here today by Dr. Charles L. A. Reed, of this city. Who first described his new method of curing the disease several months ago. Dr. Reed held that the majority of cases of epilepsy are caused by poisons absorbed by the human system from the intestines. All previous surgical practice has been to operate on the brain.

ASK THE LADIES TO RIDE HORSES

Trying for Novelty in The Parade in Honor of T. R. Marshall.

Dr. A. Guy Emrick, who has been appointed chief marshal of the parade to be held Saturday night in honor of Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, is seeking a novelty in that he will endeavor to have a number of ladies ride horseback in the procession.

Late Tuesday he was still using all his persuasive eloquence in an effort to stage this distinct novelty, but he found his greatest difficulty in securing the first consent. A number of ladies told him they would ride if he could get the others and he was convinced that just as soon as he got one consent he would be able to get the others.

The most active preparation is being made for this meeting. Mr. Marshall's long residence in this community, his personal popularity and the honor conferred upon him in making him vice president of the United States assures him a big crowd, but the democracy of Allen county wants to pay a strong tribute to him and with this in view bands have been engaged, arrangements made to burn red fire along the line of march and the result is bound to be the biggest political demonstration of recent years. Chairman Edward Miller, in charge of the arrangements, spent all of Tuesday with Edward G. Hoffman, district chairman; Martin H. Lucke, Maurice Niezar, Stephen A. Callahan, County Chairman W. A. Johnson and others selecting the names of the 300 men who will be asked to act as vice presidents of the meeting. This list will not be picked at random, but careful study will be devoted to it and an effort made to settle upon a body of representative democrats.

"Further information continues to confirm previous reports that the German losses in dead, wounded and prisoners have been considerable in the northern region.

"On the right bank of the Aisne the Germans attempted at night a very violent offensive movement in the region of Craonne. On the heights of the highway des Dames they have been repulsed.

"In the Woerthe district our troops have continued their advance in the forests between Aprimont and St. Mihiel, as well as in the forest of La Protre.

"Russia: To the south of Warsaw the fighting extends from Rawa to the junction of the river Ilza with the Vistula on a front 100 kilometers (62 miles) long. In the region to the northeast of Rawa the Russians have inflicted heavy losses on the Germans. There is furious fighting in the forest between Kosienka and Radam.

"In Galicia the Russians are making progress. To the south of Sember in the narrow valley of the Podlub, they surrounded the 38th division of the Hungarian Honved, together with detachments from the Landsturm and destroyed them completely, capturing twenty pieces of artillery and a great quantity of war material.

"In East Prussia partial attempts at a counter offensive movement on the part of the Germans resulted in failure."

18 INJURED IN WRECK ON C. & O.

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 28.—Eighteen persons were injured, five of them seriously, when three Pullmans and a day coach of Chesapeake and Ohio, Washington-Chicago fast train, No. 1, were derailed today ten miles east of Huntington. Two Pullmans turned completely over, rolling down a high embankment.

A broken wheel on the day coach is believed to have caused the accident. All the injured were in the overturned Pullmans. The day coach did not turn over. The injured were brought to Huntington, where they are now in hospitals.

JUDGE TOOK RAP AT CRIMINOLOGY

Eggeman Says His Experience Routs Heredity Theory.

In an address before the parent-teacher club of the Franklin school on Tuesday evening, Judge John W. Eggeman, of the Allen circuit court and of the juvenile court in connection, took a rap at criminologists who charge delinquencies to heredity and stated that his experience on the bench routed the theory.

He stated that he had seen children come to his court from the homes of parents whose families for generations back had been thoroughly honest and that very few of the offspring of criminals had come within his jurisdiction. He added that in his efforts at reform

Kling.
John Kling, formerly the greatest catcher in baseball, is now bidding for premier honors as a three-cushion billiard player. Kling, playing for Kansas City in the Interstate billiard league, has been one of the sensations of the early contests. Playing away from home, he has astonished the experts by winning in Philadelphia and Buffalo. He met with a setback at Cleveland, but continues to play fast and clever billiards. Kling has for years been one of the greatest pool players in the world, and since his retirement from baseball has devoted his time to billiards. Improving his game until he promises to become one of the leading shortstops of the billiard world.

Reliable and Crisp
News AlwaysESSICK EXPECTS TO MAKE TRADESGrand Rapids Owner First
to Announce Plans for Next Season.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 28.—President W. E. Essick, of the Grand Rapids Central league baseball team, will attend the annual meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, which is to be held in Omaha, Neb., starting Nov. 10. While attending the meeting he expects to make a number of deals whereby the Grand Rapids club will acquire a greatly changed lineup next season.

Determined to give the city a winning team in 1915, President Essick is planning on purchasing the release of at least five players of known value, including a catcher, two pitchers and at least one infielder. He has made an offer for the release of the catcher, of the Chicago club, of the Michigan State league, but the Kansas City club of the American association has presented a price claim. It is planned to present an entirely new lineup with possibly one exception.

Joe Graddy, who was allowed to play with the South Bend club this year under contract agreement, will be back and may be played regularly on third base, although Tommy Mee may also try for the position. First basemen Thompson has returned to the Columbus team of the American association, from which his release was secured under optional agreement. Still and Minardi will be back and fight for positions. All three outfielders of the 1914 team are available, but it is hardly likely that more than one of them will be retained. Essick wants players who can hit when hits are needed.

It is in the pitching staff and behind the bat that the team looks weakest to Essick and he hopes of landing at least two veteran pitchers who can be relied on to win a majority of their games.

A great deal of important business is to be transacted at the Omaha meeting, the life of a number of small minor leagues depending on action taken in connection with it.

Walter (Lefty) Pipp, first baseman of the Rochester club of the International league this year, and who was slated for Fort Wayne last spring, is one player who refused to be tempted to jump to the Federal league in 1914. Joe Thicker offered him a bonus of $2,000 for signing a three-year contract to play with the Chicago Federal league team for $4,000 a year.

Instead of hitting at the Federal ball Pipp signed to play with the Detroit team of the American league in 1915 at a salary of $2,500, that team having loaned his services to the Rochester club of the International league this year. He battled out of the field and was hit by a line showing with Rochester demonstrated to the Detroit management that Pipp is of major league caliber and too good to lose. He has been released.

This year Pipp led the International league in total bases made off hits, was fourth in batting average and ranked as one of the finest fielding first basemen in the league. Manager John Gargel credited him with winning at least a dozen games for Rochester by timely hits and also says he played a fine hitting game.

NOT SEEKING "PEACE."
Major Organization Will Ignore Federal Meeting in New York.

New York, Oct. 28.—President John K. Francis, of the National League of American League owners, who arrived here last night from Pennsylvania, said the older major organization was not seeking "peace" with the Federal league and had taken no organization of the recent Federal gathering here.

"The National league is perfectly satisfied with existing conditions," Governor Francis said, "and he is at all anxious to treat with the Federal league, either peacefully or otherwise."

I understand some of the National club owners have talked with the Federal owners as to what might take place should the organized baseball recognize the Federal, but I am sure these discussions have been from a standpoint that they might understand just what could be expected. It did not mean peace, by a long way."

People often accept statements with a sort of mental reservation as much as to say, "I am not convinced," which leads us to remark that there is nothing that will so thoroughly satisfy you of the excellence of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as a personal trial. Mrs. John Fickton, Fern, Ind., who used this remedy in her family for the past ten years, says of it: "I always give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to my children when sick with coughs or colds. I like it better than any other because they take it willingly and it is free from narcotics. It has never failed to give immediate relief." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

The membership committee of the Commercial club met Wednesday noon and passed on a number of applications, on which a report will be made to the board of directors, which will be in session in the evening.

Tod Sloane Is an Indiana Boy and Had a Remarkable Career
as a Jockey and Now Drives War Ambulance

(Editor's Note—Few sporting celebrities have had the sensational career of Tod Sloane, once known as the best jockey in the world. In five chapters the story will be told in The Sentinel.)

By Hugh S. Fullerton.

Probably no man in the world has led such a varied and exciting life, has been the center of more of the center of more stirring events than has James Tod Sloane, who a few years ago we knew as Tod, premier jockey of the world. Today Sloane is driving a motor ambulance in the French Red Cross service, and recently was mentioned in the dispatches from Belgium for great courage in taking his ambulance onto the battlefield and bringing away wounded under fire. The story of his life reads like a romance.

CHAPTER I.
Cash and Tod were two little boys who lived down in Kokomo, Ind. They were small, but bright and quick with hands and feet and wits, and their father, who was a barber, was proud of them.

They attended school, but mostly when there was a chance they were at the fair grounds, for the boys of houses seemed to have been born in them. When he was 12 Cash was riding and Tod rode in the running races when he was 5. It is said that the father whipped Tod for riding.

riding and risking his neck, and the next day he was riding another horse to victory.

There was a man down in that part of Indiana called Prof. A. Tolbert, who was a pioneer in furnishing attractions for county fairs. Tolbert was one of the most fearless dare devils the world has ever seen. He arranged with fair associations to furnish certain attractions, like made balloon ascensions, parachute jumps, a Roman standing race, chariot race, a spider wagon race, and when there was a running race he had a horse or two in his stable to enter and he carried a couple of trotters and pacers to start whenever there was a chance. Tolbert was an entire county fair, but he needed assistants, and he picked up the Sloane boys. Cash was 13 and Tod just past 10 when they went out for a summer with Tolbert.

Tod Sloane then weighed about 75 pounds, but he seemed not to know fear. Tolbert, he afterward admitted, was his Children, Oct. 28.—Ticket scalpers already have made preparations to meet the thousands of football fans here Nov. 21, according to a story printed today. The tickets have not yet been printed but it is said that well known scalpers admitted that reservations could be made, and at least one of them stated that he had secured his seats at a premium of $2 over the regular value, would be located. Asked where the tickets were to come from one broker replied, "The boys."

SCALPERS AT WORK EARLY.

There have been scandals in previous years involving certain students alleged to have acted for the brokers.

HOPE FOR ANOTHER BOUT.

Ed Stewart and Joe Mandot hope for another bout at Kalamazoo in order to recoup losses sustained by the disappearance of "Big" Blanton on Monday night with all the proceeds of the boxing match. He has not been located and none of the expense was paid. Harmon got the cash and left and hasn't been heard from.

JAMES TODHUNTER SLOANE

TAKEN AS ASSISTANTS BY TALBERT

TOD WAS A NATURAL RIDER

here, and, as Tolbert feared nothing, neither did his small employees. Tolbert was kind to the lads.

It is said he was so kind hearted that when Tod cried because the professor refused to let him make a balloon ascension and parachute drop the professor's heart grew soft, and he permitted the lad to do it.

Cash rode against his small brother in the running races and against Prof. Tolbert in the standing Roman races.

These boys traveled the "pumpkin circuit" of Indiana and Ohio with their dare devil employer. Horsemen noticed that both were natural riders, and that Tod especially possessed a cool head, a strong, trim pair of hands and that he had the knack of getting the most out of a horse.

Tod recognized this fact. He trained the boys, and when they were ready he brought them out of the half mile tow path circuit and found for them jobs riding on the big race tracks.

(Watch for the next chapter of Tod Sloane's life.)

PITTSBURGH DID NOT GET TALENT

Plenty Lying Around But It Was Allowed to Get Away.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 28.—Some one at Bill Bonk's reception on Friday night popped the question as to why the Pirate management has overlooked so many baseball stars in and around Pittsburgh, particularly those who graduated from the city and moved to the south hills. In 1911 the Pirate management paid $25,000 for an O'Toole where they might have secured a look for $1,500. It has been that way all along. They looked good when they were far away, but local talent of high merit was allowed to drift elsewhere. Pittsburgh has been one of the great producing centers of baseball talent for a quarter of a century, but statistics show that the old and present Pirate management could seldom see merit in the young men who came to the city.

Their first major league service in their home town were Frank Killeen, the veteran left hander of the "nipples," Bill McKechnie and Hans Lohr, Otto Knabe, who was signed to a Pirate contract but he and Lohr were both allowed to drift away, although Pittsburgh later made a desperate attempt to get Lohr back but lost out through the double dealing of the Des Moines club.

The Pittsburgh district in 1898 harbored Hans Wagner, the greatest ball player in the world, but the local management was not aware of the fact and preferred to have the recommendations of the base scouts concerning the bush talent from afar. Homer was signed to a Pirate contract as early as 1898, but he was sent to Patterson without being allowed to don a Pirate uniform. Louisville then got him in the summer of 1900, and he played for the Colonels in 1900. Another great star in his time who flashed on local bits and then started elsewhere was Frank (Big) Smith, who played for the Pirates in the palmiest days of Connelley's team. All the Pirate management needed to do to engage Smith would have been to mail him a postcard. Rube Waddell was a sensation hereabouts in the days of the old Pirate management but they would not sign him. Waddell reached Pittsburgh eventually by the same route that Wagner got here.

Following are some players born and reared in the Pittsburgh district, who served in major league companies without getting a trial with Pittsburgh: Nig Smith, Enos Kikkpatrick, Elmer Knicker, Tommy Smith, Jim Herron, Bill Pritchard, Jimmy Pastorski, Bill Campbell, Arthur Berghammer, Bill Dork, Sam Griffith, Tommy Murray, Chuck Deal, Bill Louder, Bobby Wallace, Gus Getz, Joe Schultz, Otto Knabe, Whitey Alperman and a dozen others.

There are few stars among those mentioned above, but in the aggregate they certainly shaped up better than any corresponding number of recruits ever gathered in from distant points by Pirate scouts. It would pay the Pirate management to look up local talent for scouts at Washington park, the Bedford basin, D. C. and A. C. park in Kalamazoo, on the Denny grounds and in Knoxville, Tenn., and in other places. Pittsburgh communities, where they are turning out future stars like Wagner, Nig Smith, Lohr, Doak, Knabe, Waddell, and others, are not being looked up by the scouts who they all look good when they are far away.

CHRIS CHAMBERS WILL JOIN TEAM

Old Ball Player to Enter Foot Ball as a Friar Player.

Arrangements have been completed by the athletic board of the Friar club by the action of the board of the Friar club, will become a Friar football player, and he probably will get his start against the next set of the Fort Wayne Indians. Chambers' arm went back on him and he declined to play professional ball and was carried for several years on the reserve list of the Fort Wayne club. In the meantime he had secured work at the Western Gas Construction company's plant and played with the team representing that corporation in the Fort Wayne club league.

He also played semi-pro ball and last spring he went to Van Wert, where he managed the baseball team of that city and had arranged to take charge of the football interests there this fall. He started but the club has not been successful and he has returned to Fort Wayne and is now a Friar.

Chambers' experience in football was gained at Wheeling, where the city team plays against a number of the smaller colleges of the Washington district. He and advance notices point him out as an excellent prospect.

Just where he will play will not be determined until the next round of opportunity to work out several times in practice here, but he will be used if he can show more than some of the other men now in the Friar line.

The Walsh game is so important to both teams that it has been determined to secure officials who will work in the game. The game between Miami and Indiana, better still, a combination of both may be secured but in any event it is proposed to go into the encounter with a chance for a kick afterward on the partnership of the referee.

The Friars will not follow the example of Walsh and "load up" for the game. The management has decided that it has a club of players that will give Walsh a stiff argument and that it would not be the right sort of sportsmanship to secure material for this one occasion, holding that it is better to go down in defeat with its own men in line than to rob a probable victory of the glory that would be lost by the introduction of a lot of professional players for the one occasion.

Chambers' addition to the team cannot be in any way considered a "loading up" process. He was sought last spring but he had then made his arrangements to go to Van Wert and said that he could not talk business to the Friars.

He expects to become a regular and has secured an equipment in Fort Wayne and will live here. There was a lively workout at the park on Tuesday night, and the men are being put into the best condition possible for the big tilt of Sunday.

In the meantime Walsh is just as strong for his athletes as Fort Wayne natives are. He is the Friar, and as a result a special train has been chartered for the day and an excursion will be run over the Walsh. The team will leave on Monday night and the game is expected to be one of the big events of the local football season.

WAR HAS MADE ALL WOMEN EQUAL

Money Matters Not, Only Hope and Religion Now Count.

By Mary Boyle O'Reilly.

Paris, France, Oct. 27.—"War teaches," declared Madame Agard determinedly and smoothed down her trim dark apron. Everybody in Paris knows Mme. Agard, of the Halle (municipal markets). A quaint old lady, broad as she is long, little feet thrust into big sabots, whirled head coquettish in a wide-winged snowy coif.

"Thanks to the Kaiser Paris forgets foolishness, even learns again those things which count. Attend, madame. Be seated."

We sat. Over us stretched a vast glass roof hung with the flags of the allies. About us were hundreds of tiny food stalls each in charge of a masterful woman. Counters of silver fish, baskets of ruddy fruit, careful arrangements of green or yellow vegetables. Each passage was crowded with submissive, blue-smocked porters, panned grey donkeys, thoughtful purchasers. Floods of water splashed across the sullied pavement, from every side drifted clean, aromatic odors.

"Observe," said Mme. Agard shrewdly, "observe that prices are still low in this tenth week of war. Lettuce one cent the head, tomatoes two cents a pound, potatoes the same. Brussels sprouts two pounds for five cents, cauliflowers three to five cents. The poorest may still have good potage."

"But poultry was never cheaper—no one buys food for fowls in war time—and there is a glut of good butter at a franc-fifty (thirty cents), the kilogramme (1.1 c. two pounds). Buy, and lay it down in salt, I tell my ladies. It is an American custom. Some day our friends, those Americans, will see to it that we French have justice from the deutsche kaiser."

"So we Parisians live on fowls and fruit for meat is costly, even two francs (forty cents) for a pound of beefsteak, one franc-sixty-five (thirty-three cents) for mutton outlets. Thus my ladies, who seldom came to market before the war, learn the values of foods."

"And my ladies? It is a miracle! They come to the Halles early, so early, simply dressed, wearing no rouge! The omnibuses have disappeared. It is necessary that they walk. The simple life works wonders to complexions and to spirits. Economy has become the fashion. We discuss prices. We speak of yesterday's battle and of today's victory."

"All our men are at the front, brothers-in-arms. That levels all difference between women. It is a religion to be hopeful—animated—cheerful."

"We women have learned that nothing matters which can be had for money. We must live wisely for the sake of a happier tomorrow. Observe that no more is asked of saints seeking salvation!"

"At last one may see the real Paris! The Apaches are gone, the military government has ended the sale of absinthe, there are no gendarmes any more, no correctional police courts. And the court martials in the Palais de Justice are empty."

"Also the change has spread to our homes. Men in the army, less money, fewer servants. We Frenchwomen cannot live without decorum. Having no assistance we begin to do things for ourselves. My ladies were forgetting how to sew. Today they make their children's clothes. I see them exchanging little paper patterns."

"By 8 o'clock Paris is in darkness, one street lamp in three is lighted; cafes are closed, no theater open, the newspapers mere handbills. With one's heart on the firing line there remains no desire for folly. Therefore one sits at home and reads serious books. Therefore one has something real to think about—to talk about."

"Our only comfort is in hope, and in religion. The churches are open, the priests gone (20,000 are in the army), but the good nuns are here. Exiled before the war, they are back to nurse the wounded. And they tell us, smiling tranquilly, 'Mesdames, while men live dangerously we women must live bravely.' True, it is lonely, doubly lonely without the children."

"Hela! that is the worst of the war, our Paris is now a childless city. General Michel, who was military governor when war broke out, ordered them away to safety. Thousands and thousands of little ones went in those first mad days, to grandparents, or friends, or schools far at the south in Bordeaux or Marseilles. We called them 'au revoir' gayly; some even said to their neighbors, 'At last we will have peace in the Halles!'"

"But when we heard no laughing any more, had no mischief makers playing underfoot, ah, then we knew. Our Halles have become a dreary place without the children."

One day recently a partridge made its appearance in the yard of E. B. Curtis, of Oxford, Me., and tried to get into the chicken inclosure. Mrs. Curtis caught the bird and now it has settled down with the fowl.

WILL FIGHT ILLITERACY.

Kentucky Is Soon to Provide "Moonlight Schools."

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 27.—In a proclamation characterized by Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, as "one of the most important issued by the governor of any state since the beginning of our national life," Governor McCreary, of Kentucky, announces the appointment of a state illiteracy commission and the beginning of a campaign to eliminate illiteracy from his state. A thousand volunteer teachers are already at work in the "moonlight schools" teaching Kentucky's 208,000 adult illiterates how to read and write.

Among the members of the illiteracy commission is Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, through whose efforts as superintendent of schools illiteracy has been entirely wiped out in Rowan county, during the last three years.

"Whatever else Governor James B. McCreary may do for his state, this proclamation must always be accounted among his wisest acts," says Dr. Claxton.

BIG BLAZE AT ANDERSON.

White Frost Ice and Storage Plant Totally Destroyed.

Anderson, Ind., Oct. 23.—The White Frost Ice and Storage company plant burned last night. The loss is estimated at $100,000. Ammonia tanks in the plant exploded with such force that houses were shaken in every section of the city. The fire burned poles carrying electric light wires and the entire city was in darkness for a time.

BUSINESS JUST FAIRLY GOOD

Latter Half of Year Below
Same Period of 1913,
Says Mr. Bowser.

S. F. Bowser, president of S. F. Bowser & Company, said this morning that the business of the company, while not as heavy this fall as it was the same period of last year, is fairly good and so far during the year is ahead of last year. "We have greatly increased our facilities for business during the year," said Mr. Bowser, "and could handle a great deal more than we did in 1913. I do not look for any marked improvement the remaining months of this year, however, and can only hope that it will not be worse. Our business in future years has been heavy in the southern states, but the decreased demand for cotton, the chief crop of that country, has greatly demoralized all business in the cotton growing states and of course the oil tank and pump trade suffers in common with other industries there." S. F. Bowser & Company recently purchased fifty bales of cotton with the philanthropic purpose of helping their southern friends out of their present financial distress. "We did this," Mr. Bowser said, "to help the people who in prosperous times have been most liberal patrons of S. F. Bowser & Company."

Nickel Plate Has Big Business Buffalo to Chicago.

For several months many cattle for slaughter at the Union stock yards in Chicago have been passing through Fort Wayne over the Nickel Plate road. Yesterday afternoon two trains, of thirty-four cars each, passed through the city, running on a schedule nearly equal to the fast passenger trains. The cattle on these trains and possibly those previously handled came from Canada. Occasionally there are train loads of Argentine cattle, but the greater portion come from Canada.

SPECIAL SWITCH RUN.

Tuesday night the Nickel Plate inaugurated a switch run between Fort Wayne and Bellevue, the crews and engines leaving each place at 6 o'clock. They are expected to pick up cars sufficient to make a tonnage of 1,400 by the time they reach Leipsic, the halfway point between the terminals, when the westbound crew will run through to Fort Wayne and the eastbound crew will run through to Bellevue. A good part of the freight these switch crews will handle will be beefs, destined for the places wherein are located sugar factories. The regular crews will be assigned after ten days or two weeks, but until that time extra crews will handle the trains.

IN SAN FRANCISCO NEXT YEAR.

The American Gas Institute, which held its annual meeting in New York last week, will hold the 1915 convention in San Francisco at a date to be announced later. At the same time the International Gas Congress will be in session at San Francisco and the delegates to the A. G. I. will also attend the congress. O. N. Gullitt and G. O. Thwing of the Western Gas Construction company, and S. E. Mulholland, of the Indiana Lighting company, who attended the meeting in New York last week have returned home.

ONE SIDEWALK FINISHED.

The sidewalk on the east side of Harrison street under the Wabash and the Pennsylvania tracks was completed last night and will be opened to pedestrians Friday morning. The walk on the west side of the street is also well under way and will be finished this week, but not open to public use before next Monday or Tuesday. Men are engaged in grading and making the street ready for the reception of the brick pavement and the street will be finished inside of two weeks and opened to traffic.

SEES SLIGHT IMPROVEMENT.

"I believe there is a slight increase in the movement of freight over the Wabash," said E. F. Needham, superintendent of motive power of the road, who was here this morning on business for the company. "The increase is most noticeable on the Decatur division, where there is a fairly good movement of coal at present," continued Mr. Needham. With Master Mechanic Smith, Mr. Needham left at noon today for Peru, where they will spend the afternoon in looking after business connected with the motive power department.

ENGINEER COWEN IN HOSPITAL.

Engineer Robert Cowen, of the Pennsylvania, was operated upon at the hospital this morning for bladder troubles, with which he had been afflicted for some time. Engineer Cowen worked until noon yesterday, when he had to give up and go home. He is doing well, it is said, the operation being successful. Mr. Cowen is one of the old and well known engineers of the Pennsylvania, having worked for the company over a third of a century.

CONDUCTOR BOWMAN INJURED.

Conductor Charles A. Bowman, of the Nickel Plate, sustained a fracture and a bad sprain of one of his ankles yesterday. He was running at the side of the tracks at South Whitley to throw a switch, when he stepped upon some article which turned his foot under and caused the injury. He had to abandon his run and return to the city and is now at his home, 516 West Wayne street, resting fairly easy, considering the extent of his injuries.

KEKIONGA AID SOCIETY.

The Kekionga Aid society of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the O. R. C. will meet with Mrs. Fletcher, No. 638 West Third street, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Banks, Mrs. Doubl and Mrs. Dochtermen will assist Mrs. Fletcher in entertaining.

IN PITTSBURG ON BUSINESS.

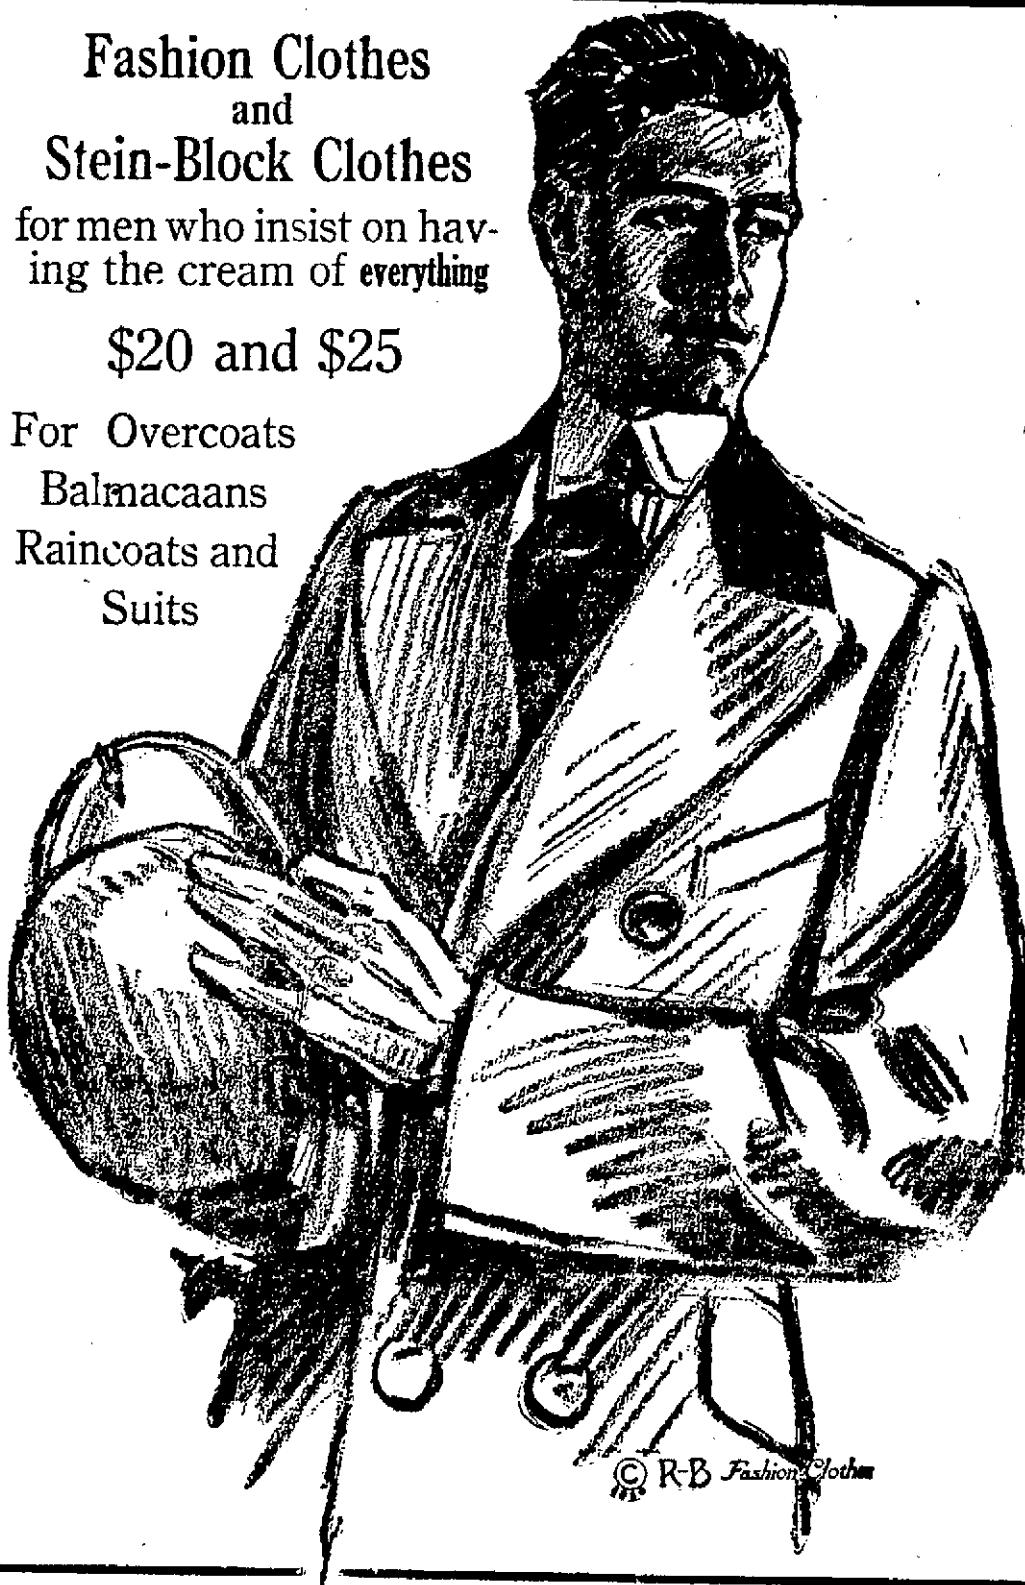

Supt. W. M. Fordon and Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton, of the Pennsylvania, left last night for Pittsburg, where they are looking after some business for the company today.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Mechanic Otto Alter, of the Wabash erecting shop, is sick and off duty. Brakeman Kenneth Smith, who had been sick, reported for work on the Nickel Plate yesterday. William Stithorn, Nickel Plate yard engineer working at nights, resumed work last night, after a short lay off. Acting Master Mechanic E. E. Greist, of the Pennsylvania, is in Crestline today looking after business for the company. Emigrants, en route from New York to the west, will pass through Fort Wayne today on Nickel Plate train No. 3. Nickel Plate Brakeman John Fox, who had a shoulder sprained a week ago, was able to report for work on the road today. Engineer P. E. Telley, who had been laying off to attend to some business affairs three or four days, resumed his

Passenger Agent

Miss Daisy Ogden, of Davenport, Ia., the only woman passenger agent in the world, owes her unique position to the fact that she personified railroad officials that men haven't a monopoly on business tact and the ability to "meet people."

Miss Ogden attended the recent convention of traveling passenger agents at San Francisco, and is the tri-city agent of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad. "There's no reason why other women should not become passenger agents," she said, "and now that the ice has been broken the field will be easier to enter. The railroads are beginning to realize that women can serve the public and their employers just as efficiently and loyally as men. I have great hopes for women in railroad positions in the future."

Miss Ogden started in as a telegraph operator.

OUCH! LUMBAGO!
SORE, LAME BACK

Rub Backache away with small trial bottle of old "St. Jacob's Oil."

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica, or maybe from a strain, and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil." Nothing else cures out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back and out comes the pain. It is harmless and doesn't burn the skin. Lumber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.—Adv.

WEAK FROM WAISTLINE UP.

Faulty Showing by Majority of American Men and Boys.

Washington, Oct. 28.—"The majority of American boys and men are muscled weak from the waist line up, the legs usually showing up well as regards strength," says Surgeon J. A. Murphy, in a report to the navy department on the physique of the average applicant for enlistment.

Discussing the physical attributes of the thousands of men and boys who apply for enlistment in the army, navy and marine corps he says that many are strong but through excess of weight (fat usually) prove relatively weak. Many of the strong also are awkward, unresponsive, ponderous, and through stiffening of joints and contractions of muscles, lack speed and agility.

U. S. VETERINARIAN FINDS CHOLERA AT POST-MORTEM HERE

Dr. Paul A. Mollan, United States veterinarian co-operating with Purdue university, yesterday found hog cholera when he held a post-mortem at the farm of Paul Zink, residing five miles east of New Haven. The examination was witnessed by fifty farmers in the neighborhood.

Dr. Mollan was assisted by County Agent Henry. When the men arrived at the farm they found several sick hogs penned for the "post." One of the hogs was killed and dissected. The lungs, kidneys, bladder and intestines were found spotted as in the case of cholera. The official spent some time in demonstrating the effects of cholera on the hog and told how the disease may be found in a pen of hogs. Following the examination Dr. Mollan had each farmer present disinfect his shoes with a wash prepared. This was done to prevent carrying disease germs to farms where there is no cholera. Arrangements are now being made to have Dr. Mollan here within the next two weeks to give a number of illustrated lectures throughout the county on disease prevention. The dates for these have not yet been set.—Fort Wayne Journal Gazette, October 18, 1914.

The Big Store brimming over with Fall and Winter Merchandise, bids a hearty welcome to out-of-town patrons

For the next ten days we place the store, with its full-to-overflowing stocks of Fall and Winter goods, its splendid service, at the command of out-of-town patrons. With the far-reaching arrangement made with other leading stores of the city, people from nearby towns have the same advantage as our customers right here in Fort Wayne. During the next ten days we have planned many special sales to make this far-reaching event worth coming many miles for. The store is beautiful with gorgeous new merchandise and replete with staples of splendid quality—just such things as are now needed for the wardrobe and home for winter.

Supply Your Winter's Needs During This Wonderful Event

October Sale of Dress Goods

—Is a helpful event that will appeal to out-of-town patrons as it did to Fort Wayne women. Every piece of colored wool fabrics is included, and at such a generous reduction in price that makes it worth while buying dress or suit material now.

Beautiful Novelty Dress Goods Half Price

A collection of beautiful foreign and domestic novelty dress goods, including handsome French Broadcloths, German, English and Scotch fabrics, together with American-made clothes, go on special sale at half the regular prices.

In this tempting group are all the wanted greens, browns and blues, and corded weaves, zibelines, brocades and mixtures are some of the weaves represented.

Regularly the prices are $2.50 to $6.00—A splendid opportunity to buy material for a handsome gown at HALF PRICE.

10 Per Cent. Discount

All regular lines of dress goods, including French and storm serges, crepes, granite and basket weaves, poplins, wool satins, gabardines and our entire line of broadcloths, in this great sale at 10 per cent. discount.

Fashionable Novelties at 98c

New and stylish novelties of the season's most wanted weaves, and most desirable colorings—fabrics that sell regularly at $1.25 and 1.50; choice during this October sale, yard, 98c.

Scotch Suitings, 69c

Sturdy Scotch suitings so much in demand for their serviceability, in practical mixtures for suits, coats and separate skirts; regularly priced at 89c; October sale price, yard, 69c.

Wonderful Collection of Coats, Suits and Dresses for Women and Misses Gathered for Your Choice This Week

YOU would naturally expect with this big store's prestige to find a better showing here than elsewhere. As for values—they're unmatched anywhere—we have never shown such wonderful values in women's and Misses' apparel as we offer you this fall.

Women's and Misses' COATS Unusual Values at $10

—A group of new and fashionable models—serviceable as well—made of sturdy mixtures and plain cloths. Nearly all the season's favored colors are represented, and a large variety of models. Any woman or young girl needing a practical winter coat should see them at $10.00

A Collection of Regular $19.75 Coats, Special at $15.00

Belted, straight line and fancy tailored models among this special group of Winter Coats at $15. Most of them are made of mannish mixtures—ideal garments, fashionably built for practical and street wear, and worth regularly $19.75.

Women's and Misses' Suits $12.75 $16.75 $21.75

About fifty suits in each of these three lots, mostly samples and only one or two of a size, model or material. But every authentic style is included and the colors and materials are the most in demand. Women with tailored suits to buy will find rare bargains among these, for the regular values are as high as $29.75.

$13.95 For Women's and Misses' Silk and Wool Dresses, Worth Up to $19.75.

Some of these charming frocks are of all-silk faille, others are of soft charmeuse, and still others show the fashionable combination of serge and satin. All at brand new. Regular values up to 19.75; very special at $13.95

Separate Skirts, Fashionable Models Values Up to $7.50, for $5.00

—Not regular $5.00 skirts these, but worth $7.50 in value. Smart new models in black and wanted colors, splendidly tailored in plain and over-tunic effects. All regular and extra sizes among them—but do not wait too long, as there are but 150 in this special lot.

All That Heart Could Wish for in Hats Special This Week, $5.00

Another convincing demonstration tomorrow of the wonderful ability of our milliners to design and create artistic Hats at a moderate price. A special display and sale of charming new models at $5.00.

There are round Turbans with both soft and stiff crowns; Tricornes rising with a graceful sweep from the head; wide sailors with brims varying in width around the circumference; styles with low crowns, others with high crowns, with wide brims and no brims at all.

Every fashionable shape is represented, as is also every fashionable color and every fashionable mode of trimming.

Trimmed with ostrich plumes, ostrich bands, peacock feathers, gold and silver braids, etc. High stickup effects and low hat trimmings.

Equal in beauty and quality, and exceeding in artistic effects, most hats at $10.00 and $12.50. Specially displayed this week at $5.

WOLF & DESSAUER

PEDDLER FINED FOR CHEATING

Bill Wagner Short-Weights
Woman Over Three Bushels of Potatoes.

William Wagner never told Mrs. Allen Kissinger that his potatoes were 55 cents a bushel. They were 55 cents a bushel. He never told Mrs. Kissinger that he would deliver ten bushels at her home, 1323 Buchanan street. He said he would deliver ten bushels of potatoes. He never claimed to have put twelve bushels in the cellar. He maintained only that twelve bushels were deposited and he defied the world to count 'em and make them less than an honest dozen. Bill related these facts and swore to them on the witness stand in the city court. And Bill wouldn't be because further he is a good honest peddler. In fact he is ready and frankly admitted. Moreover Bill offered to make straight anything of proved crookedness there may have been in the transaction with Mrs. Kissinger. All of which got Mr. Wagner not much. Judge Kerr held him guilty of a violation of the state law of weights and measures which requires that potatoes be sold sixty pounds to the bushel, and soaked him $10 and costs. This was letting honest Bill off rather easy. In view of the fact that there is still standing against him a suspended sentence of fifteen days in jail for larceny committed last spring, an offense of which he was convicted last May. Wagner has been operating on the city market and Tuesday Mrs. Kissinger engaged ten bushels of potatoes from him at 55 cents a bushel. When Wagner's cart visited the Kissinger home there were twelve bushels of potatoes aboard and Mrs. Kissinger agreed to take them all. They were put in the cellar and $6.00 collected for them. Then Wagner drove away, perfectly innocent of knowledge that City Sealer C. B. Tolan had been concealed across the street and waiting an hour and a half for Wagner to make his delivery. Sealer Tolan weighed Mrs. Kissinger's purchase and found a shortage of 206 pounds, or nearly three and one-half bushels. Then he filed an affidavit against Wagner, who was arrested late in the afternoon. Complaints had been reaching Sealer Tolan that Wagner was defrauding customers and a lookout was kept for him. The sealer was near by when Mrs. Kissinger bargained for the potatoes and as soon as the woman left the Wagner stand she was told not to disturb the potatoes after delivery until they could be weighed. The trapping of Wagner followed.

Jensen Squares His Checks.
George E. Jensen, who victimized his best friends with fraudulent checks when his wallet grew lean, and was arrested in Toledo and brought back here, had contrived to take up his bad paper, and on motion of the prosecutor the case against him was dismissed in the city court Wednesday. Jensen is a rather young fellow who has been much in Fort Wayne for several years and had been received in good families.

Other City Court Cases.
Dick Hammons was fined $10 and costs and given a suspended sentence of ten days in jail for being intoxicated on a railway car. Hammons, who lives near step 8 on the Fort Wayne & Northwestern interurban line, came to the city, got a lighting house, was put off a car, boarded another and drew a valise when the conductor asked him to be assisted by passengers, threw him off. Later he was arrested.

Peter Berry, a drunk, wanted to be put off at Buffalo, and was allowed to journey in that direction.
Harvey Jones, arrested for loitering, explained that he was a guest of the State hotel, found it impossible to sleep and was just taking a turn about the town to pass the time and induce somnolency when a copper got him at 3 a. m. He was turned loose to verify a claim that he is awful anxious to get to Virginia.

Tom Gaskins, a drunk, and Orange B. Lockwood, charged with desertion, were turned loose. Bert Johnson, charged with neglecting his child, was released on his own recognizance to attend the funeral of his mother.

PREVENTED SERIOUS WRECK.

Dr. R. M. Bolman flung a northbound Fort Wayne & Northwestern interurban car at the Miller brickyard north of the city, Tuesday night, and so prevented the killing of a team of horses and the loss of the serious wrecking of the car. The team belonged to Art Kramer, and had run away on Clinton street, north of the Centerville brewery, throwing Kramer out and injuring him. The car was returning, drawing a load of brick, ran to the railway crossing and there becoming entangled in the reins, stopped on the track. Dr. Bolman, who was returning in his automobile from a call in the country, came along just in time to fix the car and prevent trouble. Kramer was picked up by the police, taken to headquarters and attended by Police Surgeon J. Frank Dinnen.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS.

The boys' literary society, known as the Phoenix, held a meeting Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of perfecting the organization. Mr. Neff, an English teacher, gave a brief talk in which he discussed the usefulness and benefit of a literary society.

Mr. Knight, the forking instructor, is back on the job after an absence of several weeks due to serious illness.

The Caldon went to press Tuesday and, according to the editor, will be put on sale about the middle of November. The work is being done this year by the Singmaster Printing company.

An announcement was made Tuesday that all seniors who desire to try out for the state of the class which is to be given the evening before and the evening after Thanksgiving, should turn in their names to Mr. Ward in room No. 18. About thirty students already have their names on as desirous of taking part in the play.

The Mathematics club of the high school will meet on Friday evening, Nov. 6, in room No. 20. An interesting program has been arranged for the entertainment of the members of the society. The feature for the evening will be a debate on the topic, "Resolved, that Mathematics is More Beneficial Than History." William Shambaugh will take the affirmative side and Miss Wilma Brueckner will be his opponent. It is reported that the names of many new students will be added to the club's roster at this meeting. Refreshments will be served as usual.

Kenneth Sprang, a member of the junior class, has returned to his studies after a month's absence. "String," as he is known among his friends, who underwent an operation for appendicitis a few weeks ago, has recovered sufficiently to be back to school but it is doubtful if he can play basketball this winter.

This Is Known in Fort Wayne as The Suit Store

We probably have a larger stock and sell more suits than any other store in Indiana. For an example of the values we offer we might tell of the several hundred suits, specially purchased from a traveler's line of samples and augmented by a number from our regular stock. The suits include both plain tailored and fur trimmed models in all the wanted styles and fabrics. The values run as high as $45. All will soon go at the exceptional price of

The Exclusive fur fabric Hindu Lynx

This soft, lustrous fur fabric is more than a novelty now—women everywhere have accepted it as the most beautiful and effective of fur fabrics. Bischof takes peculiar delight in designing this exclusive material into the most charming models. It is being produced this season in green, brown and blue, as well as black.

The illustration here can give you only a faint idea of its charm and distinction. To really appreciate the beauty of this lustrous, rich, silky material you must see it, feel it.

To enthuse over the wonderful skill with which that master designer, Bischof, has worked up every detail of finish in these garments, you must examine them.

And to realize how vastly becoming they will be on your figure, you must try them on. Every new feature of the season, including many of Bischof's own touches are embodied in these coats—they are the last word in fashion.

Come in and see them, try them on, pick yours from the number of beautiful styles we are showing.

$18.50 TO $24.50

It should also be remembered that Hindu Lynx Coats can be had in Fort Wayne—ONLY at this store. Hindu Lynx is a patented fur fabric, its secret known by only one maker. The name is copyrighted, and any other concern claiming to sell Hindu Lynx Coats or the same thing, is not only breaking the law, but deceiving the public as well.

TWIN SISTER'S RENEW LEGAL BATTLE FOR FORTUNE OF EGGENTRIC UNCLE.

MARJORIE AND MADELINE HOLYOKE.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 23.—Because a jury decided that their uncle was of unsound mind when he wrote his will, Marjorie and Madeline Holyoke, twin sisters, lost legacies of $200,000 apiece. Although the girls were defeated in the courts. Opposed to them are their cousins, Sidney and Harry Holyoke, sons of Frank H. Holyoke, the rich uncle who willed $400,000 to his nieces.

The sons maintain that their father's excessive use of liquor had impaired his mind. He believed, their attorney asserted, that chickens were roosting on the foot of his bedstead and that he couldn't drive them away.

The girls are fighting for a new trial.

ADOPTED CHILD OF TOWN CURED

Very Proud of Grace

Ill.

Pine Bluff, Ark., Oct. 23.—"Our town little daughter"—5-year-old Grace Hill, who was officially adopted by the community of Pine Bluff about a year ago—is to be taken from her village foster-parent, and to go into the Chicago home of Asa R. Bacon, the hospital superintendent under whose loving care little Grace has been made well of body again.

For over a year she has been unable to swallow food, and has been fed by a silver tube. It was about a year ago that Baby Grace swallowed a handful of what she thought was sugar, when she found it in a can in her mother's pantry. The "sugar" was concentrated lye. It burned and stricken horribly the child's esophagus, which closed tightly.

The mother was very poor and unable to pay for the medical care which would be necessary to save the child's life. So with unanimity, the citizens of Pine Bluff subscribed $500 to send little Grace to a specialist in Chicago, and they officially adopted the little girl as their community's own.

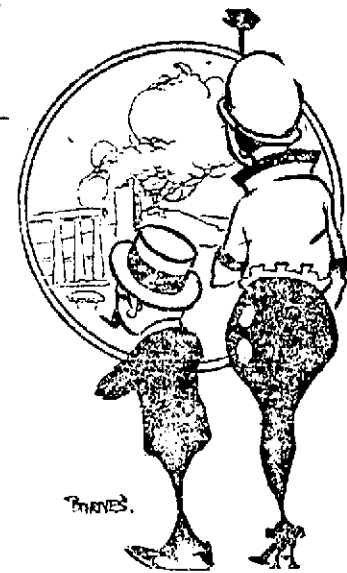

For a year she has been in the Presbyterian hospital in Chicago, and the patient efforts of her doctor have at last opened the tightly closed esophagus, so that Grace can eat solid food again. It is the care of Superintendent Bacon which saved her life. He and his wife gained such affection for Baby Grace that they have just come to Pine Bluff to arrange with the village and with the child's real parents for adoption.

into their own childless home in Chicago.

A PERTINENT QUESTION.

The question has been asked, "In what way are Chamberlain's Tablets superior to pills?" The answer is, "They are more mild and gentle in effect and more reliable. Besides they improve the appetite, cleanse and invigorate the stomach, correct disorders of the liver and leave the bowels in a natural and healthy condition, while the use of pills, owing to their drastic effect, is often followed by constipation." For sale by all dealers. Adv.

AZTEC INDIANS HAVE SET IDOL TO WATCH OVER AMERICAN GIRL.

the most precious talisman within their power—an ugly image.

It is the Aztec god of plenty, assuring the possessor, according to ancient Indian legend, against want as long as the head of the idol is kept filled with water.

Miss Nuno, who has come for a visit, and probably to attend school, keeps the little clay god of plenty always near her.

The Indians say the charm has never failed them during many generations. The image they gave their little American friend is over 100 years old, and has the reputation among the natives of having chased many a wolf of want from the door.

Kicked Out of Home as Babe, Man Is Willing to Hang.

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 23.—Frank Repetto, sitting sullenly in his cell today waiting to be hanged, told why he hates the world, and where he got the bitterness of heart that nerved him to murder an old comrade in the penitentiary.

"I'm a dog, of course, and hanging's too good for me," he said. "But hanging won't bother me any, either. I've hated every living thing since I was four years old—and I'll tell you why. It's because I didn't get a square deal when I was a kid. That started me hating people—and I've never quit and never will."

"My mother died when I was three years old. My father then kicked me out and left me to get along anyway I could.

"Everybody hated me—because I was nothing but a dirty foreigner and not good enough for decent people to touch. Even the kids hated me. When I was four years old they blindfolded me and threw me into the Jackson park lagoon. I crawled out with the idea burned into me that I would get even. It was a brand on my brain, and it's there yet. I'm twenty-two years old now and guilty of more crimes than any man in the country. And I'm waiting to be hanged and I don't give a —"

Man Killed at Wabash Owned Valuable Property in Illinois.

Wabash, Ind., Oct. 23.—As a result of a relative in Hoopston, Ill., reading a newspaper account of the death of a man known in Wabash for three years as Joseph Fritz, the body of the man has been exhumed and taken to Illinois, where it will be buried. It has been learned, since the man was killed, his name is John Fetch, and that while it was believed here that he was penniless, he owned property worth not less than $15,000 in Illinois. Fetch always declined to discuss his life and during the three years he spent in Wabash county as a laborer he was never induced to tell from whence he came.

According to the story told by his brother who came here and claimed the body, Fetch made a bad investment in stock in Illinois four years ago and lost heavily. As the result of constant brooding over the affair Fetch became unbalanced and his family had a guardian appointed. This so angered the man that he left Illinois and although his relatives kept up an untiring search for him they were never able to find him.

Sore Teeth Foul Breath

Discolored, Sore Teeth, Gum Disease and Foul Breath Yield Quickly to This Home Treatment.

You can save the teeth nature gave you, make your mouth healthy and escape the tortures of the dental chair by following this new treatment at home. It is simple, easy and pleasant. Besides it is painless and cannot possibly harm you in any way.

Thousands of mouths like this are seen every day. The trouble is known as Pyorrhea or Riggs Disease. These soft, discolored, bleeding, foul smelling and receding gums, loosened and sensitive teeth can be made firm, strong and healthy by this simple Home Method.

FREE BOOK TELLS HOW Stop Despairing! Don't Give Up Hope of Saving Your Teeth

A simple home treatment which we are placing before the public will bring you the relief and comfort you desire. Stop spending money with dentists who do not help you. Don't waste your money on drug store remedies that are invariably, as you know, disappointing.

Write to us today and learn more about this painless, speedy, inexpensive remedy that you can use at home, so there will be no further need for you to undergo the long, painful or expensive dental treatment. Bridges, Crowns and False Teeth are unsightly and rarely satisfactory, and through this treatment of the causes of bad and sensitive teeth, gum disease and foul breath they should be unnecessary. If you are suffering with Pyorrhea or Riggs Disease, gingivitis, receding gums, elongated or loose teeth, soft, discolored or puffy gums, if your breath is foul, if your teeth pain while eating, if you are subject to bad tastes—then, for your own sake, send for Dr. Willard's book and learn how easy his method is—how painless and speedy—how this simple remedy quickly and permanently gives sound, healthy teeth.

Just sit down now and write us for this free book. A few minutes will convince you that Dr. Willard's common-sense, simple Home Remedy is what you are looking for! Don't wait. There is no pain connected with it. We have received scores of letters from people saying they would have given hundreds of dollars had they known of Dr. Willard's Home Treatment in time. Address: Dr. F. W. Willard, A. 178, Powers Block, Chicago.

BRING A RECORD PRICE.

Range Cattle Off the Grass Sell for $57.50 Head at Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Range cattle "off the grass," that is, cattle that never have eaten grain, were sold for $167.20 a head at the Union stock yards yesterday, a record price for the Chicago market.

"It is easy to understand why beef is high when cattle bring such prices as this," said Melville F. Horn, statistician of the Union stock yards. "One dealer from Montana sold eighteen choice grass fed steers averaging 1,672 pounds each for $10 a hundred, or $167.25 a head. His entire consignment of 736 head of cattle brought $81,000, or an average of $110 a head, and not one of them had ever tasted grain."

THE AUTO AS AN IMPLEMENT OF WAR

French Keeping Remarkably Calm Awaiting War's Outcome.

Paris, Oct. 28.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—If there were no newspapers telling of the great battles being waged about fifty miles north of Paris, and if there were a little more life to be seen on the boulevards, no one would realize that the nation was at war. There is no excitement, and little anxiety is discernible in the faces one sees on the streets. Those who have always thought of the French people as excitable, would be surprised to see how calmly and resignedly they await the fate of the nation. Without the habitual roar of traffic, Paris has assumed the aspect of a prolonged Sunday.

Place the enactment of the ordinance prohibiting the crying of newspapers, one sees the news vendors silently holding forth their wares. All have small headlines; large ones have been outlawed.

It is only the government automobiles, with their horns and unmuffled exhausts, filled usually with officers and soldiers, which one has to avoid while crossing the streets, as all civilian vehicles go at limited speed, a new and pleasing arrangement for Paris.

It is impossible to go far outside the gates of the metropolis without meeting companies of soldiers. Sentries are stationed at every crossroad, little bridge, railroad switch and station. To relieve the monotony of duty they take pleasure in challenging the casual passer-by. If he has his identification papers all in order, they plead for news, tobacco and a moment's conversation.

"Singing soldiers" is what the French infantrymen have become. Along the dusty country road may be seen small detachments, marching about without any notion of where they are going, or what small part in the big drama they are playing. Some cheerful spirits always start the regiment marching song to make the long, steep hill seem less steep and the tireless march less disagreeable.

"One hundred and fifty thousand Germans buried under the rocks of the Alsace quarries" and "thirty thousand," "forty thousand" and from there up to "a hundred and thirty thousand prisoners," such are the stories circulating in Paris from day to day, added to many others equally startling during the days that preceded, and which will no doubt be followed by others even more sensational, as long as the censor keeps the public hungering for authentic news.

One effect of so many false rumors is to make the truth sometimes suspected. On the other hand they throw so much uncertainty about news in general as to make serious newspaper men occasionally doubt as to the handling of some reports that in normal times would be dismissed summarily.

Recently an authenticated report, through a reliable agency, came from Antwerp concerning the death of Prince Adalbert from a German bullet wound. Though the name of a prominent Brussels surgeon was given in connection with the names of two German surgeons who aided him in forming an autopsy on the Prussian prince, Paris papers hesitated to handle it; as to the American correspondents, they are still uncertain whether the story got past the censor.

Harley Beard Must Die in Electric Chair at Columbus.

Columbus, O., Oct. 28.—Harley Beard, 39 years old, murderer of three members of the Massey family, will die in the electric chair here December 4 for his crime committed last spring on a farm near fronton, O. The state board of pardons today refused to recommend clemency and it was said Gov. Cox would not interfere with execution of the death sentence.

Young Board was a hired hand on the Massey farm. He fled after the crime and was captured at the home of his sister in Chicago.

An Exhibition of New Style

Packard and Bond Pianos and Player-Pianos

Advance styles for 1915 are now on display in our Annual Fall Piano Show. Our exhibition this year is worthy of a visit of inspection by every one—piano owners as well as piano buyers. Every Fort Wayne citizen will appreciate this exhibition as showing the variety and excellence of the product of one of the oldest and most famous of its industries.

The display contains the latest Grands, Player-Pianos and Uprights and will show you why Packard Pianos are famous in the musical circles throughout the entire country—why we are proud of them, why the men who make them are proud of them, and why people who own Packards are proud of them.

Come and see and listen. You will be courteously received and we will take your calls as an indication that you are personally interested in our welfare and success.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

GAME OF CHECKERS IN COURT.

Columbia City Black-Draught Champ Provokes a Citizen.

Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 28.—One of the latest cases in justice court, and one of the queerest that has occurred in a long time, is a case of provocation proffered by Hamilton F. Keeney, of West Jackson street, well known lumber buyer, against Jerry Egoft, old soldier of North Main street, both of them astute checker players, and they were in the John Feist and Jim Colburn barber shop when war broke out. Egoft has worn the belt for many months as a lucky player, but his luck failed him Monday afternoon when he buckled up against Isaac M. Swigart, and the latter set a trap for the aged champion. He fell in it like it was intended, and the game of laughter that went up, put the old war horse ablaze with indignation. Keeney, who was not in the game, got the brunt of the wrath, and asserts that he was called anything from a shiner, almost up to a descendant of a certain breed of quadrupeds. In fact he declared that his pedigree and biography were described in language as lurid as the European war, and that he never batted an eye.

CLUBBED NEW HUSBAND AWAY.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Ross Welder, of Moulton, has filed in the circuit court here a suit for divorce from her husband, William E. Welder, to whom she was married April 24, this year, and with whom she never has lived. Within twenty-four hours after their marriage, according to a story told by Welder, he went to their home and his new wife attacked him with a poker and drove him away and he never tried to go back. In her complaint Mrs. Welder says her husband was afflicted with a loathsome and terrible disease, of which fact she was ignorant until after their marriage, when she refused to allow him to come to the home of her mother when they were staying in Moulton. Little more than a year ago Mrs. Welder was attacked by a man named Walton, who hit her over the head with an ax and then killed himself with a rifle.

BORN THERE 78 YEARS AGO.

Goshen, Ind., Oct. 28.—Eli Cripe, born in Elkhart county seventy-eight years ago and believed to be at the time of his death the oldest native of this county, was buried here today. He was stricken with apoplexy while working in his garden last July and had been bedfast ever since. His wife is ill and her husband's death caused her life to be despaired of. Mr. Cripe was born November 18, 1835, on a farm south of Goshen which included the tract of land now the site of Goshen college. Later he owned what is now the Calvin Huber farm west of Goshen and about four years ago moved to the farm in Elkhart township in which he died. Besides his wife four daughters and three sons survive him.

NEW PRIEST FOR BLUFFTON.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 28.—Members of the congregation of the St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church have been notified of a change in the pastors of the Bluffton congregation. Father Welsh, of Montpelier, who has been in charge of the Bluffton church, has been transferred to Arcadia and Father John Badermann, of Sheldon, who formerly had charge of the Bluffton congregation, in addition to his Sheldon charge, has resumed the pastorate of the Bluffton church for the time being. The Montpelier church will be under the charge of Father Kotler, of Hartford City.

NO TRACE OF ESCAPED LUNATIC.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 28.—Relatives of Chauncey Fluke, the insane man who escaped from the Easthaven asylum, at Richmond, last Friday night, are much worried over his continued absence. Sheriff Johnston today telephoned to Richmond and learned that the authorities at the asylum have heard nothing from Fluke and have had no trace of him since the night of his escape, and relatives have heard nothing from him. As one of his manias was self-destruction he may have drowned himself or otherwise destroyed his life.

INCENDIARIES FIRE SCHOOL.

Van Wert, Ohio, Oct. 28.—Incendiaries whose identity is not known, tried to destroy the East Ridge school house, a short distance east of this city, by setting it on fire. People in the vicinity noticed a bright light in the building and found upon investigation that it was ablaze. When discovered the fire had completely enveloped the teacher's desk and was rapidly spreading to other parts of the room. A lighted lamp had been placed on the floor in the rear of the school room, presumably for the purpose of causing an explosion when the flames had reached it. The reason for the incendiarism is not known.

ALMOST DEAD FROM GAS.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 28.—John Sayk, the proprietor of the Rex theater, was overcome by gas from a hard coal stove this morning and for a time was in a very serious condition. Mr. Sayk had awakened from sleep feeling badly and was soon almost lifeless and suffering great pain. A physician was at once called and found him suffering from symptoms of asphyxiation.

LILACS BLOOM AS SNOW FALLS.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 28.—Lilacs in bloom with snow fall was a contrast to be seen in Kendallville Monday. The lilac was in the yard of the W. C. Lane home. It bloomed in the spring, but evidently got tired of waiting another whole year, and a few days ago budded out again. Monday it was covered with blossoms and at the same time Kendallville was getting its first snow of the season.

BED HEATER STARTS BLAZE.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 28.—The residence of Leopold Deviller, 1412 South Monroe street, was damaged by a fire which originated when Mr. Deviller placed a heater in bed for warmth. He had not yet retired when the hot iron ignited the bedclothes and before the blaze was discovered it had gained such headway as to do considerable damage to the bedroom.

GIGANTIC FLAKES OF SNOW.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 28.—Snow of the past seventy-five winters did not compare in size of flakes with the first fall of the winter, according to Uncle George Dutro. "Never in all my life," said Mr. Dutro today, "have I seen flakes of snow as large as those that fell yesterday. Some of them were as big and bigger than a half dollar. The seventy-five winters that I can remember have never produced flakes of the beautiful white near so large."

HUNTINGTON LAD MISSING.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 28.—Howard Randall, aged fifteen, son of Mrs. Lena B. Randall, of this city, has fulfilled an oft-repeated threat by running away from home and the police are trying to get trace of him. He told his mother yesterday he was going to run away, but she got his promise to go to school. At noon he returned, packed up some clothing and left and no trace of him has been gained.

LIEUTENANT WINS A COVETED HONOR

First of Rank in German Army to Receive It Since 1866.

The Hague, Oct. 28.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Not since 1866 has the decoration known as "Pour le Merite" been given a lieutenant in the German army. For this reason the bestowal of this order upon Lieutenant Otto van der Line, serving in the Fifth guard regiment, is of interest. He was awarded this very high and coveted distinction because on August 24, with four men he took Fort Malonne at Namur before it had been subjected to artillery fire. How Lieutenant van der Line accomplished this has been described by him in a letter to his parents: "I was ordered to advance against the fort with 500 men, our course lying across an open field without cover," he said. "Everywhere loopholes stared at us, and I expected that if we were not annihilated from them, the many ruins about the fort would take care of us. Many officers had volunteered for the task of attacking the fort, but I was picked out to do it."

"Arrived near the fort I took four of my men and approached in goose march, picking our way carefully through the field of mines. The drawbridge was up, and the broad moat filled with water made it impossible for us to get into the fort."

"We soon saw the commandant, and I shouted to him that I had a whole regiment of artillery in a nearby forest and that the bombardment would commence within a minute in case he did not surrender. After that the commandant ordered the drawbridge down and we entered."

"I then ordered the garrison of the fort before me. Every man was searched and disarmed. All arms had to be left in the fort, I ordered. All this was done with my four men ready to shoot. We took five officers and twenty men prisoners, while another 400 had already taken to their heels, as I learned afterwards."

"This done I ordered my detachment to come to the fort. You should have seen the faces of the officers and men when they saw my force. Then the Belgian flag was hauled down, and one of my men made a German flag from a Belgian pair of black pants, a white shirt, and a red French sash. This was hoisted. Meanwhile we had inspected the wine cellar and so were able to celebrate our victory with a few bottles of champagne. The cork popped wonderfully."

"The fort had not been bombarded and I held it until I was relieved for other work. We took four heavy 21-centimeter guns, a large number of small caliber pieces, about 100 rifles and revolvers, 500 hand grenades and several thousand rounds of rifle ammunition."

HAIR STOPS FALLING, DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS--25 CENT DANDERINE

Save your hair! Make it soft, fluffy, lustrous and beautiful.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first--yes--but really new hair growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scrappy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing--your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any--that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment--that's all--Adv.

HIS SHIP WAS IN PERIL OF MINES

August Bruder Talks of the Homeward Trip from Germany.

August Bruder, the well-known jeweler, arrived in Fort Wayne Wednesday morning at 10:10 o'clock over the Pennsylvania railroad from New York, where he landed two days ago. Scores of friends have been pouring into his store since his return to welcome him home. Mr. Bruder sailed on May 13 for Germany, where he intended to spend his vacation at Wadkirk, Baden, his birthplace. Ever since the beginning of hostilities in Europe he had tried to get passage for the United States but did not meet with success until October 15, when he set sail from Rotterdam, Holland, on the steamer Rotterdam. The vessel reached New York on October 20 and Mr. Bruder came directly to Fort Wayne.

Mr. Bruder says that the passengers of the "Rotterdam" were in fear that their ship would strike a mine while passing through the English channel, which he declares is full of them, but fortunately they passed out into the open sea without any mishap, save being held up by British cruisers, which have complete control of the channel. After striking the open ocean the voyage was uneventful until the landing at New York. The local jeweler declares that he and his fellow passengers were overjoyed when the Statue of Liberty came up in the distance.

Mr. Bruder says that Germany is at war with patriotism and that all the young men are wild to go to the front. He declares that the Germans will conquer or die in the attempt. Germany, according to his statement, has a food supply that will last for two years or more.

In 1913 Sicily gathered 755,700 tons of grapes.

Cadessia Grotto Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets to Be Started.

Dr. C. L. Baird, monarch of Cadessia grotto, Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted realm, a fraternal-social organization composed of master Masons, recently established here, was notified by wire Wednesday that the local grotto would be instituted Saturday night by Grand Venerable Prophet Herold M. Harter, of Toledo, who will come here for that purpose.

The ceremony of institution will be held in the lodge rooms of Harmony lodge, I. O. O. F., in the Harmony block, West Berry street. It is expected that from sixty to seventy charter members will take the obligation of propiety at the institution of Cadessia grotto. Applications for membership are being received every day.

An informal luncheon will follow the institution of Cadessia grotto. Several members of the Fort Wayne grotto will visit Toledo Friday, November 13, to witness a grand ceremonial at the initiation of a class of about four hundred into O-Ton-Ta-La grotto of that city. Cadessia grotto is planning another social event for the near future.

HOLDS HUNTRESS RECORD.

Miss Elsie Booth, eighteen, is California's youngest Diana, having recently bagged two deer, a ninety-pound spike and a two-pound forked-horn, each killed with a single shot at eighty and 150 yards, respectively, on the range of the Sportsmen's club on the coast above San Francisco. She has frequently visited the club's preserve, and usually bags some game every season. Although prominent socially, Miss Booth prefers the open and a rifle to the drawing room.

HUSBAND DID NOT WASTE ANY TIME

Wife Says He Threatened to Kill Her Day After the Wedding.

According to a divorce complaint filed in the superior court by Dorothy B. Sanders against Charles Sanders, friend husband did not lose any time asserting his lordship and mastery. Mrs. Sanders says that the day following the holy ceremony that made them one Mr. Sanders threatened to kill her, applied to her villa epithets so foul that she refused to defile her complaint with repetition of them and subjected her to foul and false accusations. This course of treatment she says has been continued nearly all the time since Charles opened the proceedings immediately following the nuptial night, abusing and mistreating her, being all her married life forced to listen to vile accusations continually hurled at her. Frequently, she says, he has assaulted and beaten her, performing in that violent fashion the 24th of this month. The husband is charged with spending most of his earnings for drink. Because her husband threatened if she began suit for divorce to kill her and fearing he will keep his word, the plaintiff secured an order of court restraining him from molesting her.

Notes of the Courts.
The superior court has granted a divorce to Clara Lopez from Samuel Lopez and restore her maiden name of Kelly. Richard M. Kaugh, as the Fort Wayne Vulcanizing works, has brought suit in the circuit court against George Kountz and Louis Ohnhaus to foreclose a mechanic's lien, demanding $100.

The suit of Peter Cusum vs. the Bass Foundry & Machine works for $8,000 damages has been dismissed from the circuit court.

In the superior court title to real estate has been quieted in the plaintiff in the case of John D. Lamb vs. John Braudages.

The case of Joseph Majors vs. Charles Putnam has been dismissed from the circuit court.

Sues for $2,500 Damages.
Louis F. Ormiston has begun action in the circuit court against Joseph F. Zurbach, proprietor of a coal yard, for $2,500 damages, alleging that on February 7, 1914, while in the employ of the defendant he was given to drive in the delivery of a load of coal a vicious horse and that the horse had no "jaw-breaker" attachment such as is necessary in restraining a runaway animal. At the corner of Taylor and Oakley streets the horse while running away turned so sharply as to throw him out causing him to receive some broken ribs, a fractured arm and other injuries.

Young Thieves Sentenced.
Thomas Brunner, 23, and Martin Schram, 18, pleaded guilty in the circuit court to stealing a bicycle belonging to Wilford Lucas and were sentenced to pay $1 fine and costs each, to which was added sixty days in jail for Brunner and ninety days for Schram. These two, with one other lad, had stolen half a dozen or more bicycles.

NEW HAVEN ROAD COMPLETED.
Brooks Company Has Finished Concrete Work on Lincoln Highway.

The Brooks Construction company has practically completed the concrete work on the New Haven road running from the Fort Wayne city limits to the city limits of New Haven. Considerable work remains to be done in constructing the bermes, but the roadbed is complete. The road from the end of Mamme avenue to the Four Mile house has been completed for some time and has been in commission several days. The part just completed will be kept closed for

TRIES HAND AT KEY ONCE MORE

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 28.—It developed today that Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, who has been visiting scenes of his boyhood in this section of the state for the last week, cast off the mantle of his years yesterday and on a trip to Port Huron, once more tried his hand at the operator's key and even went so far as to take the wires from a news butcher and sell them among his friends. As a boy Mr. Edison sold papers and worked as an operator for the same railroad over which he traveled to Port Huron yesterday.

As the inventor passed through Mt. Clemens he stepped into the telegraph office and tapped off a message to his children in New Jersey. The message was interrupted, however. The Mt. Clemens operator turned to Mr. Edison with a smile, and said: "An operator on the line is complaining. He says there is a boy on the wire who is practicing, running things up." It was not reported what the complaining operator said when he was told that Thomas A. Edison had caused the trouble.

MUST KEEP STREET OPEN.

The board of works today advised the Indiana Engineering & Construction company and the Moslering Construction company, which two concerns have the contracts for constructing the new bridge and rejoining the grade of the thoroughfare at the Main street subway of the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad, that on no account must they permit operations in class Main street to traffic. The board insists that the thoroughfare to Lindenwood cemetery must be kept open.

Here Is Good News For Old Rheumatic Sufferers A Remedy That Ft. Wayne Citizens Recommend

A remedy that has been tested and recommended in your own city. Hundreds of cases have been cured and you won't doubt it because we always give their name and address. Mr. Ernest Kayser is the next citizen to testify for Miller's True Herb Remedy. He says: "I had rheumatism, lumbago and kidney trouble. It was difficult for me to walk or even turn myself in bed. I used a half bottle of Miller's True Herb Remedy and my pain was all gone. This remedy was recommended to me to be good, but I did not expect so much relief from only one small bottle. I have been employed at the Electric works on Broadway for many years and my address is 810 Wilt street, Fort Wayne, Ind., and I would heartily recommend this good medicine to anyone afflicted with rheumatism, lumbago or kidney trouble."

Canned Partners for This Wedding Anniversary

Chicago, Oct. 28.—When Isabel Irving gave a dinner party recently to celebrate the fifteenth anniversary of her wedding, most of the "merry party" heard at the dinner table was from her husband, W. H. Thompson. He was in New York and she was in Chicago. The same evening Thompson was listening to some of his wife's best stories at an anniversary dinner given in New York.
This is the way they arranged it. Some time ago the actor spoke his best stories into a phonograph and sent them to Chicago. Miss Irving "canned" a few stories and sent them to New York. Each had a phonograph for a partner at their anniversary dinners.

LIVE SNAKES IN CHURCH SERVICE

Tennessee "Holy Rollers"
Pass Serpents from
Hand to Hand.

Cleveland, Tenn., Oct. 28. Venomous snakes are playing a sensational part in the church ritual of the "Holy Rollers" of this vicinity. The true believers, attending the "Church of God," in South Cleveland, are passing rattlers and copperheads about from hand to hand, amid fervid tempestuous praying, and though many are bitten, none suffer death or pain. So they assert at least.
"Why do you use snakes in meeting?" a reporter asked Tom McLain, one of the founders of the church.
McLain quoted Mark xvi: 18: "And these signs shall follow them that believe; in My name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues;
"They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover."
"Sinners began throwing snakes into the middle of church meeting and quoting that verse, to scoff at us," McLain

A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE

If you meet a snake and haven't a gun, or if the fire-arm is antiquated and uncertain; or if the gun is all right and you have no ammunition or poor cartridges, you will be in a bad fix.

Less dangerous but equally provoking is your predicament when you see good game under the same circumstances.

ALL BUT TWO ARE OUT CAMPAIGNING

Washington, Oct. 28.—With the exception of Secretary McAdoo and Attorney General Gregory all of the members of President Wilson's cabinet are today in various parts of the country making speeches in the closing week of the campaign.

In addition several assistant secretaries are on the stump filling speaking engagements. The secretary of the treasury and the attorney general have found the work of their departments too pressing to take part in the campaign.

Bosh!

THE TIME IS HERE WHEN US MEN OF BRAINS MUST GET —

LISTEN, TO ME FOR A MINUTE, MR McCRAE —

IN YOUR VIEWS OF THE PRESENT SITUATION, YOU REMIND ME OF — TWINS I USED TO KNOW ONCE!

HOW DO RESEMBLE THEM?

ONE WAS A DURN FOOL AND THE OTHER HE DIED!

WOT?

GOSH!! BUT OLD MAC CAN RUN!!

JES YOU WAIT
